Chapter I

Financial report on the United Nations peacekeeping operations for the period from 1 July 2006 to 30 June 2007

A. Introduction

1. The Secretary-General has the honour to submit his financial report on the accounts of the United Nations peacekeeping operations for the period from 1 July 2006 to 30 June 2007. The present report highlights the financial results for the period ended 30 June 2007.

B. Financial overview

2. Table I.1 provides a financial overview of peacekeeping operations.

Table I.1 Financial highlights

	2006	2007	•
	(Millions of United States dollars)		Increase (decrease) (Percentage)
Total assessments	4 919.7	5 347.9	8.7
Unpaid assessments ^a
Active missions	678.7	697.3	2.7
Closed missions	578.6	550.3	(4.9)
Total expenditures	4 582.8	5 148.1	12.3
Liquidity: available cash less liabilities ^a
Active missions	100.0	(172.1)	N/A
Closed missions	102.5	(11.0)	N/A

^a 2006 is restated to reclassify UNAMSIL and UNMISET as closed missions.

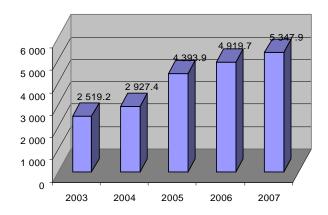

3. Fiscal year 2006/07 assessments rose by 8.7 per cent, whereas expenditures rose by 12.3 per cent. As a result of these and other changes in receivable and payable balances, overall liquidity in the active missions declined by $272.1 million, particularly in MONUC, UNIFIL, MINUSTAH and UNMIK. Overall liquidity in the closed missions declined by $113.5 million mainly due to credits returned in UNAMSIL.

C. Assessments

4. Total assessments rose by 8.7 per cent, from $4,919.7 million in the previous fiscal year to $5,347.9 million. The increase was largely attributable to the expansion of UNIFIL and the start-up of UNMIT, as well as build-ups in UNMIS and UNOCI. These increases were partially offset by decreases in assessments for ONUB, UNMEE, MINUSTAH and UNMIK as a result of scaled-down operations.

5. Figure I.1 illustrates the trend in the assessments for peacekeeping operations for the fiscal year 2006/07 and the four preceding fiscal years.

D. Status of unpaid assessments

- 6. The unpaid assessments pertaining to active peacekeeping missions increased by 2.7 per cent, from $678.7 million at the end of the fiscal year 2005/06 to $697.3 million at the end of the current fiscal year. Unpaid assessments pertaining to closed missions decreased by 4.9 per cent, from $578.6 to $550.3, for the same period. The overall level of unpaid assessments remained virtually unchanged.
- 7. Figure I.2 illustrates the trend in the unpaid assessments for peacekeeping operations for 2006/07 and the four preceding fiscal years.

E. Expenditures

- 9. Expenditures for the current fiscal year rose by 12.3 per cent, from $4,582.8 million in the previous fiscal year to $5,148.1 million. The net increase was mainly due to the expansion of UNIFIL and the start-up of UNMIT and the full-year impact of UNMIS, offset by the scaled-down of operations in ONUB, UNMEE and UNMIK.
- 10. Figure I.3 illustrates the trend in total expenditures for all peacekeeping operations for 2006/07 and the four preceding fiscal years.

During the current period, UNPF provided loans amounting to $85.5 million to MINURSO ($10 million), UNMIK ($69 million), UNOMIG ($3 million) and UNFICYP ($3.5 million). Total loans outstanding as at 30 June 2007 amounted to $18.1 million. Details of these loans and repayments are shown in table I.6.

G. Peacekeeping Reserve Fund

16. During 2006/07, loans totalling $40 million were made to provide start-up funds for UNMIT during the period from October 2006 to February 2007. These loans were repaid in March 2007. In addition, start-up loans totalling $3 million were made to MINUTAC in May and June 2007, and remained outstanding as at 30 June 2007.

17. As at 30 June 2007, the Fund had reserves and fund balance of $162.0 million. Under the terms of General Assembly resolution 61/279, the excess over the authorized level of $150 million will be applied to the net requirements of support account for peacekeeping operations for the fiscal year 2007/08. This will be further considered by the General Assembly at its sixty-second session.

H. Support account for peacekeeping operations

18. Total expenditures rose by $41.7 million, from the $136.0 million reported in 2005/06 to $177.7 million in the current period. The increase was mainly due to higher expenditures for operational requirements, reflecting the overall growth in peacekeeping operations.

I. United Nations Logistics Base at Brindisi, Italy

19. The United Nations Logistics Base manages, inter alia, surplus assets from closed or downsized missions. It also maintains mission start-up kits and strategic deployment stocks. Strategic deployment stocks with an estimated replacement value of $66.3 million were shipped to various peacekeeping and political missions and other entities during 2006/07, thereby generating funds for replenishment. Expenditures for replenishment amounted to $37.2 million.

J. Liabilities for end-of-service and post-retirement benefits

- 20. Previously, the after-service health insurance liabilities for peacekeeping operations were included with those of the United Nations and shown in the financial statements for the United Nations (vol. I), and the liabilities pertaining to unused vacation days and repatriation benefits were disclosed in the notes to the financial statements for peacekeeping operations. Effective 30 June 2007, all these three types of liabilities are recognized in the financial statements for peacekeeping operations. The presentation of these statements has been changed in order to recognize such liabilities, in pursuance of General Assembly resolutions 60/255 and 61/264.
- 21. The overall United Nations liabilities for after-service health insurance as at 31 December 2005 were determined through an actuarial valuation. Of the total accrued liability of $2,072.8 million, an amount of $330 million was apportioned to peacekeeping operations. This amount was rolled forward to 30 June 2007, and after-service health insurance liabilities as of the date pertaining to peacekeeping operations were estimated to be $389 million.
- 22. The accrued liabilities for unused vacation days and repatriation benefits were estimated to be $47.6 million and $23.3 million, respectively, and the amount attributable to each peacekeeping mission is recorded in its financial statement for the current period.

Supplementary information

1. The present annex provides supplementary information that the Secretary-General is required to report.

Write-off of losses of cash and receivables

2. In accordance with financial rule 106.8, losses of cash and receivables amounting to $57,934 were written off during the period ended 30 June 2007. A summary statement of losses was provided to the Board of Auditors in compliance with financial rule 106.8.

Write-off of losses of property

3. In accordance with financial rule 106.9, property with an original cost of $3,521,864 was written off during the period ended 30 June 2007. The breakdown was as follows (in United States dollars):

	Original cost
Damages/accidents	1 283 190
Losses/thefts	538 713
Faulty equipment	1 152 337
Inventory discrepancies and other	547 624
Total	3 521 864

- 4. The write-offs bring the recorded balances of properties to the same levels as those shown in the property records for the actual quantities on hand.
- 5. The original cost of all non-expendable property on hand as at 30 June 2007 was $1,386,162,000, as also reported in note 13 to the financial statements. A summary statement showing the values of non-expendable equipment as well as property write-offs was provided to the Board of Auditors in accordance with financial rule 106.9.

Chapter II

Report of the Board of Auditors

Summary

The Board of Auditors has audited the United Nations peacekeeping accounts and operations for the financial period ended 30 June 2007. The audit was carried through field visits to 14 active missions and the United Nations Logistics Base at Brindisi, Italy, and a review of peacekeeping financial transactions and operations at Headquarters, including the Peacekeeping Reserve Fund, the support account and 24 completed missions.

In the process, the Board addressed special requests made by the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions and the General Assembly.

The Board issued a modified audit opinion with two emphases of matter on the financial statements for the period under review, as reflected in chapter III. The first relates to the cancellation of unliquidated obligations totalling $202.28 million. The Board expresses its concern about the high incidence of cancellation of prior-period obligations which might be indicative of an apparent overstatement of expenditure in previous years.

The second emphasis of matter relates to the amount of $1.38 billion, representing the original cost of non-expendable property. Significant discrepancies were noted when the results of physical counts were compared with the balances shown in the asset records, indicating deficiencies in the system of asset management at the various missions. Similar deficiencies were observed in relation to unused expendable property.

Implementation of previous recommendations

As requested by the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions in its report on the administrative and budgetary aspects of the financing of United Nations peacekeeping operations (A/59/736, para. 8), the Board evaluated the ageing of its previous recommendations that had not yet been fully implemented and has indicated the financial periods in which such recommendations were first made

Coordination among oversight bodies

The Board continually coordinates with the Office of Internal Oversight Services the planning of its audits in order to avoid duplication of effort. In addition, the Board reviewed the audit coverage by the Office of peacekeeping operations in order to assess the extent to which reliance could be placed on its work.

Financial overview for the year ended 30 June 2007

For the period under review, total income was $5.53 billion, compared with $5.15 billion for the previous year, an increase of 7.38 per cent. Total expenditure amounted to $5.15 billion, compared with $4.58 billion for the previous year, an increase of 12.45 per cent. This resulted in an excess of income over expenditure of $380 million, compared with an excess of $570 million in the preceding year.

Overall findings

The key findings arising from the Board's audit are set out below.

Income and expenditure

(a) Of the amount of $5.15 billion shown as expenditures for the period under review, $973.5 million, or 18.9 per cent, represented unliquidated obligations. However, several instances were noted where the criteria for creating obligations, as stated in rule 105.9 of the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations, were not strictly observed.

Assessed contributions receivable

- (b) Assessed contributions outstanding as at 30 June 2007 amounted to $1.26 billion, compared with $1.27 billion as at 30 June 2006, a slight decrease. Closed missions accounted for $550.29 million, or 43.63 per cent of the outstanding amount, significant portions of which were long outstanding.
- (c) The Administration continued with its previously stated policy of not making a provision for delays in the collection of outstanding assessed contributions. The Board maintains its view that such a provision would ensure that the amount shown as accounts receivable would be more realistically stated. Accordingly, it urges the Administration to keep this matter under review.

Cancellation of unliquidated obligations

(d) An amount of $202.28 million was reflected as savings on cancellation of prior-period obligations, compared with an amount of $304.17 million for the previous financial period, representing a 33.5 per cent decrease. Although unliquidated obligations can be carried forward up to a maximum of five years, the Board expresses its concern about the high incidence of cancellations of prior-period obligations, which may be indicative of an apparent overstatement of expenditure in previous years.

After-service health insurance

(e) In accordance with General Assembly resolutions 60/255 and 61/264, the Administration provided in the financial statements the sum of $389 million as a liability for after-service health insurance. Previously, such a liability was disclosed in the notes to the financial statements of the United Nations (vol. I). The Board welcomes this improvement but notes that the figure was not based on an up-to-date actuarial valuation. Instead, it was arrived at through a combination of actuarial valuation as at 31 December 2005 and a projection by management to 30 June 2007.

Financial position of closed missions

(f) The financial position of completed missions remains a matter of concern for the Board. Total cash balances relating to these missions amounted to $536.63 million, while total liabilities amounted to $503.95 million. However, there were outstanding assessments totalling $550.29 million. Should these assessments remain uncollected, eight missions would have an accumulated cash deficit of $199 million.

Support account for peacekeeping operations

(g) The Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions requested the Board to conduct an analysis of the support account for peacekeeping operations, taking into account the Administration's report on the matter. At the time of the audit, however, the report of the Administration was not available. Nonetheless, the Board undertook its own evaluation and noted that a number of the criteria set out by the Secretary-General in relation to the creation of posts (see A/45/493) were neither highlighted nor emphasized in the instructions for the preparation of the proposed budget for the support account for the financial period 2008/09. In addition, several instances were noted in which the staff appraisals of personnel financed under the support account did not contain adequate information to enable the extent of their involvement in peacekeeping activities to be assessed.

Results-based budgeting operations

(h) Several missions were not in full compliance with the requirement of results-based budgeting, especially with regard to indicators of achievement and outputs, to ensure that: (i) the indicators are clear, measurable and include baselines and targets; and (ii) outputs are measurable.

Expendable property

- (i) Significant amounts of expendable property inventory were held at the United Nations Logistics Base (UNLB) and at the various missions. However, there was no disclosure in the financial statements of the value of such assets. The Board is of the view that disclosure in the financial statements would improve transparency, accountability and financial reporting.
- (j) Based on sample tests carried out at a number of missions visited, the Board noted that there were significant discrepancies when the results of physical counts were compared with the balances shown in the Galileo database.

Non-expendable property

(k) There was evidence of surplus assets being held at a number of missions, as indicated by the length of time they remained unused. For example, of the 117,318 new items in stock which were valued at $330.12 million, approximately one third had been in stock for 12 months or more. There were also significant discrepancies when the results of physical counts were compared with the balances shown in the Galileo database.

Write-offs and disposals

(I) The Board noted that the Local Property Survey Board and the Headquarters Property Survey Board had not always acted promptly in regard to cases brought to their attention for write-offs and disposals. For example, at MINURSO, 1,341 items recommended for write-off were still pending with the Local Property Survey Board. A similar observation was made in respect of UNIFIL, at which 613 items valued at $2.12 million were pending write-off and disposal. There was also evidence of significant delays in the disposal of assets written off.

Contingent-owned equipment

(m) There were delays in conducting quarterly inspections of contingentowned equipment at UNMIS. This is likely to impact adversely on reimbursements to troop-contributing countries.

Vehicle fleet management

(n) The CarLog system was not operating satisfactorily at UNMIL and UNMIK. In addition, the electronic fuel accounting system was not fully implemented at UNIFIL, while at UNFICYP and UNMIT, accountability for fuel needed to be enhanced.

Procurement and contract management

- (o) At UNOCI and MONUC, there were significant delays in issuing of purchase orders for the procurement of goods and services. These delays ranged from 91 to 360 days from the date of approval of the related requisitions.
- (p) Contracts for the supply of ground and aviation fuel at MINUSTAH had not yet been finalized. This resulted in the existing contracts being extended from May 2007 and July 2007, respectively, to December 2007.
- (q) When entering into contracts with suppliers, two missions did not strictly adhere to the requirements of the Procurement Manual in regard to performance bonds and liquidated damages.

Rations management

- (r) The Administration was to have introduced a rations management system in June 2006 in response to shortcomings identified by the Board in previous audits. However, as of October 2007, the system had not yet been implemented.
- (s) At UNMIL, MINUSTAH and UNDOF, there was need to improve storage of rations in order to minimize spoilage. At the time of the audit, 142,247 ration packs valued at $1.03 million had been spoiled.

Air operations

- (t) Of the 25 aviation safety surveys planned for the period under review, only 12 were conducted, owing to the inadequate staffing and travel budget of the Aviation Safety Section.
- (u) At MINUSTAH, meteorological information was not yet available at each airport, and firefighting equipment was inadequate.
- (v) Aircraft utilization at UNMIL, despite some improvements, remained a source of concern for the Board since the average utilization was 35-45 per cent. At MONUC, based on sample tests carried out, 31 per cent of the passengers were non-United Nations personnel and there was no satisfactory mechanism in place to recover either partially or totally the related cost to the mission.

Information and communication technology

(w) The functions dedicated to the development and enforcement of security standards and procedures in regard to information and communication technology had not been established, although UNLB had requested funding to do so in the 2007/08 budget. The failure to provide these services could jeopardize the operations of peacekeeping.

Human resources management

(x) Five of the missions visited did not have human resources plans, including succession planning, to enable them to determine staffing needs for the foreseeable future and to be able to address those needs. The vacancy rates were also high and posts remained vacant for unduly long periods.

Inter-agency coordination

(y) At MONUC, there was no memorandum of understanding between the Mission and other United Nations agencies for the use of common services and for the sharing of costs, which could have assisted in integrating the entities.

Integrated mission planning process

(z) The integrated mission planning process guidelines had not yet been finalized and at the time of the audit had been formulated only in general terms. As a result, the Board was unable to assess the effectiveness of the guidelines, as supported by the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions.

Quick-impact projects

(aa) At four missions visited, quick-impact projects were not completed within the agreed time frames. The monitoring of these projects, including physical verifications, and the related record keeping also needed to be strengthened.

