17. The Office does not accept this recommendation. While it fully recognizes the importance of the International Narcotics Control Board and the need to operate in complete coordination with its mandates, the Office maintains that the current reporting lines, whereby the Secretary of the Board reports to the Division for Treaty Affairs and, starting in the 2012-2013 biennium, to the Division for Policy Analysis and Public Affairs, is effective and does not in any way undermine the importance and effectiveness of the Board. The current reporting line allows the Executive Director to address strategy-level matters of the secretariat of the board while leaving the operational and tactical aspects to be resolved by the head of the Division concerned.
