Strategy

1. Responsibility for the implementation of the subprogramme rests with the Office of the Executive Secretary and the Secretary of the Commission, in close coordination with the rest of the Commission's substantive divisions and its subregional and national offices, given its multidisciplinary approach.
2. The strategy applied under the subprogramme will focus on providing technical and logistical support to the Latin American and Caribbean integration and cooperation organizations, mechanisms and coordination schemes, both in support of their own agendas, in their convergence efforts and initiatives and in the external interactions with third parties.
3. The main characteristic of this subprogramme is the dynamic demand of the actors to whom services are provided in the fields of data, statistics, indicators and analytical and normative work through conference and position papers, development of methodologies for various purposes and logistical support upon request. In comparison to subprogramme 1, which focuses on trade policies and negotiations of agreements within the framework of the issues under the purview of the World Trade Organization (WTO), this subprogramme focuses on strengthening the political action of subregional and regional integration mechanisms and platforms both in their internal as well as external agendas.
4. The subprogramme is oriented towards strengthening Latin American and Caribbean regional and subregional groups and schemes by providing technical support, updated, timely and relevant cutting-edge information, statistics and indicators, analytical work and logistical support to meetings and summits. Through the analysis and preparation of recommendations, it will help these organizations to build consensus to face new challenges in regional integration and cooperation in areas related to the social, economic and sustainable development of the region and in further enhancing their political dialogue with third parties. Assistance will also be provided to strengthen the following-up of agreements and their respective implementation mechanisms. Furthermore, the subprogramme will provide advisory and technical cooperation services to support these regional and subregional mechanisms to improve regional integration and cooperation through South-South and triangular cooperation modalities.
5. The subprogramme will work closely with the Community of Latin American and Caribbean States (CELAC), the Union of South American Nations (UNASUR), the Andean Community (CAN), the Caribbean Community (CARICOM), the Latin American Integration Association (ALADI), the Southern Common Market (MERCOSUR), the Bolivarian Alliance for the Peoples of Our America (ALBA) and the Central American Integration System (SICA). Collaboration with other bilateral and multilateral cooperation partners will also be enhanced to provide additional resources to the subprogramme to strengthen the implementation of its programme of work and maximize its impact in beneficiary countries.

6. Collaboration with CELAC was specifically requested in the 2012 Caracas Action Plan (see A/66/647), whereby Heads of State and Government of Latin America and the Caribbean requested ECLAC cooperation in activities envisaged to address the international financial crisis and the new financial architecture. They also requested ECLAC to provide support in the field of complementarity and cooperation between regional and subregional integration mechanisms by facilitating the discussion and the exchange of experiences on regional economic policies.

7. The main beneficiaries of this subprogramme will be the Governments of the region, officials involved with integration processes in the economic, social, and political spheres and other stakeholders of business and the civil society sectors concerned with all relevant aspects of integration and the associated political dialogue.

8. The outputs of the subprogramme include the publication of several documents and technical material; organization of and participation in meetings and summits; and the provision of technical cooperation services to relevant stakeholders in cooperation with other programmes, agencies and funds of the United Nations and other international organizations.

9. Lastly, the subprogramme will seek to ensure visibility of its work and major achievements through a dynamic programme of outreach, including active engagement with the member States, wide dissemination of publications and findings at international events and relevant conferences and participation in key forums involving relevant policymakers, academia and other stakeholders both within and outside the region.