Resident auditors

(bb) A significant number of planned audits by resident auditors attached to the Office of Internal Oversight Services were not undertaken or completed as planned. For 2006/07, of the 201 audits planned, only 86 were started and completed as at 31 December 2006, while 46 were ongoing. The vacancy rates for resident auditor posts were also considered high.

Recommendations

The Board has made several recommendations based on its audit observations. A summary of the main recommendations is set out in paragraph 16 of the present report.

A. Introduction

- 1. The Board of Auditors has audited the financial statements and reviewed the activities of the United Nations peacekeeping operations for the financial period from 1 July 2006 to 30 June 2007, in accordance with General Assembly resolutions 74 (I) of 7 December 1946, 47/211 of 23 December 1992 and 49/233 A of 23 December 1994. The audit was conducted in conformity with article VII of the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations and the annex thereto, as well as the International Standards on Auditing. Those Standards require that the Board plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance as to whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.
- 2. The audit was conducted primarily to enable the Board to form an opinion on whether the financial statements presented fairly the financial position of the United Nations peacekeeping operations as at 30 June 2007 and the results of operations and cash flows for the financial period then ended, in accordance with the United Nations system accounting standards. This included an assessment of whether the expenditures recorded in the financial statements had been incurred for the purposes approved by the governing bodies and whether income and expenditures had been properly classified and recorded in accordance with the Financial Regulations and Rules. The audit included a general review of financial systems and internal controls and a test examination of the accounting records and other supporting evidence to the extent that the Board considered necessary to form an opinion on the financial statements.
- 3. Pursuant to paragraph 6 of General Assembly resolution 47/211, the Board continued to maintain its expanded audit coverage at Headquarters, 14 active field missions, UNLB, the accounts of 24 completed missions, the Peacekeeping Reserve Fund and the support account for peacekeeping operations, as listed in annex I.
- 4. In addition to the audit of the accounts and financial transactions, the Board carried out reviews of peacekeeping operations under financial regulation 7.5. This requires the Board to make observations with respect to the efficiency of the financial procedures, the accounting system, the internal financial controls and, in general, the administration and management of the peacekeeping operations. The General Assembly had requested the Board to follow up on previous recommendations and to report to it accordingly. Those matters are addressed in paragraphs 11 to 15 below.
- 5. The present report addresses the specific request made by the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions (see A/60/807, paras. 8-14) to conduct an analysis of the management of post and non-post resources of the support account, notwithstanding the non-availability of the Administration's report on the matter. The Board is yet to conduct the assessment of the integrated mission planning process, as supported by the Advisory Committee (A/61/866, para. 21), since the guidelines thereon have not yet been implemented.
- 6. The Board did not review the recent restructuring of the peacekeeping operations since it was still in progress at the time of the audit. The Board proposes to conduct such a review at the conclusion of the restructuring exercise. Similarly, a review of the recent establishment of the African Union-United Nations Hybrid Operation in Darfur (UNAMID) subsequent to the closing of the accounts has not yet been undertaken.

- 7. The Board continued to report the results of audits to the Administration in the form of management letters containing detailed observations and recommendations. This practice has allowed for ongoing dialogue with the Administration. In this regard, 15 management letters were issued covering the financial period under review.
- 8. Where observations in the present report refer to specific missions, such observations are limited only to the locations or missions specified. They do not in any way imply that they are applicable to other missions, or that they may not also exist at other missions and locations.
- 9. The present report covers matters that, in the opinion of the Board, should be brought to the attention of the General Assembly. The Board's observations and conclusions were discussed with the Administration, whose views have been appropriately reflected in the report.
- 10. The Board's main recommendations are contained in paragraph 16 below. The detailed findings and recommendations are discussed in paragraphs 19 to 352.

1. Status of implementation of previous recommendations

11. In accordance with section A, paragraph 7, of General Assembly resolution 51/225, the Board reviewed the actions taken by the Administration to implement the recommendations made in its reports for the financial periods ended 30 June 2005 and 30 June 2006.

Period ended 30 June 2005

12. Of the 45 recommendations made for the fiscal year 2004/05, 28 were reiterated in the report for the period ended 30 June 2006. Of the remaining 17, 7 had been implemented and 10 partially implemented.

Period ended 30 June 2006

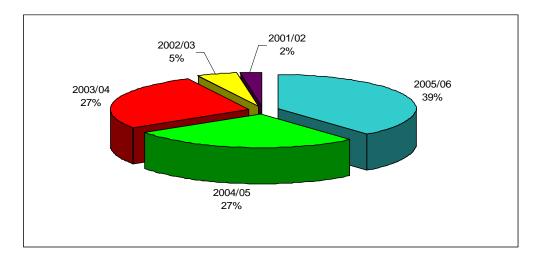

13. Of the 61 recommendations made for the fiscal year 2005/06 (including the 28 reiterated from 2004/05), 30 (49 per cent) had been implemented, 29 (48 per cent) had been partially implemented and 2 (3 per cent) had not been implemented. Details of the actions taken and the comments of the Board are included in the present report and summarized in annex II.

Ageing of previous recommendations

- 14. The Board evaluated the ageing of its previous recommendations that were partially or not yet implemented, as requested by the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions (A/59/736, para. 8). The financial periods in which such recommendations were first made are indicated in annex II.
- 15. Of the 39 recommendations that were partially implemented and 2 not implemented, 16 (39 per cent) relate to 2005/06, 11 (27 per cent) to 2004/05, 11 (27 per cent) to 2003/04, 2 (5 per cent) to 2002/03, and 1 (2 per cent) to 2001/02, as depicted in figure II.1.

2. Main recommendations

- 16. The Board's main recommendations are that the Administration and/or the relevant mission or missions:
- (a) Keep under review the concern expressed by the Board about the non-provision in the financial statements for delays in the collection of assessed contributions (para. 35);
- (b) Ascertain the reasons for the high incidence of cancellation of unliquidated obligations with a view to minimizing the extent to which such cancellations take place (para. 38);
- (c) Adhere strictly to the requirements of rule 105.9 of the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations in relation to unliquidated obligations, and improve the related internal control procedures (para. 44);
- (d) Determine the extent of end-of-service liabilities that relate to prior years so that the appropriate accounting treatment can be undertaken (para. 49);
- (e) Revisit the report of the Secretary-General (A/45/493) to determine those criteria that might hamper the efficient management of the support account in the light of changing circumstances and needs (para. 67);

- (g) Consider disclosing in the financial statements the value of unused expendable property at the end of the financial period in order to improve transparency, accountability and financial reporting (para. 102);

- (h) Conduct a physical inventory of all expendable property at all locations and reconcile the discrepancies between the physical counts and the quantities recorded in the Galileo system (para. 116);
- (i) Expedite the review of non-expendable property at all missions to ascertain the realistic quantities that should be held and take appropriate measures to redeploy surplus assets to other missions in need of them or to UNLB, or to dispose of them (para. 123);
- (j) Ensure that the Local Property Survey Board and the Headquarters Property Survey Board expedite all cases brought to their attention of assets that are pending write-off (para. 129);
- (k) Conduct periodic physical verifications of non-expendable property at all missions and locations, investigate promptly all discrepancies and take corrective action to avoid a recurrence (para. 139);
- (1) Conduct quarterly inspections of contingent-owned equipment in a timely manner so as to facilitate reimbursements to troop-contributing countries (para. 157);
- (m) Investigate the causes of the discrepancies and errors in the reports generated by CarLog and implement measures to rectify them (para. 165);
- (n) Identify the causes for delays in the issuance of purchase orders and adopt measures to ensure that all purchase orders are issued within a reasonable time after the approval of the related requisitions (para. 184);
- (o) Ensure that, when executing contracts, all missions adhere strictly to the requirements of the Procurement Manual in respect of performance bonds and liquidated damages (para. 203);
- (p) Expedite the implementation of a rations management system to ensure the proper management and administration of rations (para. 229);
- (q) Take appropriate measures to ensure that rations are stored at the prescribed temperature in order to minimize spoilage (para. 237);
- (r) Expedite the recruitment of personnel and the acquisition of meteorological equipment in order to minimize aviation safety risks and ensure compliance with both international and United Nations aviation safety standards (para. 256);

- (u) Take steps to ensure that the integrated mission planning process guidelines are finalized and made fully operational as early as possible (para. 323);
- (v) Expedite the completion of the guidelines relating to quick-impact projects and ensure that they are implemented at all missions (para. 330);

08-26075 19

- (w) In collaboration with the management of missions, develop strategies to ensure that quick-impact projects are completed within the agreed time frames and that physical inspections are carried out periodically to ensure that the work undertaken is of an acceptable quality (para. 338);
- (x) Expedite the filling of all resident auditor posts to ensure effective internal audit coverage of all missions and carefully monitor the workplans of the resident audit service to ensure that audits are executed and finalized in a timely manner (para. 347).
- 17. The other recommendations of the Board appear in paragraphs 41, 57, 72, 78, 84, 86, 89, 92, 96, 108, 132, 135, 144, 153, 171, 174, 178, 192, 195, 198, 208, 211, 214, 215, 218, 232, 234, 240, 243, 246, 253, 258, 261, 263, 266, 270, 277, 280, 283, 293, 296, 302, 305, 308, 312, 315, 318, 325 and 332. These recommendations do not address the sanctions or disciplinary steps that the Administration may wish to impose on defaulting officials for consistent failure to ensure compliance with the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations, administrative instructions and other related directives.

B. Coordination with the other oversight bodies

18. The Board continues to coordinate with the Office of Internal Oversight Services in the planning of its audits in order to avoid duplication of effort and to determine the extent of reliance that could be placed on its work.

C. Detailed findings and recommendations

1. Financial overview

Key financial ratios

19. As shown in table II.1 below, all the financial indicators reflected improvements, except the ratio of the availability of cash to settle the liabilities of active missions and special accounts, which declined from 1.25 in 2005/06 to 0.80 in 2006/07. This decline was due mainly to the application of return of credits to Member States. The ratios were computed from the figures presented in statements I and II.

Analysis of income and expenditure

20. Total income for the period under review amounted to $5.53 billion, while total expenditure amounted to $5.15 billion, giving an excess of income over expenditure of $380 million. Comparative income and expenditure for the financial periods 2004/05, 2005/06 and 2006/07 are shown in figure II.2.

(Billions of United States dollars)

21. As shown in statement I, amounts totalling $860.27 million were shown as credits to Member States, compared with $492.63 million for the preceding financial period. Table II.2 shows the trend in credits to Member States over the past five financial periods.

^b A low indicator depicts a healthy financial position.

^c A high indicator depicts a healthy financial position.

^d A low indicator is a reflection that insufficient cash is available to settle debts.

^e A low indicator is a positive reflection that obligations are being liquidated.

Assessed contributions	2 520	2 927	4 393	4 919	5 347

- 22. As can be noted, returns to Member States for the period under review amounted to 16 per cent of assessed contributions, compared with 10 per cent for the previous financial period.
- 23. The Administration commented that credits to Member States were not due to overbudgeting but were rather a reflection of the dynamic and unpredictable nature of peacekeeping operations. In the case of ONUB, the return of credits for the years 2004, 2005 and 2006 was postponed through the actions of the General Assembly and they were only returned when the mission was wound up in 2007. If the credits pertaining to UNMIS and ONUB were excluded, the percentage of credits returned for the fiscal year 2006/07 would drop to 10.6 per cent.
- 24. The increase in expenditures of $570 million, or 12.45 per cent, was attributable mainly to the expanded operations of UNIFIL (from $96.24 million in 2005/06 to $499.78 million in 2006/07) and the establishment of UNMIT in 2006/07 ($146.85 million). Figure II.3 shows the expenditures for active missions.

Mission expenditure as percentage of total expenditure

25. A significant decline in expenditure levels owing to a change in mandate was recorded by UNAMSIL, UNTAET/UNMISET and ONUB. Their expenditures are reflected in table II.3.

Cash pool

- 26. Rule 104.12 of the Financial Regulations and Rules authorizes the investment of funds not immediately needed for operations. The report on the participating funds' share of the United Nations Headquarters cash pool showed that the total participation of 40 peacekeeping funds in the pool amounted to $2.17 billion as at 30 June 2007.
- 27. Each participating fund is provided with an investment account in the Operations Processing and Integrated Control System (OPICS) in which the invested balances and the daily accrued interest earned are maintained. Capitalization of interest is undertaken on a semi-annual basis. However, interest is accrued and credited to participating funds on a daily basis.

Assessed contributions receivable

28. Assessed contributions outstanding as at 30 June 2007 remained almost unchanged ($1.26 billion in 2006/07 and $1.27 billion in 2005/06), as shown in table II.4.

Total, peacekeeping operations	1 261 182	100.0	1 270 912	100.0	(1)

- 29. As can be noted, not much progress was made in the collection of assessments, especially in relation to closed missions. Of the total amount of $1.26 billion outstanding, $594.38 million was more than two years in arrears. Of this latter amount, $563.88 million pertained to closed missions and special accounts.
- 30. There was a 5 per cent decrease in the balance of outstanding assessed contributions for closed missions and special accounts. This was a result of the application of return of credits to Member States arising from prior-year surpluses, such as unencumbered balance of appropriations, interest income and savings on or cancellations of prior-year obligations.
- 31. Paragraph 33 of the United Nations system accounting standards states that "the Organization may make a provision for delays in the collection of the outstanding contributions". However, note 2 (1) (iii) to the financial statements states that it is "the policy of the United Nations not to make provision for delays in collection of such assessments".
- 32. The Administration commented that the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions was of the opinion that assessed contributions were collectible until the General Assembly decided otherwise (A/51/533, para. 51). In addition, in its resolution 61/233 B, the General Assembly had reiterated that the issue of outstanding assessed contributions was a policy matter of the General Assembly and had urged all Member States to make every possible effort to ensure the payment of their assessed contributions in full. Since the position of the General Assembly had been consistent on the issue, the Administration stated that it had no basis on which to consider a new policy.
- 33. The notes to the financial statements state that certain Member States have indicated that they would not be paying their outstanding assessments. In view of the special nature of assessments, and the requirement of the United Nations system accounting standards, the Board is of the view that financial reporting could be improved if provision were made in accounts to recognize delays in the collection of outstanding contributions.

34. The non-provision for delays in the collection of assessed contributions was raised in the Board's previous report, in which it presented the issue as an emphasis of matter in its audit opinion.

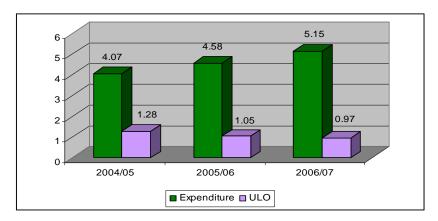

35. The Board recommends that the Administration keep this matter under review.

Unliquidated obligations

36. Unliquidated obligations as at 30 June 2007 amounted to $973.5 million, representing 18.9 per cent of total expenditure and a decrease of 7.62 per cent from the $1.05 billion in 2005/06. Figure II.4 depicts unliquidated obligations against total expenditure for the financial periods 2004/05, 2005/06 and 2006/07.

(Billions of United States dollars)

- 37. As shown in statement III, the amount of $202.28 million was reflected as savings on cancellations of prior-period obligations, compared with the amount of $304.17 million for the previous financial period, representing a 33.5 per cent decrease. Although unliquidated obligations can be carried forward up to a maximum of five years, the Board expresses concern about the high incidence of cancellations of prior-period obligations, which may be indicative of an apparent overstatement of expenditure in previous years.
- 38. The Board recommends that the Administration ascertain the reasons for the high incidence of cancellation of unliquidated obligations with a view to minimizing the extent to which such cancellations take place.
- 39. At UNMIS, 119 purchase orders valued at $17.55 million did not meet the criteria established under regulations 5.2 to 5.4 of the Financial Regulations and Rules in that they were approved in the period from July to August 2007, which was outside the accounting period.
- 40. UNMIS stated that the purchase orders had been approved within the extended deadlines of 15 July 2007 for UNMIS and 27 July 2007 for the heavy support package for Darfur, as approved by the Office of Programme Planning, Budget and Accounts.

08-26075 25

- 41. The Board recommends that the Administration ensure strict compliance with cut-off procedures in the preparation of financial statements.
- 42. The Administration commented that the specific cases cited were processed under the exemption granted to the Mission by Headquarters to acquire goods and services that were urgently required by UNMIS and UNAMID. This was a one-time only exception and was done in view of the extremely dynamic and fluid environment under which UNMIS operated. In addition, there was the need to redirect resources towards the heavy support package for Darfur during the last quarter of the period under review. Because of this, there was insufficient time to raise requisitions and to obligate the funds before 30 June 2007. The Administration further stated that had the cut-off date not been extended, the unutilized amount would have been surrendered, contrary to the purposes for which the General Assembly authorized the funding.
- 43. Rule 105.9 of the Financial Regulations and Rules provides that an obligation must be based on a formal contract, agreement, purchase order or other form of undertaking, or on a liability recognized by the United Nations, and that all obligations must be supported by an appropriate obligating document. The Board noted the following examples of deficiencies in respect of unliquidated obligations:
- (a) At UNIFIL, obligations totalling $0.30 million for the travel costs of various mission and international staff reassigned to UNIFIL were raised using miscellaneous obligating documents instead of travel authorizations (PT.8 forms) from the originating mission;
- (b) At UNMEE, 14 miscellaneous obligating documents totalling $0.55 million were without specific payees and therefore the parties contracted could not be established.
- 44. The Board recommends that UNIFIL and UNMEE strictly adhere to the requirements of rule 105.9 of the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations in relation to unliquidated obligations, and improve their internal control procedures.

End-of-service liabilities

45. The financial statements for the period under review reflected end-of-service liabilities amounting to $460 million. Of this amount, $389 million represented after-service health insurance liabilities, $48 million related to unused vacation leave credits and $23 million represented repatriation benefits. Table II.5 shows the end-of-service liabilities (excluding those of after-service health insurance), by mission, as at 30 June 2007.

^a Excludes after-service health insurance liabilities.

- 46. In accordance with General Assembly resolutions 60/255 and 61/264, the Administration has changed the presentation of end-of-service liabilities from disclosure in the notes to the financial statements to accounting and presentation in the statements themselves.
- 47. The instructions issued by the Accounts Division provided for the recognition, measurement and presentation of end-of-service liabilities. One of the instructions relates to the recognition of both current and prior-year liabilities as adjustments to reserves and fund balances. This is contrary to generally accepted accounting principles and would result in an understatement of expenditure for the period under review.
- 48. The Administration commented that the annual leave liabilities were accrued as at 30 June 2007 and that it was appropriate to reflect those liabilities as an adjustment to reserve and fund balances. The Board is, however, of the view that the current-year charge for end-of-service liabilities should be reflected as expenditure instead of as an adjustment to reserves.
- 49. The Board recommends that the Administration obtain the data necessary to appropriately disclose end-of-service liabilities for future years.

After-service health insurance

50. At the end of their service, eligible staff members are entitled to after-service health insurance coverage. Previously, the after-service health insurance liabilities for peacekeeping personnel were included in the regular budget and were shown in a note to the financial statements of the United Nations (vol. I).

- 51. Effective 30 June 2007, the liabilities for after-service health insurance have been reflected in the financial statements of peacekeeping operations. The overall accrued after-service health insurance liabilities of the United Nations, as determined by actuarial valuation, amounted to $2.07 billion as at 31 December 2005, and the amount pertaining to peacekeeping operations was estimated at $330 million. The latter amount was projected to 30 June 2007 at $389 million.
- 52. The Administration explained that the amount of after-service health insurance liabilities relating to peacekeeping could not be precisely determined. It also stated that, of the total amount of $389 million for peacekeeping, $241 million related to active staff and was based on actuarial valuation. The Administration further stated that the remaining $148 million related to retirees and was based on a reasonable allocation methodology. The Board intends to follow up this matter in the next financial period.

2. United Nations system accounting standards

53. The Board assessed the extent to which the financial statements of the United Nations peacekeeping operations for the financial period ended 30 June 2007 conformed to the United Nations system accounting standards. The assessment indicated that the financial statements were consistent with those standards in all material respects.

3. Missions in liquidation

- 54. Pursuant to Security Council resolution 1692 (2006), the complete disengagement of the United Nations Mission in Burundi (ONUB) took place as at 31 December 2006. Accordingly, the liquidation of the Mission's assets and repatriation of all support staff commenced on 1 January 2007 and concluded on 30 June 2007.
- 55. As at 30 June 2007, incurred expenditures of ONUB amounted to $121.96 million against a total income of $137.37 million, giving an excess of income over expenditure of $15.41 million. There were also savings on cancellations of prior-period obligations of $15.32 million. Under the terms of General Assembly resolutions 61/9 A and 61/9 B, Member States were credited with the amount of $100.65 million, comprising unencumbered balances and other income in respect of the financial periods 2004/05, 2005/06 and 2006/07.

4. Completed missions

56. The financial position of completed missions remained a matter of concern for the Board. As shown in table II.6 below, total cash balances relating to these missions amounted to $536.63 million while total liabilities amounted to $503.95 million. However, there were outstanding assessments totalling $550.29 million. Should these assessments remain uncollected, eight missions would have an accumulated deficit of $199 million.

57. The Board remains of the view that the intervention of Member States is necessary to settle the obligations of all completed missions.

5. Support account

58. The support account was initially conceived to provide funding for overload posts necessary for the overall direction, assistance and guidance by departments, offices and other units at the Headquarters and to ensure the effective planning, implementation and liquidation of peacekeeping operations. Over the years, the resources required for financing of the support account have continuously increased. From its level of $30.53 million in 1996/97, resource requirements in 2006/07 amounted to $169.40 million.

- 59. The Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions (see A/60/807) requested the Board to undertake an analysis of the support account taking into consideration the Administration's report on the matter. At the time of the audit, the Administration's report was not available. The Administration explained that the report had been completed but that the findings therein had yet to be validated by the departments and offices funded from the support account.
- 60. Notwithstanding the unavailability of the report, the Board had undertaken an analysis of the support account in its audit for the financial period ending 30 June 2006 and followed up on the status of implementation of its recommendations. The results of the follow-up are presented below.

Creation of posts

- 61. In response to the Board's previous report, the Peacekeeping Financing Division assured the Board that the criteria set out in subparagraphs 16 (a) and (f) of the report of the Secretary-General on the support account (A/45/493) would be highlighted in its forthcoming memorandum on budget instructions for the support account for the financial period from 1 July 2008 to 30 June 2009. Those criteria require the Programme Planning and Budget Division to evaluate the proposed grading of posts vis-à-vis prevailing standards for post classification and the effect that the creation of a post would have on grading and organizational structures.
- 62. The Peacekeeping Financing Division agreed to revisit the guidelines set out in document A/45/493, in particular the criterion contained in subparagraph 16 (f), given that the introduction of generic job profiles had superseded the need to submit the posts to the Office of Human Resources Management for classification. It was noted that the Secretary-General had the discretion to authorize temporary posts up to the level of funding. However, the Board's review of the instructions for the proposed budget for the support account for the said period indicated that these criteria had been neither highlighted nor emphasized.
- 63. The Peacekeeping Financing Division commented that the establishment of the proposed new support account posts was subject to review and approval by the legislative bodies based on the justifications provided in the support account budget and was not contingent upon their prior formal classification. The Division stated that the prior formal classification of the proposed posts (i.e., those not covered by generic job profiles), as set out in subparagraph 16 (e), would result in
- an additional workload and might require the provision of additional resources for the Office of Human Resources Management in order to ensure the timely submission of the support account budget to the legislative bodies.
- 64. The Peacekeeping Financing Division also commented that the requirements set out in the criteria had been addressed in the budget instructions in the broad context of the implementation of the recommendations of the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions in its general report on peacekeeping operations (A/61/852) and its report on the support account (A/61/937, sect. II) and of the requests of the General Assembly in its resolutions 61/276 and 61/279 regarding the efficiency and effectiveness of the new peacekeeping structure in the implementation of mission mandates. The Division agreed that the criteria remained valid and stated that it would continue their practical implementation in the context of the Secretary-General's proposals for human resources management reform.

- 65. It is in recognition of the dynamic nature of peacekeeping operations that the Board had recommended that the criteria set out in document A/45/493 be revisited with a view to addressing changing circumstances and needs. The Administration had agreed to undertake this but, at the time of the audit, it had not been done.
- 66. The United Nations Controller acknowledged the concerns of the Board in relation to this matter and indicated that those concerns would be conveyed to the departments and offices of the Secretariat. With regard to the criteria contained in document A/45/493, the Controller stated that they would be addressed in the context of the implementation of General Assembly resolution 61/279.
- 67. The Administration agreed with the Board's reiterated recommendation that, in the light of changing circumstances and needs, it revisit the criteria set out by the Secretary-General in relation to the creation of posts (A/45/493, subparas. 16 (e) and (f)) to determine those that might hamper the efficient management of the support account.

Evaluation of posts

- 68. The Administration commented in response to the Board's previous report that it did not have any objection to ensuring that workplans in the electronic performance appraisal system (e-PAS) made reference to the support of peacekeeping operations and that this would be done in the e-PAS cycle for the period from 1 April 2006 to 31 March 2007.
- 69. The Board reviewed nine e-PAS records for the said period and noted that the activities detailed in three workplans did not show those related to peacekeeping operations as they were stated only in general terms. In addition, two workplans showed minimal activities for peacekeeping. Also, the self-evaluations of six staff members did not indicate the actual work done for peacekeeping operations, while one self-evaluation provided only a general statement of activities undertaken. Further, the comments by evaluating officers on four e-PAS records made no mention of the peacekeeping activities undertaken by the staff members being evaluated.
- 70. The Peacekeeping Financing Division commented that programme managers had the flexibility in utilizing the totality of resources to achieve the results set out in the results-based budgeting framework and the strategic framework within the overall functional responsibilities of the unit or section concerned. The Division stated that the requirement that the workplans of individual staff members provide adequate, clear/specific, consistent and updated information to facilitate review and verification of the use of support account posts would be reiterated to the incumbents of those posts.
- 71. In view of the manner in which the workplans had been prepared, the extent to which support account posts had been used for backstopping peacekeeping operations could not be properly determined.
- 72. The Administration agreed with the Board's reiterated recommendation that it ensure that workplans provide adequate, clear/specific, consistent and updated information to facilitate review and verification of the use of posts, as intended. The Board also recommends that the Administration require incumbents and their supervisors to ensure that workplans reflect the activities to be undertaken in connection with peacekeeping operations.

6. Write-off of losses of cash, receivables and property

73. The Administration informed the Board that, in accordance with financial rule 106.9, property losses of $3.52 million ($4.36 million in 2005/06) had been written off during 2006/07. In accordance with financial rule 106.8, losses amounting to $57,934 ($63,660 in 2005/06) had also been written off in respect of accounts receivable. These losses included amounts considered irrecoverable, cash losses and overpayments.

7. Ex gratia payments

- 74. As required by financial regulation 5.11, the Administration reported ex gratia payments in respect of peacekeeping operations for the period under review amounting to $13,436, as follows:
- (a) At UNMIS, $8,636 was paid to the family of a Sudanese national who had been killed in an accident involving a United Nations vehicle. Initially, an ex gratia payment was made for $22,936 but was reduced to $8,636 due to a reimbursement of $14,300 by the global insurer;
- (b) At UNIFIL, $4,800 had been paid to four battalion personnel for the destruction of their personal kits.

8. Results-based budgeting

75. Results-based budgeting adopts a logical framework which provides the basis for the formulation of the budget and measurement of performance.

Support account budget

- 76. In the review of compliance of the support account budget with the logical framework, the Board noted that the first expected accomplishment was a general statement which did not provide for comparison with the actual accomplishment. In addition, baseline and/or target data were not present in the indicators of achievement in the Police Division, Office of Internal Oversight Services and Office of Mission Support. A significant number of identified outputs were activities to be undertaken to achieve the expected accomplishments and not the product of those activities, and therefore were not quantified. In the absence of baseline and/or target data and of specific, measurable and time-bound outputs, any improvement or decline in accomplishments could not be properly determined.
- 77. The Administration commented that further refinements and improvements in the formulation of the expected accomplishments, indicators of achievement and associated outputs of the support account were ongoing and would continue in the context of the proposed budget for the support account for 2008/09.
- 78. The Board recommends that the Administration ensure that all departments and offices involved in the support account continue to improve the budget formulation processes in accordance with the results-based budgeting logical framework.

Indicators of achievement

- 79. During the Board's follow-up of previous audit recommendations, the Administration indicated that, in conjunction with the missions, significant progress had been made in developing clear and measurable indicators of achievement in the missions' results-based framework for 2006/07 and that further improvements would be achieved during the preparation of the budget for 2007/08. Paragraph 16 of the results-based budgeting guidelines stipulates that all elements of the logical frameworks are formulated as specific, measurable, attainable, realistic and time-bound. However, the Board noted that this requirement had either not been adhered to or there was need for further enhancement, as follows:
- (a) At UNMIT, several planned outputs had not been accomplished. The Administration commented that timelines for outputs in the budget were generally realistic and that the noted cases were mainly outputs whose completion depended on external factors which were beyond the control of UNMIT;
- (b) At UNOMIG, there was a need to update the logical framework to include the identification of other outputs and to link outputs with expected accomplishments. Some outputs had also not been quantified to facilitate evaluation:
- (c) At UNMIL and UNMIK, further improvements could be made to the indicators of achievement and the outputs, particularly as regards measurability and the setting of baselines, targets and time frames;
- (d) At MONUC, indicators of achievement on at least two components were not measurable. As such, there was the risk that progress made in attaining the expected accomplishment could not be effectively monitored;
- (e) At MINUSTAH, some indicators of achievement, particularly those related to political matters, were complex to validate, thereby rendering monitoring of the progress difficult;
- (f) At UNOCI, of the three components of its framework the objectives for ceasefire, the disarmament, demobilization and reintegration, and the peace process remained largely strategic, with qualitative indicators that were difficult to determine. The indicators also reflected activities rather than performance and there was no link to the cost of the activities.
- 80. The Board reiterates its previous recommendation that the Administration ensure that all indicators of achievement and outputs for the results-based budgeting framework are clear and measurable, and that they include baselines and targets for the current and the ensuing financial year in order to facilitate monitoring and reporting.
- 81. The Administration informed the Board that at the budget workshop held in Cairo in July 2007, the development of clear and measurable indicators of achievement had been the main focus. It also explained that the concerns expressed by the Board had been addressed in the revised draft budget for 2008/09.

Portfolio of evidence

- 82. The Administration commented that, in response to the Board's recommendation in its previous report, it was in the process of developing an electronic budget application project. The new system would have a tool to assist missions in monitoring the collection of a portfolio of evidence to support the performance report. In the current audit, the Administration indicated that the implementation of the Board's recommendation was in progress and that the new system was expected to go live by July 2008. A number of missions were using the Lotus Notes-based database system to gather results-based budgeting information.
- 83. The Board noted the following shortcomings in relation to the portfolio of evidence:
- (a) At UNIFIL, the portfolio of evidence supporting the performance report had not been validated by an independent party. Such validation by the resident auditors at the mission would enhance the credibility of the performance reports;
- (b) At MONUC, there was no formal information-gathering systems in place to record, on a regular basis, actual performance based on the results-based budgeting format. If information were not gathered throughout the year, the collection of data and the compilation of the performance report at year-end would be more difficult. MONUC explained that it was committed to pursuing the gathering, monitoring and compilation of the required portfolio of evidence within the resources available, subject to the constraints of the Mission environment and the geographical size of the Democratic Republic of the Congo;
- (c) At UNMIL, five instances were noted in which the reported outputs exceeded the actual outputs. UNMIL commented that it would closely monitor its data to avoid future discrepancies, circulate the biennial and annual reports to all section chiefs for verification and subsequently submit the reports to the Senior Management Group for review.
- 84. The Board recommends that the Administration ensure that: (a) all performance results are properly substantiated by documented proof of output; and (b) information contained in the portfolio of evidence is certified as correct by the cost centre managers and validated on a test basis by the Office of Internal Oversight Services.
- 85. At UNMIK, although the Lotus Notes system had been implemented as a tool for gathering information to support output, it was not fully operational because information had not been recorded by the various cost centre managers or focal points. The portfolio of evidence to support the performance report had also not been provided.
- 86. UNMIK agreed with the Board's recommendation that it: (a) reinforce and strengthen the use of the Lotus Notes database system to ensure regular and accurate information gathering; (b) provide training on the operation of the Lotus Notes system to all cost centre managers and results-based budgeting focal points; and (c) gather information on a regular basis throughout the financial period to enable the Mission to compile a portfolio of evidence.
- 87. The Department of Peacekeeping Operations commented that the Lotus Notes system had been updated with the 2007/2008 results-based budgeting framework and that training in the operation of the system had since been provided to all cost centre managers and results-based budgeting focal points.

9. Management of cash, receivables and payables

Cash in bank and on hand

88. The Board noted that guidelines and procedures outlined under various sections of the Field Finance Procedure Guidelines on the handling of cash had not been adhered to, as indicated in table II.7.

Table II.7

Handling of cash and non-adherence to the Field Finance Procedure Guidelines

Mission	Reference	Particulars
MINURSO Section 3.4		Five of the six petty cash custodians were not replenishing their funds at least once a month, indicating that the imprest amount might have been in excess of operational requirement.
		Three petty cash custodians at Mission headquarters were not recording petty cash transactions in the cashbook, thereby rendering accounting for the fund at any point in time difficult.
		Receipts supporting the request for fund replenishments lacked the signature of the supervisor of the petty cash custodian.
		Designation of the Military Commander of Smara, Western Sahara, a military observer, and therefore non-United Nations personnel, as petty cash custodian of the Smara team/sector. Hence, he could not be held accountable for any United Nations fund pursuant to paragraph 3.2 of ST/SGB/2005/07.
UNDOF	Section 3.4	Three of the four petty cash custodians in the General Services Section did not maintain petty cash books.
UNOMIG	Section 2.4.1	Adjustments resulting from bank reconciliations were not immediately recorded as they were taken up in the books only in subsequent months, after the reconciliation has been completed.
UNOCI	Section 5.8	Presence of a significant number of outstanding cheques in each bank account aggregating to $6.8 million.
	Annex 9, subsection 19	Of nine custodians, two had not requested any cash replenishments during the period from July 2006 to June 2007, while two others had placed requests fewer than four times over the same period. This indicates that cash was held in excess of operational requirements.

- 89. The Board recommends that the above missions strictly observe guidelines and the procedures outlined under sections 2.4.1, 3.4 and 5.8 of the Field Finance Procedure Guidelines relating to the handling of cash.
- 90. The Department of Field Support informed the Board that the above missions were now in compliance with the established procedures relating to controls and handling of petty cash. The Department indicated that the Finance Section had reduced the fund levels of four custodians in November 2007 and that now all of the petty cash custodians were mission staff members.

Receivables/payables

- 91. At MONUC, outstanding accounts receivable were not actively monitored, as required in paragraph 10 of the Field Finance Procedure Guidelines. Of the $4.22 million in receivables as at 30 June 2007, amounts totalling $0.819 million had been outstanding for more than one year. This represented a 9.65 per cent increase from the $0.747 million in 2005/06. On the other hand, outstanding accounts payable decreased by 45.26 per cent, from $3.69 million in 2005/06 to $2.02 million in 2006/07.
- 92. The Board recommends that MONUC implement the necessary controls to monitor effectively the collection of outstanding receivables.
- 93. The Administration informed the Board that a task force had been established within the Finance Section to monitor the collection of outstanding accounts receivable and to conduct periodic reviews of accounts payable, with special emphasis on balances older than 90 days.
- 94. At MINURSO, receivables from the Governments of two countries representing tax refunds amounted to $0.64 million, of which $0.15 million, or 24 per cent, had remained outstanding for more than two years while $0.23 million, or 37 per cent, had been outstanding for more than one year. The Board was informed that this matter had been brought to the attention of the competent authorities but, at the time of the audit, the position remained unchanged.
- 95. At UNOCI, embarkation fees, amounting to $0.422 million, collected by the Government from each passenger during troop rotations, remained uncollected, despite efforts by UNOCI to obtain payment.
- 96. The Board recommends that MINURSO and UNOCI, in coordination with Headquarters, make the necessary representation to the Governments of the concerned countries for the settlement of the long-outstanding amounts due the missions.
- 97. The Department of Field Support commented that, in coordination with the two missions, it had been pursuing the above matters and that one of the Governments had settled its indebtedness with MINURSO in December 2007.

10. Expendable property

98. Expendable property consists of property and equipment valued at less than $1,500 per unit at the time of purchase and with a serviceable life of less than five years. There are, however, a number of exceptions to this rule. The guidelines of the Department of Peacekeeping Operations relating to expendable property are contained in the Property Management Manual. One of the requirements is that once

- expendable items are issued they are considered consumed, and hence accounting reports are not required.
- 99. Paragraph 5 of the United Nations system accounting standards requires observance of the principles of prudence, substance over form and materiality in the selection and application of accounting policies. In addition, paragraph 49 requires disclosure of the value of inventories (other than non-expendable equipment, furniture and motor vehicles) as an asset in the financial statements at the end of the financial period.
- 100. The Board noted that there was no disclosure of the value of expendable property in the financial statements, although significant amounts of such property were held at UNLB and at the various missions. For example, at the end of the period under review, there were stocks of tyres and batteries worth at least $33 million.
- 101. The Administration explained that it had not been its policy to disclose expendable property since this would require a reduction in expenditure at the end of the year and a corresponding credit to Member States. The latter was not possible since the funds would already have been expended. In addition, the Administration was of the view that paragraph 49 of the United Nations system accounting standards refers to inventories held for sale by organizations such as UNICEF, and was not applicable to peacekeeping operations.
- 102. The Board recommends that the Administration consider disclosing in the financial statements the value of unused expendable property at the end of the financial period in order to improve transparency, accountability and financial reporting, and in preparation for the implementation of the International Public Sector Accounting Standards.
- 103. As shown in note 13 to the financial statements, of the amount of $1.39 billion shown as non-expendable property, sums totalling $7.5 million relate to strategic deployment stocks at UNLB. The Administration explained that the disclosure had been based on a recommendation of the Office of Internal Oversight Services.

Stock levels

- 104. In its previous report, the Board had recommended the monitoring of stock levels of expendable equipment by establishing minimum and maximum stock quantities. This was particularly so in respect of UNMIL, where the Board expressed concerns regarding controls on its expendable stock valued at $56.43 million as at 30 June 2006.
- 105. During the current audit, the Board noted that UNMIL had not fully established the required stock levels. For example, stock levels were not set for the transport and communications and information technology warehouses. The Administration explained that UNMIL had since determined minimum and maximum stock levels for 95 per cent of its stock items and was in the process of determining the levels of the remaining 5 per cent. In addition, the Engineering Services Section conducted monthly reviews of reorder levels of approximately 10 per cent of all stock items.
- 106. At UNMIT, some categories of expendable property reflected substantial quantities on hand while there were other categories for which there were zero balances. This indicates a lack of effective monitoring of stock levels. The Administration commented that appropriate stock ratios for all expendable and non-expendable assets, including a review of its existing maximum and minimum stock levels, had been undertaken following the recruitment of an international staff member in December 2007.

107. At MONUC, stock levels were not determined for spare parts, and the order alerts functionality in the Galileo database was not utilized to ensure that scheduled replenishment procedures were in place. In addition, Galileo did not generate a demand history of inventory items to support the determination of inventory levels.

108. The Administration agreed with the Board's reiterated recommendation that it implement an effective system of inventory management, especially with regard to stock levels, lead times for the replenishment of stocks and reorder quantities.

109. The Department of Field Support commented that it was in the process of developing guidelines to assist the missions in inventory management at warehouses and anticipated that the guidelines would be approved and circulated for implementation in the last quarter of 2008.

Physical count and inventory records

- 110. At the transport warehouse at UNMIS, based on sample tests carried out, several instances were noted where the description of the items in Galileo did not match those that were physically counted. Stock cards were also not updated. At the time of the audit, the newly established Property Management Section was restructuring the spare parts operation at El Obeid to facilitate periodic physical counts and the updating of the Galileo database in a timely manner. United Nations Volunteers were also being deployed to regional warehouses to assist in the management of expendable and non-expendable property, including vehicle spare parts.
- 111. At MINUSTAH, discrepancies were noted at the logistics base supply warehouse between the stock recorded in the logsheets and that registered in Galileo. Overages over Galileo ranged from 6 to 597 units. In addition, although the authorized staffing level was only 1,771, the inventory records showed that there were 6,974 desk trays and 14,136 ruled notebooks on hand, an indicator of significant overstocking. The Administration explained that to avoid excessive stock levels, MINUSTAH would take steps to establish appropriate stock levels at the warehouses and that purchase decisions would take this into account.
- 112. At MONUC, there were discrepancies between the physical quantities and those recorded in Galileo due to issuances of spare parts which had not been promptly recorded. The physical locations of some spare parts also did not match those shown in Galileo. The Mission acknowledged the deficiencies and explained that it had since initiated a Mission-wide reconciliation of its records with the physical quantities on hand. In addition, the Transport Section was creating reports using the Business Objects reporting tool, Excel and Access to generate requisitions based on actual consumption, items on order and actual stock.
- 113. The Administration informed the Board that the Department of Field Support, the Logistics Support Division and the Surface Transport Section were taking appropriate measures to streamline the Galileo system at UNLB. An integrated demand management system within Galileo was considered necessary since the current system did not allow appropriate forecasting. Galileo was an asset inventory system and was not designed to handle expendable items. Therefore, a cataloguing inventory feature which would recognize an inventory item by its unique number rather than the spare parts number was required to accurately track consumption history.

- 114. At UNMIL, no physical inventories had been undertaken in the communications and information technology and engineering warehouses for the period ended 30 June 2007. The Mission informed the Board that a physical verification exercise had since commenced and would be completed during the first quarter of 2008.
- 115. At MINUSTAH, although the transport store management stated that stock counts had been performed on a regular basis at the stores, there was no evidence that this had been done.
- 116. The Board recommends that the above missions: (a) conduct a physical inventory of all expendable property at all locations and reconcile the discrepancies between the physical counts and the quantities recorded in the Galileo system; (b) update the Galileo system promptly whenever there are inventory movements; and (c) ensure that the locations of inventories as recorded in Galileo agree with the actual physical locations.

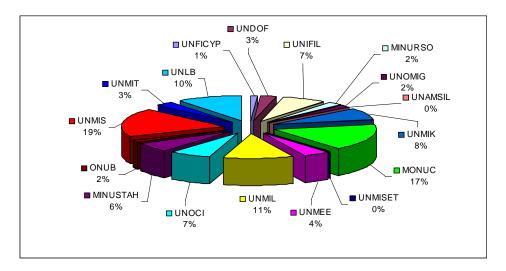

11. Non-expendable property

117. Non-expendable property consists of property and equipment valued at $1,500 or more per unit at the time of purchase and with a serviceable life of five years or more. As disclosed in note 13 to the financial statements, the value of holdings of non-expendable property of peacekeeping operations as at 30 June 2007 amounted to $1.38 billion, a 13.1 per cent increase from the previous year's amount of $1.22 billion. The breakdown of these holdings is shown in figure II.5.

Holdings of non-expendable property of missions as at 30 June 2007

(Millions of United States dollars)

118. The Property Management Unit, in its report on the status of non-expendable inventory surplus dated 7 February 2007, showed that the total mission holdings consisted of 399,754 items valued at $1.35 billion (see table II.8).

Table II.8 Status of non-expendable property

Status	Quantity	Percentage quantity	Value (millions of United States dollars)	Percentage value

Written off	10 240	3	22.63	2
Total	399 754	100	1 350.65	100

119. The Board noted that, of the 117,318 items in stock and valued at $330.12 million, approximately one third had been in stock for 12 months or more. In particular, of the $102.4 million worth of items in stock at UNMIS, $50.7 million, consisting of 13,120 items, had not been utilized for 12 months or longer. A similar situation existed at UNMEE in respect of items valued at $4.5 million.

120. The Department of Field Support clarified that the accumulated stock of non-expendable property at UNMEE had been acquired at a time when it was foreseen that the Mission would continue for the foreseeable future. However, the Mission had been in a draw-down exercise for a number of years and was constrained in the disposal of some of the non-expendable property items because their sale was not approved by the Government. As an alternative, the Mission was considering the transfer of some items to other missions or to UNLB.

121. At UNOCI, non-expendable property increased from 16.8 per cent as at 15 September 2006 to 22.73 per cent as at 15 September 2007, thus exceeding the 10 per cent level set in the guidelines to missions, dated July 2006. The increase was attributable to preparations for the national elections, coupled with the receipt of 1,315 items of redundant non-expendable property from other missions.

122. In response to a report of the Office of Internal Oversight Services (AH2005/513/03), the Logistics Support Division had developed and circulated guidelines on stock ratios, primarily for the purpose of identifying surplus assets in the Galileo system. Based on the generic ratios, the system identified at least 3,892 items as surplus, as shown in table II.9.

123. The Board recommends that the Administration expedite the review of non-expendable property at all missions to ascertain the realistic quantities that should be held and take appropriate measures to redeploy surplus assets to other missions in need of them or to UNLB, or to dispose of them.

124. The Department of Field Support explained that it was committed to presenting the above results for review by the Galileo Change Management Board and to continuously monitoring the incidence of surplus assets at field missions. In addition, the Department had issued guidelines in July 2006 to all missions to develop stock ratios for the management of non-expendable property. This was supplemented with a directive on property control and accountability issued in January 2008, which spelled out the actions to be taken in regard to surplus assets.

Write-offs and disposal

125. In accordance with financial rules 105.20 and 105.21, the Headquarters Property Survey Board and a Local Property Survey Board at every mission fielded by the Department of Peacekeeping Operations have been established. Both boards function similarly, depending on the delegation or the limits of their authority. The Under-Secretary-General for Management establishes the composition and the terms of reference of the boards, which include determining: (a) the cause of a loss, damage or discrepancy; (b) the required disposal actions; and (c) the degree of responsibility, if any, attached to any official of the United Nations or other party for such loss, damage or discrepancy.

126. In its previous report, the Board had noted that the Headquarters Property Survey Board had a backlog of at least 400 cases and had recommended that the Administration expedite the approval of write-offs and disposals of non-expendable property that met the criteria for such action.

- 127. The Administration commented that the implementation of the recommendation was in progress and indicated that, during 2007, nine missions had met the target of writing off assets that were pending at the end of 2006. In an effort to further enhance the speedy write-off and disposal process, the Department of Peacekeeping Operations had written to the Controller requesting permission for an increase in the mission level threshold. This would empower missions to write off more assets locally, resulting in a decrease in the number of cases referred to United Nations Headquarters. At the time of reporting, the Controller was reviewing the request.
- 128. During the current audit, the Board had noted that the Local Property Survey Board and the Headquarters Property Survey Board had not acted promptly on some cases brought to their attention. Those delays would result in additional storage costs, a decline in value due to exposure to the elements as well as obsolescence, and a risk of loss due to theft. These are detailed below:
- (a) At MINURSO, the Local Property Survey Board was able to render decisions on only 41 cases for the period from 1 July 2006 to 30 June 2007. As at 30 June 2007, 1,341 items of property recommended for write-off were pending with the Board;
- (b) At UNMIS, the Local Property Survey Board had not met regularly to decide on the disposal of various items of property valued at $0.52 million;
- (c) At UNIFIL, the inventory report at the end of the financial year disclosed that 613 items of non-expendable property worth $2.12 million were still pending write-off. Of this total, 388 items amounting to $1.10 million, or 52 per cent, had been approved for write-off but were pending disposal. The Supervisor of the Claims Unit stated that of the remaining 225 items of non-expendable property pending approval for write-off, 13 items valued at $0.48 million were pending with the Headquarters Property Survey Board;
- (d) At UNMIK as at 12 July 2007, 33 cases for the write-off of items valued at $1.15 million were awaiting approval by the Headquarters Property Survey Board, while at UNOCI, of the 56 cases of vehicles pending write-off, 24 had been the subject of action by the Local Property Survey Board since 2005.
- 129. The Board reiterates its previous recommendation that the Department of Field Support and the Department of Management, respectively, ensure that the Local Property Survey Board and the Headquarters Property Survey Board expedite all cases that are brought to their attention, particularly in regard to assets that are pending write-off.
- 130. The Administration commented that during the last quarter of 2007, a substantial volume of resources had been applied to the work of the Headquarters Committee on Contracts on Darfur-related matters, resulting in a delay in liquidating the backlog of cases before the Headquarters Property Survey Board. The number of members and chairs of the Board had since been increased, and it was expected that the backlog of cases would be cleared by July 2008. The Department of Field Support issued a directive in January 2008 reminding missions to ensure that the Local Property Survey Board meet on a regular basis in order to avoid unnecessary backlogs.

131. At UNDOF, a review of 52 reports referred to the Local Property Survey Board during the financial year showed that category A cases included expendable property which had an inventory value of less than $1,500 and which therefore should have been classified under category AW. Although the Local Property Survey Board had been able to review the cases expeditiously, the Board of Auditors expresses its concern that such a practice puts to risk the control mechanism for write-offs, since classifying assets under category AW gives authority to the Head of Mission to make a final decision on the write-off without review by the Local Property Survey Board.

132. The Board recommends that UNDOF strictly classify cases for write-off according to the category stipulated.

- 133. The Department of Field Support commented that, in principle, it concurred with the recommendation but stated that with the implementation of the Galileo write-off disposal module, all cases for write-off were recorded in that system. The system's set-up did not allow for wrong classification, thus eliminating errors in the reports that it generated.
- 134. At MONUC, delays were noted in the disposal process, ranging from 122 days (4 months) to 1,344 days (45 months) from the dates of approval of write-offs to the dates of the actual disposal. Similarly, at UNMIL, 752 items valued at $0.93 million had been pending disposal for more than six months.

135. The Board recommends that MONUC and UNMIL identify the causes for the delays in the disposal of non-expendable property and take appropriate measures to expedite such disposal.

136. The Department of Field Support commented that the delays experienced at MONUC related mainly to vehicle disposal and were due to the difficulties encountered in identifying a suitable contractor for the disposal of scrap metal in the country. On the other hand, UNMIL had recently recruited an asset disposal assistant to augment the work of the Asset Disposal Unit, and destruction exercises had since been completed for 222 monitors and 192 computer notebooks. The remaining obsolete items were to be disposed of appropriately.

Physical verification and recording

- 137. The Administration had agreed with the Board's recommendation in its previous report that it ensure the proper custody, control, recording and disposal of non-expendable property. The Administration indicated that the Property Management Manual, containing detailed guidance on the management of property, had been issued and copies circulated to all missions on 8 January 2007.
- 138. The Board noted instances at various missions in which recording had not been done in accordance with paragraphs 5.30 and 5.31 of the Property Management Manual, which require the reconciliation of property records with the information derived from physical verification. These instances were as follows:
- (a) At UNMIL, of the 42,173 items of non-expendable assets, 7,781 (18.45 per cent) valued at $32.28 million had not been physically verified during 2006/07. Verification with Galileo had also revealed that the locations of several assets were not correctly reflected in the system. Furthermore, while the system showed that some assets were in stock, physical verification had disclosed that they were faulty and therefore could not be used;

- (b) At UNMIK, the Property Control and Inventory Unit could not locate 481 items of non-expendable property valued at $1.01 million. In addition, no verification was conducted of 2,570 items of non-expendable equipment valued at $4.35 million;
- (c) At MINUSTAH, there was an increase in the number of items of non-expendable property pending follow-up to determine whether they were in stock, in use or in locations other than those recorded in Galileo. This was an indication that physical verifications and reconciliation with the records had not been undertaken on a regular basis;
- (d) At UNMIT, data on non-expendable property generated from the Galileo inventory system were not reliable owing to numerous technical faults in the bandwidth and software system which had not become fully functional until January 2007. In addition, only 730 of the 13,829 items of non-expendable property, or 5.28 per cent, had been physically verified;
- (e) At UNFICYP, the description of items in the database did not match the actual description of assets in each inventory, while the physical existence of 1,061 items had yet to be established;
- (f) At MONUC, the report of the Property Control and Inventory Unit indicated that 818 items in use, valued at $4.85 million, could not be verified, while 512 items pending write-off, valued at $0.62 million, could not be found;
- (g) At UNOCI, 1,766 items of non-expendable property could not be located when a comparison was made between the physical count and the inventory records.
- 139. The Board reiterates its previous recommendations that the Administration ensure that: (a) periodic physical verifications of non-expendable property at the various missions are carried out; (b) discrepancies are promptly investigated; and (c) corrective action is taken to avoid a recurrence.
- 140. The Department of Field Support commented that: (a) UNMIL had developed key performance indicators and goals to facilitate monitoring of the monthly inspections carried out by the Property Control and Inventory Unit; (b) UNMIK had intensified its search for items that could not be located at the time of the audit; (c) the discrepancies at MINUSTAH had arisen from the large volume of strategic deployment stocks arriving during the Mission's start-up phase but a formal process for clearing the discrepancies has since been put in place; (d) a physical count of assets was under way at UNMIT and was scheduled to be completed during the second quarter of 2008; and (e) UNFYCIP had since issued an information circular stressing the requirements for proper recording of the movement or relocation of assets. The Department also indicated that it had since issued a directive requesting all missions to ensure that inventory checks are carried out and discrepancies are closely monitored.

12. Strategic deployment stocks

- 141. Strategic deployment stocks are material reserves intended to meet operational requirements for supporting the deployment of peacekeeping missions. In general, such stocks should consist of equipment that is new and has full service-life expectancy. To ensure that the stocks stored at UNLB are current and serviceable, the items are immediately transported to missions as and when needed. The receiving mission is to pay the replenishment cost of the stocks.
- 142. Table II.10 shows the movement of strategic deployment stocks during the financial period ended 30 June 2007.

Table II.10 Movement of strategic deployment stocks, 2006/07

Rotation

- 143. It was noted that no mechanism was in place to identify when items could no longer be used. As a result, at the time of the audit, 5,348 items from the engineering and transport sections were about to become obsolete. There was need therefore to rotate the use of the items to minimize risk of wastage. UNLB indicated that it continued to enforce the first-in-first-out issuance of items and to monitor the ageing of the inventory.
- 144. The Board recommends that the Administration enhance its existing Galileo inventory management system by instituting a trigger mechanism that would indicate when a strategic deployment stock item was about to become obsolete.
- 145. The Department of Field Support commented that enhancements to the Galileo strategic deployment stock replenishment module, which would incorporate the recommended functionality, were being developed and would be fully active by June 2009.

Strategic deployment stock inventory (vehicles)

- 146. The Board noted that the inventory of light and armoured vehicles represented 52 per cent (366 units available for issue over the 698 required) and 36 per cent (14 units available for issue over the 39 required) of the target composition of strategic deployment stocks.
- 147. The Administration commented that the policy directive for strategic deployment stocks, dated 27 January 2007, stipulated the establishment of maximum stock levels at 100 per cent of the requirements of one complex mission and one additional flyaway kit for deployment of the nucleus of a subsequent mission. The minimum stock level was specified as one flyaway kit. The Logistics Support Division reviewed and approved the composition of strategic deployment stocks in April 2007 and continuously monitored the stock levels to ensure that operational capability was retained at all times.

148. The inventory of light vehicles as at 16 November 2007 showed the authorized composition of 700 units (see Table II.11).

Table II.11
Inventory of light vehicles

Particulars	Quantity (units)
In stock	321
Under replenishment	224
Vehicles ready for shipment	25
To be replenished	130
Total	700

149. As can be noted, there was a shortfall of 130 vehicles. The Administration indicated that those vehicles would be replenished with the funds from the second rollover of $4 million to the financial year 2007/08, which was awaiting approval by the Controller. In the future, the Surface Transport Section and the Strategic Deployment Stocks Unit would benefit from a shared database (under development) which tracked electronically the status of equipment to ensure that the authorized composition was maintained. The Administration stated that, based on the experience and feedback from missions, the authorized level of armoured vehicles had been reduced from 39 to 14 in the revised composition of strategic deployment stocks for 2007.

13. Contingent-owned equipment

150. Peacekeeping logistic requirements, such as troops and equipment, are provided by Member States. Management of contingent-owned equipment comprises the determination of such requirements, the negotiation process to define the obligations of the parties as set out in the memorandum of understanding, the verification process to ensure that the equipment is suited to mission requirements and is in a sound operating condition, and reimbursement to contributing countries.

Operational readiness

151. United Nations verification and control procedures are intended to ensure that the terms of the memorandums of understanding between the United Nations and the contributors of troops and police are met by both parties at the outset and throughout the period agreed in the memorandums. Major equipment and self-sustainment standards are defined to ensure effective operational capability.

152. At UNOCI, the operational availability of deployed equipment was computed at an average 89 per cent. The shortfall was attributable to the non-deployment of some items of equipment indicated in the memorandum of understanding and their replacement with similar items, but of a lower operational capacity.

- 153. The Board recommends that the Administration ensure that troop-contributing countries adhere as far as possible to the requirements of the memorandums of understanding relating to the quality and standard of the equipment provided.
- 154. The Department of Field Support commented that additional measures had since been put in place to ensure compliance with memorandums of understanding. These included regular briefings on contingent-owned equipment and predeployment visits to troop-contributing countries. The Department also stated that the Administration could not guarantee that a Member State strictly adhered to the requirements of the memorandum of understanding and that reimbursements were made based on the physical verification of contingent-owned equipment.
- 155. At UNOMIG, both verification and periodic operational readiness reports were not signed by the contingent representative as required by the Contingent-owned Equipment Manual, while UNDOF did not periodically carry out operational readiness inspections.
- 156. At UNMIS, the Board's verification of the quarterly inspection reports, particularly in regard to the major equipment and self-sustainment items of troop-contributing countries for the period from 1 July 2006 to 31 March 2007, revealed that no dates of inspection had been indicated in the reports. Also, the Board noted that the reports for the quarter from April to June 2007 had not yet been submitted as at 27 August 2007, while the reports on the infantry battalion's major equipment and self-sustainment had been prepared only up to 31 May 2007. The Board was informed that the inspections for the quarter April to June 2007 were ongoing and that the reports had yet to be finalized, and that the delays in carrying out quarterly inspections of contingent-owned equipment would affect reimbursements to troop-contributing countries.
- 157. The Board recommends that the Department of Field Support ensure that UNOMIG, UNDOF and UNMIS: (a) conduct quarterly inspections of contingent-owned equipment in a timely manner so as to facilitate reimbursements to troop-contributing countries; and (b) require that all inspection reports at all times be signed by the duly designated contingent representatives.
- 158. The Department of Field Support commented that in respect of UNMIS, quarterly inspections had since been undertaken in a timely manner and the Mission management would ensure that the required verification reports were prepared and submitted to Headquarters in compliance with established procedures. It had also reminded all missions of their obligation to conduct quarterly inspections and to comply with the requirements of signing and dating all inspections reports.

14. Vehicle fleet management

159. The effectiveness of peacekeeping operations is to a large extent dependant on mobility and effective vehicle fleet management is therefore a prerequisite. An important consideration relates to the quantity, quality, condition and types of vehicles available in relation to the condition of the roads and the types of terrain in the mission's operational area. Other factors include the driving ability of the users, vehicle maintenance, the availability of spare parts, the quality of the mechanics and the availability of workshops.

Replacement

160. As set out in the Standard Cost and Ratio Manual of the Department of Peacekeeping Operations, vehicles may be considered for replacement if they are six to seven years old or if the total distance travelled by the vehicle reaches 140,000 to 180,000 kilometres. In its previous report, the Board had noted that at certain missions, the aforementioned criteria had not been met for the replacement of vehicles and it had recommended that the Department of Peacekeeping Operations monitor maintenance costs, especially for older vehicles with high mileage, when considering replacements.

161. The Administration commented that the replacement criteria were minimum requirements and did not preclude the exercise of judgement based on individual circumstances. It stated that the Department of Peacekeeping Operations, in conjunction with the missions, was working towards replacing vehicles through the usual budget and acquisition process. Missions monitored the cost of maintaining and repairing vehicles through work order processing and subsequently assessed the remaining useful life expectancy of the vehicles in considering whether or not they should be replaced.

Vehicle ratios

162. At UNOCI, UNMIK and UNMIL, the ratio of vehicles to the staff complement did not conform to the standard ratios established under the Standard Cost and Ratio Manual. These ratios vary from one, in the case of Special Representatives of the Secretary-General, to 4.5 for international staff in the administrative sections. As at 30 June 2007, the Board noted that there were 301 vehicles in excess of requirements at UNMIK, while at UNOCI and UNMIL, actual ratios were below the standard ratios, indicating possible excess vehicles over requirements.

163. The Department of Field Support commented that the current critical status of UNMIK was such that operational effectiveness must take precedence over adherence to the standard ratios. The Department stated that in respect of UNMIL and UNOCI, staff members were deployed to various parts of the two countries and there was a requirement to travel between distant locations to perform duties. Also, in view of the exceptionally poor road conditions, especially in Liberia, there was a need to vary the application of the ratios.

CarLog system

164. In its previous report, the Board had noted deficiencies in the CarLog units attached to the missions' vehicles. Such deficiencies still persisted in the current audit of UNMIL and UNMIK, where the number of litres of fuel recorded in the CarLog system were more than the tank capacities of the vehicles. In addition, at UNMIL, inactive vehicles, as evident by the lack of distance travelled, were shown as having been refuelled during the period that they remained inactive.

165. The Board reiterates its previous recommendation that the Administration investigate the causes of the discrepancies and errors in reports generated by CarLog and implement measures to rectify them.

166. The Administration commented that UNMIL had carried out a thorough review of the process of accounting for fuel issued to its vehicles and noted that the cases referred to by the Board had resulted from errors in updating the information in the CarLog system to include the quantities of fuel issued to the four vehicles. The Administration stated that the Mission had since put in place a monthly monitoring system to ensure that errors in the CarLog system were promptly determined and corrected in a timely manner.

167. In respect of UNMIK, the Department of Field Support stated that most of the discrepancies were due to the inadequate infrastructure supporting the system and a lack of coordination between the Communications and Information Technology Service and the Transport Section. The Department also stated that UNMIK had since designed and implemented a new integrated software system (CERES) which would manage CarLog and FuelLog. That new system would be fully functional by November 2007.

Fuel management

168. The Fuel Operations Manual of the Department of Peacekeeping Operations considers fuel a commodity of high monetary value. Fuel represents a very large annual expenditure within the peacekeeping missions. As a lucrative commodity, the scope for misappropriation of fuel is considerable. It is therefore essential that the technical and safety aspects of fuel management be addressed, but of equal importance is the implementation of rigorous and consistent budgetary and monitoring procedures, coupled with a system of checks that is designed to identify and prevent fraud.

169. In the previous report for 2004/05, the Board had recommended that the Department of Peacekeeping Operations implement the mission electronic fuel accounting system in order to improve the monitoring of fuel consumption at peacekeeping missions and to detect fuel mismanagement and fraud. The Department informed the Board that the system had been implemented at six missions — UNMIL, ONUB, UNOCI, MONUC, UNMIS and UNIFIL — and that a fuel management system would be developed for application at all the missions.

170. In the current audit, the Board noted that the mission electronic fuel accounting system had not been fully implemented at UNIFIL. The briefing on the use of the system had been concluded in June 2007 and the initial implementation done in July 2007 in 3 of the 19 main contingent fuel locations of UNIFIL. On the other hand, the existing turnkey contract of UNOCI with its fuel supplier had prevented the use of the system, although the data generated from its current fuel accounting systems (database and CarLog) were not reliable.

171. The Board recommends that the Administration take measures to: (a) implement the mission electronic fuel accounting system in full at all UNIFIL stations to enhance controls over fuel consumption; and (b) improve the reliability of the fuel consumption records of UNOCI.

172. The Department of Field Support commented that at UNIFIL, the system had since been implemented at 10 of 19 locations, while at UNOCI the electronic software had since been acquired and would be installed during the 2007/08 financial period.

Receipt and inspection

173. At UNMIT, bulk deliveries of petroleum products from two suppliers were neither inspected nor the corresponding receipt and inspection reports prepared at the time of delivery, as required by the Procurement Manual. The receipt and inspection reports were subsequently prepared from invoices.

174. The Board recommends that UNMIT ensure strict compliance with the Procurement Manual in relation to the receipt and inspection of petroleum products.

175. The Administration commented that the staffing level had improved in November 2007, receipt and inspection activities had since resumed and the related reports were being prepared at the time of delivery.

Issuances

176. At UNFICYP, a comparison of the entries in the trip tickets against the fuel receipts for August and September 2006 for sectors 1, 2 and 4 revealed that 449 litres of diesel had been withdrawn with fuel receipts but had not been reported in the trip tickets. Similarly, fuel consumption of 10,479 litres of diesel and 819 litres of unleaded petrol had been reflected in the trip tickets but were not supported with the corresponding fuel receipts. In addition, despite the existence of CarLog devices and the maintenance of fuel cards by the operators for the period from October to December 2006, differences of 2,641 litres of diesel consumed and 66,896 kilometres on distance travelled were noted between the fuel and mileage reports of the Transport Unit and the supporting trip tickets and speedometer readings.

177. At UNMIT, there was no evidence of reconciliation of the receipt and issuance of fuel with the records of the suppliers. In addition, periodic physical inventories of fuel had not been undertaken and no regular inspections of the suppliers' facilities had been carried out.

178. The Board recommends that the Administration take appropriate measures to improve accountability for fuel consumption at UNFICYP and UNMIT.

179. The Department of Field Support commented that UNFICYP would be instructed to review its fuel reports and take action on identified discrepancies, and that the Mission has advised that it would continue to make every effort to strengthen the fuel management system. In addition, UNMIT had since introduced adequate controls over the movement of fuel.

15. Procurement and contract management

180. Goods and services are procured to support peacekeeping operations. Procurement functions include all actions necessary for the acquisition, by purchase or lease, of property, including products and real property, and of services, including works. Procurement actions include identifying a need, specifying the requirements to fulfil the needs, identifying potential suppliers, soliciting bids and proposals, evaluating bids and proposals, awarding contracts and purchase orders, tracking progress and ensuring suppliers' compliance, accepting and inspecting delivery, paying the suppliers and managing the assets procured or service contracted.

Systems contracts

181. Systems contracts are used for the products and services required on a recurring basis and for an extended period of time, usually not to exceed five years. Such an arrangement allows the requisitioner to draw the required products and services on a when and as required basis, without soliciting bids each time, and significantly reduces the duration of the procurement cycle.

182. During the period from 1 July 2006 to 30 June 2007, there were 202 active systems contracts for peacekeeping operations, with the not-to-exceed amount aggregating to $2.91 billion. Table II.12 shows the active system contracts per country.

Procurement lead time

- 183. Goods and services not delivered on time may result in the delayed delivery of mission mandates and could pose threats to life and property. The following observations were made in relation to the lead times between the approval of requisitions and the issuance of the related purchase orders:
- (a) At UNOCI, 497 purchase orders had been issued after 90 days of the approval of the related requisitions, 224 of which had been issued between 120 and 180 days after the date of approval while 156 had been issued between 181 and 270 days after;
- (b) At UNMIL, 4 purchase orders had been issued between 91 and 194 days after the approval of the related requisitions, while at MONUC, 246 purchase orders had been issued between 91 and 360 days after approval.
- 184. The Board recommends that the Administration, in conjunction with UNOCI, UNMIL and MONUC, identify the causes for delays in the issuance of purchase orders and adopt measures to ensure that all purchase orders are issued within a reasonable time after the approval of the related requisitions.
- 185. The Department of Field Support commented that MONUC was in the process of recruiting a staff member experienced in information technology to assist in creating systems and reports that would require continual monitoring of compliance within established procurement timelines. This would enable management to establish baselines, obtain separate timeline reports and perform statistical modelling to identify anomalies.
- 186. In relation to UNMIL, the Department of Field Support commented that the delays in the cases cited were largely due to unforeseen circumstances arising from either unsuccessful solicitations or failed delivery and that the mission monitors its procurement lead times through the weekly expediting and tracking sheet.
- 187. The Department of Field Support further stated that UNOCI had since identified factors contributing to the delays in the issuance of purchase orders and had organized a training workshop in January 2008 for procurement staff, requisitioners and members of the Local Committee on Contracts.

Contracts and letters of intent

- 188. At MINUSTAH, the Procurement Section had agreed to execute a contract for the supply of aviation fuel by 30 June 2007. However, this was not done. As a result, the existing contract was extended from 1 July to 31 December 2007 or until such time as the new contract was executed.
- 189. The Department of Field Support informed the Board that the Procurement Service had been engaged in direct negotiations with the sole aviation fuel provider. However, owing to the lack of a competitor, the negotiations, which included the provision of an agreed price structure, had taken longer than anticipated. The Procurement Service had since concluded the negotiations and was in the process of presenting the case to the Headquarters Committee on Contracts for review.
- 190. Also at MINUSTAH, at the time of the audit in August 2007, a contract for the provision of ground fuel had not been entered into since the expiry of the previous contract in April 2007. The records of the Local Committee on Contracts indicated that the arrangement with the vendor had been extended from 1 May to 31 December 2007.
- 191. The Administration commented that the fuel requirements of MINUSTAH were part of the global bidding currently in progress and that the Procurement Service was in the process of finalizing a flash bid for ground fuel. The results of the bid would be presented to the Headquarters Committee on Contracts for review, following which the Procurement Service would establish a contract.
- 192. The Board recommends that MINUSTAH, in collaboration with the Procurement Service, expedite the finalization of contracts in relation to the supply of fuel.
- 193. The Administration commented that the Office of Legal Affairs and the Legal Section of MINUSTAH were engaged in preparing the draft contract for aviation fuel. In respect of ground fuel, the Procurement Service was in the process of preparing presentations to the Headquarters Committee on Contracts and a short-term contract was being considered as an interim arrangement.

Delegation of authority

- 194. At UNMEE, the Procurement Assistant, whose delegated authority in the absence of the Chief Procurement Officer was only for amounts of $7,500 or less, had approved the amended contracts for the rental of warehouses in the sum of $0.81 million, as well as a contract for the lease of land in the sum of $0.41 million.
- 195. The Administration agreed with the Board's recommendation that UNMEE strictly adhere to the requirements of the Procurement Manual in regard to the delegation of authority.
- 196. The Department of Field Support commented that the two contracts had since been retrospectively approved and appropriate measures implemented to ensure full compliance with established procedures.
- 197. In accordance with the United Nations general conditions of contract, a contractor is required to effect insurance coverage for the property and equipment to be used in the execution of the contract. However, at UNFICYP, two instances were noted in which copies of insurance contracts had not been not provided. UNFICYP commented that insurance documents were only requested on a per need basis. The Board is, however, of the view that there should be documentary evidence of insurance coverage by contractors in order to protect the Organization from possible liability.

198. The Administration agreed with the Board's recommendation that UNFICYP ensure that copies of insurance policies covering the property and equipment used by contractors are obtained and filed with the related contracts.

Vendor performance and liquidated damages

- 199. In its previous report, the Board had expressed concerns about the absence of performance bonds from contractors. The Administration had indicated in its response that the relevant section of the Procurement Manual would be revised in 2007 to provide detailed guidance on the matter.
- 200. At MONUC, performance bonds had not been obtained in eight cases reviewed. In addition, the Mission was considering legal action to recover an advance payment amounting to $0.939 million, since the performance bond executed had been for an amount of $0.278 million and had expired in December 2005.
- 201. At MINUSTAH, owing to the absence of competition, a vendor's contract had been extended despite unsatisfactory performance, while at UNIFIL there had been delays ranging from 11 to 67 days in the execution of 15 contracts. However, the requirement for liquidated damages had not been enforced.
- 202. At MINURSO, two contracts valued at $369,142 did not provide for liquidated damages, while one contract did not have a performance bond although the value of the contract exceeded $100,000.
- 203. The Board recommends that the Administration ensure that, when executing contracts, all missions adhere strictly to the requirements of the Procurement Manual in respect of performance bonds and liquidated damages.
- 204. The Department of Field Support commented that the decision to require a performance bond should be based on factors such as the contractor's reputation and experience, and the cost of the bond should be weighted against the perceived potential risk to the Organization should the contractor fail to execute the contract satisfactorily. It was, nevertheless, committed to continuously reviewing individual cases and incorporated a liquidated damages clause into contracts with timesensitive requirements.
- 205. In respect of MONUC, the Department of Field Support stated that the Mission would include a clause on performance bond in all new service contracts when the re-bidding of major contracts commenced in 2008. The Mission would also keep details on the performance bonds in a register to facilitate their effective monitoring. The Department indicated that it might not be prudent to attempt renegotiating existing contracts that did not have performance bonds at the present stage, and that it would follow up with MONUC to determine the status of the recovery of the advance payment.

Vendor performance reports

- 206. In its previous report, the Board had recommended that the Department monitor the submission of vendor performance evaluation to the Procurement Service. The Administration had indicated that the Web portal through which missions provide their evaluation reports was fully operational.
- 207. During the current audit, the Board noted a number of deficiencies in relation to the completion of vendor performance reports, as follows:
- (a) At UNMIS, performance reports had been completed on the six vendors sampled, although the records indicated that deliveries had yet to be done, thereby rendering such reports unreliable;
- (b) At UNIFIL, 10 instances were noted in which the performance of vendors had not been evaluated on a regular basis;
- (c) At UNLB, based on sample tests carried out, performance ratings of vendors had been limited to: (a) goods and services over $50,000; (b) shipments; (c) training courses; (d) engineering projects; and (e) the period prior to the renewal or extension of the existing contract. The Procurement Manual, however, requires that the performance of all contractors, without exception, be evaluated to determine their ability to comply satisfactorily with future contractual obligations;
- (d) At UNFICYP, no regular monitoring of the performance of six local vendors with multiple contracts had been indicated in the database. The fields in the database pertaining to rating, bank details, type of business and miscellaneous data had also not been completed.
- 208. The Board recommends that the Administration take steps to ensure that all missions strictly comply with the requirements of the Procurement Manual dealing with the evaluation of vendor performance.
- 209. The Department of Field Support commented that UNMIS and UNFICYP would monitor compliance with established procedures in relation to vendor performance ratings, while UNLB would be reminded to enforce vendor performance evaluations.
- 210. At UNMIK, the Board had previously recommended that the Administration develop guidelines for the registration of local vendors in consultation with the Mission. However, a review of 29 suppliers in the roster indicated that this had not been done.
- 211. The Board reiterates its previous recommendation that the Administration expedite the issuance of guidelines for the registration of local vendors, in consultation with the missions.
- 212. Vendor databases must be reviewed and updated periodically to ensure that the Organization is in receipt of the most recent financial and economic information on vendors. At UNIFIL, however, based on a review of the files of 10 vendors, this had not been done. In addition, there was an accumulation of temporary vendors in the database since they remained in the system beyond the three-month time frame.
- 213. At UNOCI, vendor data were not entered in the Mercury database until after the invoices had been processed at the Finance Unit. In addition, for the period under review, 2,152 vendors with temporary status were entered into the system.

08-26075 55

This migration to full vendor status was due to a lack of action on the matter by the local board.

- 214. The Administration agreed with the Board's recommendation that the management of UNIFIL take the necessary measures to ensure that the vendor database is periodically updated.
- 215. The Board also recommends that the management of both UNIFIL and UNOCI ensure strict compliance with the requirement relating to temporary vendors.
- 216. The Department of Field Support commented that UNIFIL had since circulated re-registration letters to all vendors registered in its database prior to 31 December 2004. UNOCI was also in the process of reviewing the roster of temporary vendors to ensure that only those which met the criteria would be maintained in its database.

Procurement staff and filing system

- 217. At MONUC, the vacancy rate in the Procurement Section was 27 per cent of the authorized strength as at 30 June 2007, compared to 18 per cent as at 30 June 2006. It was noted that inadequate staffing would compromise the Mission's capability to receive cost-effective and timely supply of goods and services. It was also noted that staff members had not been periodically rotated in order to prevent possible collusion with vendors. Some staff members had remained in the same position for more than seven years. In addition, the required filing system and retention policy regarding supporting documentation had not been observed. Ten recruitment files had also not been presented for audit.
- 218. The Board recommends that the management of MONUC take measures to: (a) fill all vacant posts in the Procurement Section; (b) implement a rotation plan for all procurement staff; and (c) improve the documentation and filing system.
- 219. The Department of Field Support commented that the Mission was in the process of filling all the vacant positions. In addition, MONUC had conducted a risk assessment that indicated the need to rotate procurement staff after four years and the Department envisaged the transfer of staff from other missions to fulfil that requirement.
- 220. At UNMIL, the procurement system (Mercury) reflected all purchase orders, together with the most recent purchase order amendment dates. The historical data that would enable extracts to be used as management tools were not available on the reporting system.
- 221. The Department of Field Support commented that UNMIL had submitted a request for the enhancements to the Mercury system in November 2007 to the UNLB Help Desk, which was responsible for processing software enhancements to the system. The Help Desk had since submitted its proposals to the Mercury Change Management Board for review and approval.
- 222. At UNOCI, the position of head of the Procurement Unit had been vacant since November 2006. The continued delay in the filling of this vacancy is likely to have an adverse effect on the quality of the procurement services rendered to the Mission. The Department of Field Support commented that this position had since been filled with effect from 4 January 2008.

Review by the Headquarters Committee on Contracts

- 223. In its previous report, the Board had recommended that the Administration monitor ex post facto submission to the Headquarters Committee on Contracts by MINUSTAH and UNOCI to ensure adequate justification and accountability for delays.
- 224. During the current audit, the Board noted that at MINUSTAH, five cases submitted to the Procurement Service for review and subsequent submission to the Headquarters Committee on Contracts, had remained outstanding for an average of 852 days.
- 225. The Administration commented that MINUSTAH had implemented procedures for monitoring ex post facto cases submitted to Headquarters and had been following up regularly on all pending cases with a view to regularizing them as soon as possible. In addition, of the five listed cases, four had since been reviewed by the Headquarters Committee on Contracts.

16. Rations management

- 226. The effective management of rations ensures that United Nations peacekeepers receive sufficient rations of an appropriate quality for three meals per day. This includes planning, organizing and controlling the operations from initial requisition to final payment to suppliers, as well as accurate and reliable record keeping and filing.
- 227. For the period under review, 11 active rations system contracts were in place, involving two contractors. However, at the time of the audit in October 2007, four contracts relating to one supplier remained unsigned.
- 228. In its previous reports, the Board had noted various issues in the management of rations that needed to be addressed. The Administration had indicated that it had developed a number of initiatives to ensure the proper management of rations, including a rations management system which was to have been implemented in June 2006. This would have allowed for better and timely oversight of the rations supply chain, tracking contingent and contractor stocks, and identifying and resolving problems more quickly. The new system would also have freed staff to conduct frequent evaluations of contractors' performance and deliveries, packaging, storage and temperature control of rations. The Board, however, noted that as of October 2007, the rations management system had not yet been implemented.
- 229. The Board recommends that the Administration expedite the implementation of a rations management system to ensure the proper management and administration of rations.
- 230. The Department of Field Support commented that the Procurement Service had since issued a request for proposal for the provision of rations management software, that a technical review had been completed, and that a demonstration by vendors was to take place in March 2008.
- 231. At UNDOF, there was no Rations Contractor Administrator, and the management of rations was undertaken by a Staff Officer (Food) and a Rations Clerk, both of whom had other responsibilities. As a result, some functions that were vital to rations management were not undertaken. The Administration stated that this was due to budgetary constraints.

232. The Board recommends that UNDOF take appropriate measures to ensure that funding is available to facilitate the recruitment of a Rations Contracts Administrator.

Storage of rations

- 233. At MONUC, adequate records had not been maintained to track, on a daily basis, the temperature of rations kept in storage by military contingents, as required by paragraph 2.9.79 of the Operations Support Manual and paragraph 98 of the Mission's standard operating procedures. This monitoring is necessary to ensure that rations are stored at the prescribed temperature.
- 234. The Board recommends that MONUC, in conjunction with military contingents and formed police units, ensure that: (a) daily checks are made to ensure that rations are stored at the required temperature; and (b) adequate records are maintained of such daily checks.
- 235. MONUC commented that military contingents and formed police units were responsible for the provision and maintenance of cold storage facilities under their respective contingent-owned equipment arrangements and that the Rations Unit staff or the Military Supply Officer carried out inspections on a regular basis. MONUC stated that the requirement for daily checking of temperature and the related record keeping had since been reiterated to the contingent commanders during the monthly meeting convened by the Force Commander and during the food conferences held in Kinshasa and Bukavu in October 2007.
- 236. At UNMIL and MINUSTAH, ration packs had not been stored at the prescribed temperature; as a result, there was spoilage of at least 128,710 ration packs valued at $0.913 million as at 6 September 2007 for UNMIL and 13,527 ration packs valued at $0.110 million as at 15 August 2007 for MINUSTAH. In addition, at MINUSTAH, an inspection carried out in one region on 24 August 2007 disclosed that 32 boxes of emergency ration packs had been stored in the office of the Chief Logistic Operations because there was no fully functional temperature-controlled storage facility available for use.
- 237. The Board recommends that the Administration ensure that UNMIL and MINUSTAH take appropriate measures to ensure that rations are stored at the prescribed temperature in order to minimize spoilage.
- 238. The Administration commented that food rations were stored by contingents in reefer containers provided by their home countries as part of self-sustainment in catering. Contingents which did not have their own containers were supplied with the same through the rations contractor. The Administration stated that MINUSTAH was in the process of taking appropriate steps to provide temperature-controlled storage facilities for emergency ration packs at the regional headquarters and at all contingent locations. This was expected to be completed by February 2008. In the case of UNMIL, the Mission had since issued guidance for the proper management of the ration packs to all concerned parties.
- 239. At UNDOF, ration stocks were not properly managed at Camp Ziouani in Israel, as evidenced by the large quantity of spoiled and/or expired food at the time of the audit in September 2007. The Mission explained that the food had arrived in that state but no discrepancy report had been prepared and submitted to the rations contractor. Such a report is required to be filed within five days of the receipt of the goods. In addition, inspection of the warehouse at Camp Faouar disclosed that the structure and its premises were unsatisfactorily maintained. Unsanitary conditions were observed, as evidenced by the dilapidated structure in which food was stored, the defective freezer doors, and the presence of insects, birds, rodents and other pests in the storage area.

- 240. The Board recommends that the Administration ensure that UNDOF: (a) strictly comply with the requirement to report, within the specified period, discrepancies in the receipt of rations; and (b) improve the conditions in which rations are stored.
- 241. The Department of Field Support commented that the ration stores at Camp Ziouani had been cleared and reorganized in October 2007 and major maintenance work had been carried out in November 2007 to the existing warehouse at Camp Faouar, including the construction of a new one. It was expected these changes would improve the conditions in which the rations were stored.

Stock balances

- 242. At UNMIT, contingents did not submit the weekly reports of stock balances that would enable the Chief of Rations to monitor the supply of rations, while at UNOCI, the record keeping was unsatisfactory in respect of three military contingents.
- 243. The Board recommends that the management of UNMIT and of UNOCI, respectively, ensure that contingents submit weekly reports of stock balances and improve their record keeping for rations.
- 244. The Department of Field Support commented that UNMIT had since introduced, in August 2007, a weekly stock balance report that enabled the Chief of Rations to closely monitor and review rations stockholdings. In the case of UNOCI, the discrepancies had arisen during the transitional period from the former to the new contract and was related to the coding system for rations.
- 245. The administrative instructions for the emergency composite ration pack reserve require units to maintain a seven-day supply of United Nations composite ration packs as a reserve for emergency purposes. However, at UNMIL, an audit visit to Buchanan on 28 August 2007 disclosed that no emergency ration packs were in stock at one of the contingents.
- 246. The Department of Peacekeeping Operations agreed with the Board's recommendation that UNMIL plan and monitor the distribution of composite ration packs to ensure that all contingents maintain the minimum reserves.
- 247. UNMIL explained that all contingents were obliged to consume one pack per 28-day cycle and that contingents were provided with normal rations one week in advance. Since the packs provide an additional two-day supply, contingents would have had seven to nine days of reserve in stock. The contingent in question had received its packs from the food contractor on 31 August 2007, as scheduled.

17. Air operations

Aviation safety assistance visits and surveys

- 248. Aviation safety assistance visits and surveys are aimed at providing to the management of peacekeeping operations a detailed assessment of factors influencing aviation safety and form the basis for identifying the remedial action needed to enhance aviation safety and prevent accidents.
- 249. For the period under review, aviation safety personnel from United Nations Headquarters had conducted 16 of the required 25 surveys. However, 3 were repeat surveys conducted at UNOMIG, UNMIK and UNIOSIL. Therefore, 12 surveys had not been conducted as scheduled.
- 250. The Department of Field Support commented that the Aviation Safety Section did not have sufficient resources to meet the surge in the Organization's aviation activity and in many cases had to rely on self-regulation and feedback from the resident and regional aviation safety officers at the missions. With only four Professional officers and a limited travel budget, the ability of the Section to meet the visit schedules as stipulated in the Aviation Safety Manual was hindered. For 2007/08, the Section had been supplemented with an additional Professional staff member. This would boost the Section's ability to meet the statutory number of visits.
- 251. In relation to UNMEE, the Department commented that, for a prolonged period of time, the Government of Eritrea had exercised a restriction on the entry of citizens of countries in Europe and North America, which had hampered visits to the Mission. With the establishment of the Regional Aviation Safety Office at UNLB, two aviation safety officers, from Uruguay and India, would be conducting a visit to the Mission in February 2008.
- 252. As regards the missions that had repeat surveys, the Department of Field Support stated that the visits to UNMIK and UNOMIG had been related to the activities of the Regional Aviation Safety Office at UNLB and aimed at providing aviation safety oversight from these locations to UNLB. In addition, UNMIL and UNIOSIL were considered one regional air fleet, since the majority of the air assets had been transferred to UNMIL from neighbouring UNAMSIL. As such, the visit had been conducted in conjunction with the UNMIL visit.
- 253. The Board recommends that the Administration ensure that the Aviation Safety Section has adequate resources to ensure that it complies fully with the requirements of the Aviation Safety Manual in relation to aviation surveys and inspections.

Aviation safety standards

- 254. At MINUSTAH, contrary to United Nations aviation safety standards, meteorological information had not been available for each airport and firefighting equipment and personnel were inadequate. At the time of the audit in August 2007, the acquisition plan for meteorological equipment had not yet been finalized.
- 255. The Department of Field Support informed the Board that it had since procured and installed Weather Wizard, a weather tracking system which is linked to a Lotus Notes-based program that permits Air Operations to collect and evaluate basic weather information. In addition, military liaison officers had commenced training on the use of the weather stations in remote areas in which no aviation personnel were onsite. The Mission had also requested additional resources (personnel and equipment) in the 2008/09 budget to enhance the level of meteorological services. With regard to firefighting vehicles, orders had since been placed for three such vehicles.

- 256. The Board recommends that the Administration expedite the recruitment of personnel and the acquisition of meteorological equipment in order to minimize aviation safety risks and ensure compliance with both international and United Nations aviation safety standards.
- 257. Also at MINUSTAH, the budget proposal for specialized training in mission aviation safety had been significantly reduced, although the aviation safety assistance visits had highlighted this as a priority area.
- 258. The Administration agreed with the Board's recommendation to provide adequate funding to MINUSTAH for the specialized training of aviation staff members.
- 259. The Department of Field Support commented that adequate provision had since been made for the training requirements of MINUSTAH in the cost estimates for 2008/09 and that in its future budget proposals, the Mission would continue to adhere to policies and guidelines issued by United Nations Headquarters as regards training requirements.

Aircraft passengers

- 260. At UNIFIL, there was evidence that non-United Nations passengers had travelled on helicopter flights without the required approved flight requests and waivers of limited liability, thereby exposing the Organization to possible financial liability in the event of injury and death arising from such flights.
- 261. The Board reiterates its previous recommendation that UNIFIL strictly enforce the requirement relating to the approval of flight requests and waivers of limited liability whenever non-United Nations personnel are travelling on United Nations aircraft.
- 262. At MONUC, of the 1,142 passengers carried on the 15 return flights sampled, 341 had been recorded or classified as non-United Nations personnel. The Board is of the view that the number of flights might be reduced if restrictions were placed on non-United Nations personnel travelling on the Mission's aircraft. In addition, there was no effective mechanism in place for the partial or total recovery of costs in respect of non-United Nations personnel.
- 263. The Board recommends that MONUC: (a) carry out an analysis to determine the extent to which a restriction in the use of its aircraft by non-United Nations personnel is likely to result in a reduction in the number of flights; and (b) consider the possibility of charging a partial or total cost recovery fee for the use of United Nations aircraft by non-United Nations personnel.
- 264. MONUC commented that the new electronic movement of personnel (e-MOP) system, introduced in September 2007, would ensure that flights were utilized so as to optimize economy and efficiency, consistent with the Mission's mandate and the integrated mission concept. In addition, non-United Nations passengers were permitted to board Mission flights on a space available basis without the requirement for reimbursement when the primary purpose of the flight is in support of the Mission's mandate.

265. At UNMIL, for the period under review, the passenger average per flight was calculated at 45 per cent of seating capacity, a 2 per cent increase over the 2005/06 figure, while the average cargo carried on helicopters remained at 35 per cent of their capacity.

266. The Board recommends that UNMIL seek ways of improving aircraft utilization.

267. Management commented that owing to the nature of dead-leg flights, medical evacuation trips, and cargo and patrol operations, the true utilization performance of the air operations might not be accurately assessed and that the current nature and form of reporting and systems did not cater for an effective review of utilization. The Mission would nevertheless continue to conduct analyses to ensure the efficient utilization of aircraft.

Emergency response

268. At MONUC, emergency response plans for some airfields had not been updated. The failure to ensure that such plans were regularly updated is likely to compromise the Mission's capability to effectively respond to emergency situations.

269. MONUC informed the Board that the emergency response plans for Kinshasa had since been revised while those for the other regions were in the process of being updated.

270. MONUC agreed with the Board's recommendation to expedite the updating of all emergency response plans on a regular basis.

18. Information and communication technology

Security standards and procedures

271. Peacekeeping operations have greatly expanded and UNLB has become a global and strategic information and communication technology hub for United Nations Headquarters and the United Nations throughout the world. The information and communication technology system consists of 155 satellite communication links which monitor and coordinate the establishment and activities of all United Nations peacekeeping operations. It also acts as the main bridge for data communications, such as e-mail, telephone communications and videoconferencing sessions between all of the peacekeeping operations throughout the world and United Nations Headquarters. In addition, the system operates an enterprise data centre that hosts more than 400 servers and associated software applications for United Nations operations. Further, the system acts as a disaster recovery and business continuity centre by backing up all United Nations peacekeeping mission data in addition to hosting all global software systems.

272. The functions dedicated to the development and enforcement of information and communication technology standards and procedures have not been established, although UNLB had requested funding to do so in its 2007/08 budget. UNLB indicated that it had reiterated the request in the 2008/09 budget.

- 273. The complexity and scope of operations at UNLB are crucial to peacekeeping efforts, and the information and communication technology operational management should ensure that there is no interruption of the services and that infrastructure is maintained at all times. Poor tactical or operational decisions would negatively impact all peacekeeping and many other operations throughout the world. Failure to provide the necessary services, or any interruption of service, could compromise or jeopardize peacekeeping activities.
- 274. The Board recommends that UNLB, in conjunction with United Nations Headquarters, expedite the establishment of a function dedicated to the development and enforcement of information and communication technology security standards and procedures.

Business continuity plan

- 275. At MONUC, the Mission's specific business continuity, or disaster recovery, plan was still being formulated. The absence of properly documented, communicated and tested plans is likely to compromise the ability of users to recover from major system disasters. In addition, the Mission had no policy or documented procedures in place with regard to the change management policy. There was therefore no assurance that there would be ease of transition when there were changes to applications or version control systems.
- 276. MONUC indicated that data backup at its disaster recovery and business continuity site at UNLB and was conducted in accordance with the Mission's standard operating procedures and the disaster recovery and business continuity policy of the Department of Field Support. In addition, the Communications and Information Technology Service at MONUC was working on completing the intheatre site at Entebbe, using the aforementioned policy as the template. The Administration also informed the Board that the change management policy had since been approved for implementation.
- 277. The Board recommends that MONUC: (a) formally document and implement a specific disaster recovery plan; and (b) implement the change management policy.

Governance structure

- 278. At UNMIL, information and communication technology governance structures were not in place although all missions had been advised since 2005 that such a structure should be established to provide a uniform approach to development, maintenance, system support and training. This issue had also been raised by the Office of Internal Oversight Services in April 2007.
- 279. The Administration indicated that UNMIL had increased the scope of the Information and Communication Technology Review Committee to include the review of governance issues and that, at the next meeting of the Committee in January 2008 the Mission's projects relating to information and communication technology would be discussed. The Mission had also requested funding in the 2008/09 budget for a consultant to develop and implement a business continuity plan. In addition, the Mission had begun a crisis management actions project, the first phase of which would be to catalogue required responses to various potential emergencies. The second phase would be to identify the critical core business processes that must be continued during an emergency. Those two phases would be completed in January and June 2008, respectively.

280. The Board recommends that UNMIL: (a) convene regular meetings of the Information and Communication Technology Review Committee and increase the scope of the Committee to include overall governance of information and communication technology; and (b) prepare a business continuity plan.

Access controls

- 281. At MONUC, password and logical access controls for the Windows operating system, the Sun system (financial applications) and the Galileo system (asset management applications) had not been strictly observed and there was therefore the risk of unauthorized access.
- 282. The Department of Field Support commented that once the operating system time logout was in place, there was no need for additional applications for time logout and that the Mission had informed its personnel of the procedures for automatically locking computers on a time-out duration. The Department had also revised the Galileo automatic logout.
- 283. The Board recommends that MONUC implement best practice as regards password and logical access controls by ensuring that passwords are alphanumeric.

19. Human resources management

Human resources plan

- 284. At MONUC, UNMIL, UNMIK, MINUSTAH and UNOCI, human resources plans, including succession planning, were not yet in place. The absence of a plan had been raised in the previous audit and the Administration had agreed to develop and implement comprehensive human resources plans.
- 285. The Board reiterates its previous recommendation that missions, in conjunction with headquarters, develop and implement comprehensive human resources plans, as well as succession plans, to enable them to attract and retain suitably qualified and trained personnel.

286. The Department of Field Support indicated that the implementation of a human resources plan must be considered in the broader context of the introduction of human resources action plans at all field missions. The human resources action plan concept and its framework had been endorsed by both the Office of Human Resources Management and the expanded senior management team of the Department of Peacekeeping Operations and the Department of Field Support. The Department of Field Support stated that a pilot project would be implemented at five missions (MINUSTAH, UNMIL, UNMIS, UNMIT and UNAMA) and that it was in the process of developing information technology-based human resources management tools for data compilation, which would assist the pilot missions in meeting the objectives of the human resources action plan. Following a review of lessons learned during the pilot implementation of the plans at those five missions, the project would be rolled out to all missions, effective July 2008 for missions funded from special assessed contributions and January 2009 for missions funded from the regular budget.

Vacancy rates

287. The overall objectives of the recruitment policy of the Department of Peacekeeping Operations is to provide field missions with the right person for the right post at the right time and to attract and retain the best qualified and experienced candidate. The recruitment process is therefore guided by the need to select staff on the basis of merit, demonstrated competencies and performance, through a competitive and transparent process for the purpose of securing the highest standards of efficiency, competence and integrity, with due regard to geographical considerations and gender distribution.

288. The Board's recommendation for a continuous effort to fill vacant posts in a timely manner still holds true for the current audit since the vacancy rates noted at missions were beyond the established results-based budgeting vacancy rate of 20 per cent for start-up missions and 15 per cent for stable missions. The failure to address the vacancy rate, especially in critical positions, might result in undue pressure being placed on existing staff, resulting in high staff turnover rate and in errors that might go undetected.

289. At UNMIT, the registered average vacancy rates for international, national and United Nations Volunteers were 35, 18 and 13 per cent, respectively, as at 30 June 2007. A publication of vacancies to address the situation had last been issued in April 2007. However, it had excluded some vacant positions for international staff in the Supply Section and the Fuel Cell, which had vacancy rates ranging from 31 to 100 per cent.

290. At MONUC, the overall vacancy rate as at 30 June 2007 was 9 per cent. However, vacancy rates in excess of 10 per cent existed for various categories of personnel. The Board also noted that there had been delays in filling posts, ranging from 6 to 16 months from the date of advertisement to the approval of appointment. This exceeded the time frame of 60 to 110 days proposed in the report of the Secretary-General on human resources management reform (A/55/253 and Corr.1).

291. The vacancy rates at UNMIL as at 30 June 2007 for posts at the senior and middle management levels were 18 and 15 per cent, respectively. Some of the positions had been vacant for more than six months.

292. At MINUSTAH, the vacancy rate at the Professional level was 16.4 per cent as at 30 June 2007, while at UNOCI, vacancy rates for international staff, local administrator and United Nations Volunteers were 16, 23 and 11 per cent, respectively.

293. The Board recommends that the Administration expedite the filling of vacancies at all missions.

294. The Department of Field Support commented that a human resources action plan was being developed to address the high vacancy rates at the missions. Missions had also been delegated authority and responsibility for filling vacancies. The Department stated that UNMIT was a start-up Mission and that filling the vacancies had depended upon approval of the final staffing table and adherence to the recruitment procedures.

Personnel records

295. At UNDOF, of a sample 20 personnel files, 8 had not been updated with changes to the salaries of employees. The failure to update the personnel records of employees can result in the incorrect computation of benefits, such as those relating to pension and after-service health insurance entitlements.

296. The Board recommends that UNDOF ensure that personnel files are always kept up-to-date.

297. The Department of Field Support commented that the Personnel Section had since updated the personnel action notification files of all staff members and would take steps to update those files when salary scales were revised.

Gender balance

298. The Board followed up the implementation of its previous recommendation on the improvement of gender balance and noted that the situation had yet to be fully addressed at UNMIL and MONUC.

299. At UNMIL, the gender balance of staff as at 30 June 2007 was not within the 50/50 ratio. In particular, the ratios of males to females in respect of international staff, national staff and United Nations Volunteers were 68:32, 80:20 and 67:33, respectively. A similar observation was made in respect of MONUC, where the overall the gender ratio was 72:28, with the senior management level showing a ratio of 81:19.

300. The missions explained that the gender equality objective had been constrained by the unavailability of candidates and the lack of authority over the initial screening, review and technical clearance process.

301. At UNOCI, although the gender balance had improved, women were still underrepresented. In addition, the recommended appointment of a focal point had not been implemented.

302. The Board recommends that the Administration continue to develop and implement strategies and targets in human resources plans with a view to achieving the 50/50 gender balance at all missions.

303. The Department of Field Support commented that annual realistic targets towards achieving the 50/50 gender balance had been included in the human resources action plan and various indicators established to achieve the target over a period of time. The Administration informed the Board that the Office of Human Resources Management was providing practical recommendations for the improvement of gender balance at the missions.

Electronic performance appraisal system

304. At MONUC, 9.6 per cent of the electronic performance appraisal system (e-PAS) submissions pertaining to regions 1 to 3, covering the period from 1 April 2006 to 31 March 2007, had not been finalized as at 31 August 2007. In addition, the e-PAS Performance Review Committee, which is required to review the consistency of the results of e-PAS among various sections, had not yet been established. Delays in the finalization of the e-PAS records are likely to result in staff not receiving the necessary feedback in relation to their performance.

- 305. The Board recommends that MONUC: (a) adhere to the deadlines set for the submission and finalization of performance appraisals by all staff members; and (b) establish a management review committee in compliance with the requirements of the Human Resources Handbook.
- 306. The Department of Field Support informed the Board that MONUC had since established a management review committee which would commence its work at the beginning of the next e-PAS cycle and that the Field Personnel Division would closely monitor compliance by MONUC through self-monitoring and the human resources action plan.

Training

- 307. At UNOCI, training had not been conducted on a regular basis for military observers, officers and police staff, while not all battalion commanders had received trainers' training on the prevention of sexual exploitation and abuse. The contingents attributed this to the lack of trainers and insufficient number of translators, given the dispersed location of contingents.
- 308. The Board recommends that UNOCI take the necessary measures to recruit trainers and translators in order to ensure that the required training of military contingents is undertaken.
- 309. The Department of Field Support commented that UNOCI had since applied the train-the-trainer approach and that training was being applied onsite. UNOCI had also implemented a database for monitoring attendance, and training certificates were being issued.

Procedure manual and handover notes

- 310. At UNMIL, there was no procedure manual that documented the policies and procedures relating to the budget process. Such policies and procedures include the assignment of responsibilities among personnel and offices, monthly, quarterly and annual timelines for the submission of budget information, the process flow for submission, the approval procedures, the adjustment procedures, and the review and variance analysis procedures. There also was no evidence of management processes being in place to identify and correct variances between actual and budgeted figures on a monthly basis.
- 311. In addition, the monthly expenditure and appropriation report compiled by the budget section and sent out on a monthly basis to the chiefs of all sections only provided information on changes to appropriations and the year-to-date expenditure. Therefore, under or overspending was not immediately identified since there were no comparisons on a month-to-month basis, or on current year-to-date expenditures compared with prior months or year-to-date expenditures.
- 312. The Department of Field Support agreed with the Board's recommendation that UNMIL: (a) implement a formal budget policy within the Mission; and (b) implement controls over monthly reporting to enable management to identify and explain material variances between actual and budgeted expenditure.
- 313. The Administration informed the Board that key performance indicators had since been established at UNMIL to assist in the monitoring of the budgetary expenditure. Two specific benchmarks in the key areas of unencumbered balance and percentage of budget expended had been identified and were under constant review by the Director of Administration and concerned section chiefs. UNMIL had also developed and circulated in December 2007 the standard operating procedures for the budget process.

- 314. At UNMIL, the best practices toolbox for handover notes for personnel leaving their positions or for those on leave of absence for more than four weeks had not been implemented.
- 315. The Board recommends that UNMIL implement the best practices toolbox for handover notes for staff members leaving the Mission permanently in order to assist their successors during the transition periods.
- 316. The Department of Field Support informed the Board that UNMIL had since issued an information circular, reminding staff members, especially those leaving the mission or moving from one section to another, that it was imperative that they prepare handover notes to assist their successors. The Department stated that the Mission management would monitor all handovers to ensure strict compliance with the provisions of the information circular.

20. Inter-agency coordination

- 317. At MONUC, there was no memorandum of understanding between the Mission and the other United Nations agencies for the use of common services for the purpose of ensuring cost recovery. Such common services include the supply of fuel, hotel accommodation, cafeterias, transportation, post exchange and security.
- 318. The Board recommends that MONUC explore the possibility of having a cost-recovery system in place for common services involving other United Nations agencies and arrange for the necessary memorandum of understanding to be prepared and signed by all concerned parties.
- 319. The Department of Field Support commented that the workplan for the 2007 United Nations country team contained a section on the preparation of memorandums of understanding on common services. The Operations Management Team, which was jointly chaired by UNDP and MONUC, had since been given responsibility for preparing the memorandums. A joint logistics task force, to be chaired by MONUC, would also be established during the first quarter of 2008 to oversee their implementation.

21. Integrated mission planning process

- 320. The United Nations integrated mission planning process, endorsed by the Secretary-General's Policy Committee in June 2006, provides for the periodic review of a mission's plan throughout the life of the mission. The objective is to ensure that the plan remains relevant and up to date and is harmonized with the broader United Nations objectives, planning and other processes. Ongoing activities also need to remain consistent with the overall strategic objectives contained in the mission plan.
- 321. The Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions stated that it looked forward to an assessment of the effectiveness of the integrated mission planning process guidelines by the Board once the guidelines had been in effect for a sufficient period of time (A/61/866, para. 321).

322. Inquiry on the status of the guidelines indicated that it had not yet been completed as it was expressed in general terms only. The Department of Peacekeeping Operations commented that it was, in consultation with its mission partners, formulating four sets of guidance notes, three of which were nearing completion and would be circulated to the principals of the partners for final review. Those notes provided more detailed information about activities and outputs that were measurable, the parties responsible and the resource requirements. The target date for completion was December 2007. Thereafter, integrated mission planning process training modules would be developed.

323. The Department of Peacekeeping Operations agreed with the Board's recommendation that it take steps to ensure that the integrated mission planning process guidelines are finalized and made fully operational as early as possible.

324. At UNMIS, inquiries revealed that it was only in August 2007 that the Strategic Planning Office had begun discussions with the Resident Coordinator's Office to develop an integrated plan for the United Nations in the Sudan. It should be emphasized that the integrated mission planning process is the authoritative basis, as well as the revision of existing mission plans, of all United Nations departments, offices, agencies, funds and programmes. The planning process also provides the means of identifying how the missions link together in the achievement of a common objective.

325. The Board recommends that UNMIS expedite the implementation of the integrated mission planning process.

326. UNMIS commented that the integrated mission planning process was expected to be finalized by December 2007, once the United Nations and partners workplan process had been completed. During the second half of 2007, UNMIS senior leadership had been formally engaged in the strategic planning process through the development of the strategic assessment, scenario planning and the strategic framework.

22. Quick-impact projects

327. Quick-impact projects are small-scale, rapidly implementable projects of benefit to the population. These projects are used by United Nations peacekeeping operations to establish and build confidence in the mission, its mandate and the peace process, thereby improving the environment for the effective implementation of mandates.

328. A policy directive issued by the Department of Peacekeeping Operations on 12 February 2007 requires that guidelines be developed to assist missions in the establishment of appropriate and effective mechanisms and procedures for the management of quick-impact projects. These guidelines are to outline a basic project implementation cycle which minimizes management procedures and administrative costs and facilitates a speedy process of project selection and implementation while ensuring good practice in project oversight.

- 329. Inquiry of the Peacekeeping Best Practices Section indicated that the guidelines were still in draft form. The Section explained that the guidance framework had been launched by the Department of Peacekeeping Operations in April 2006 and an extensive process of developing guidance and doctrine in support of peacekeeping operations had commenced. The Department's policy directive on quick-impact projects had been among the first to be developed as part of that initiative. However, owing to a very small staff complement, it was foreseen that the process would be completed, at the latest, by mid-2008.
- 330. The Board recommends that the Department of Peacekeeping Operations take steps to expedite the completion of the guidelines relating to quick-impact projects and ensure that they are implemented at all missions.
- 331. At UNOMIG, copies of the deliberations of the Local Review Committee on the project proposals for two quick-impact projects, one concerning legal and psychological advice on children's rights and advocacy and the other a human rights calendar containing children's drawings, could not be found in the case files. There were also no established procedures for the evaluation of the effectiveness of quick-impact projects. In particular, weekly monitoring reports had been prepared only with effect from January 2007 and did not contain the percentage of completion and the cost incurred to date for each project.
- 332. The Board recommends that UNOMIG improve its monitoring of quick-impact projects, as well as the related documentation and filing of the results of such monitoring.

Project implementation

- 333. At UNIFIL, of a sample of 24 projects, 13 had been reported as completed, 10 were ongoing and one had been cancelled owing to the release of funding by another donor. Discussions with the Office of Civil Affairs indicated that a number of projects that were considered critical to the local community but which were not covered by the quick-impact project criteria, had had to be undertaken. The Department of Field Support commented that the mission had since imposed tighter time limits on agencies to complete projects within the agreed time frames.
- 334. At MONUC, 78 of the 134, or 58 per cent, of quick-impact projects for the financial period 2006/07 had not been completed on time. Delays as at 31 August 2007 ranged from five to eight months. The Department of Field Support commented that the Mission would put in place a number of measures, including (a) providing all heads of office with a portfolio status report by the seventh day of each month; (b) requiring each head of office to hold a monthly meeting to review all ongoing quick-impact projects by the 15th of each month; and (c) forwarding the minutes of the monthly review meeting to the Quick-impact Projects Unit for tracking at mission level as regards compliance and for further follow-up by the Unit as needed.
- 335. A similar observation was made in respect of UNMIL, where 26 per cent of quick-impact projects had not been completed on time. In particular, delays in the completion of 10 projects ranged from two to nine months. In addition, physical inspections indicated substandard and incomplete work on two projects.
- 336. The Department of Field Support commented that UNMIL had since implemented a monitoring and tracking system that systematically oversaw the entire process of reviewing, selecting and administering approved projects. The system facilitated the identification and addressing of problems well before the end of the three months set for disbursement of the first instalment of project funds. Also, in cooperation with the Reintegration, Rehabilitation and Recovery Section, the UNMIL Force Commander had directed military observers to visit periodically ongoing quick-impact projects and report on the status of their implementation.

337. At UNOCI, 41 of 52 projects had been approved in June 2007, however, only 4 had been implemented as of September 2007. The Department of Field Support commented that the Quick-impact Project Board had since increased the frequency of its meetings and, as at 29 November 2007, funds for 2007/08 had been allocated to the various projects. The Department also commented that the standard operating procedures of the Board had been amended and its meetings would be held once or twice a month, depending on available resources and the number of project proposals to be processed.

338. The Board recommends that the Administration, in collaboration with the management at missions, develop strategies to ensure that: (a) quick-impact projects are completed within the agreed time frames; and (b) physical inspections are carried out periodically to ensure that the work undertaken is of an acceptable quality.

23. Resident auditors

339. Over the years there has been an increase in the number of missions where resident auditors are deployed, from 3 in 1998 to 13 in 2007. The Office of Internal Oversight Services deploys resident auditors using a ratio of one auditor to every $100 million of budgeted expenditure. The total complement as at 30 June 2006 was 56. The Office of Internal Oversight Services adopts a risk-based approach in the conduct of its audits.

340. The Board reviewed the work of the Office in relation to internal audit coverage of peacekeeping operations. The purpose of the review was to ascertain the extent to which reliance could be placed on its work.

341. The Office of Internal Oversight Services plans its audit activities on an annual basis. For 2006, of the 201 audits planned, only 86, or 43 per cent, had been undertaken and completed as at 31 December 2006, while 46 were ongoing. Table II.13 depicts the status of planned audits for 2006 and 2007 at the time of reporting.

Table II.13 Status of planned audits for 2006 and 2007

Year	Planned	Completed	Ongoing	Not started	Cancelled
2006	201	86	46	21	48
2007	217	61	83	11	62

342. The Office of Internal Oversight Services indicated that the audit plan is subject to a variety of unanticipated changes, such as the addition of audits at the request of legislative bodies and the various auditees, as well as special audits requested by the Head of the Office. Because of this, a number of audits had had to be cancelled while others had been delayed.

Audit activities

- 343. In its previous report, the Board had noted that vacancies in the Resident Audit Section had contributed to the non-execution of planned audits. During the audit period, the Board noted that the situation had not improved in respect of MONUC, UNMIL and MINUSTAH.
- 344. At MONUC, the vacancy rate as at 30 June 2007 was 33 per cent. As such, high-risk areas, such as the audit of information and communication technology and the equally important audit of the portfolio of evidence in respect of the performance report, had not been undertaken. The Office of Internal Oversight Services indicated that the audit of information and communication technology would be conducted in 2008.
- 345. At MINUSTAH, the audit plan for 2006 had been revised on 7 July 2006, with 4 of the 13 planned audits, or 30.7 per cent, carried forward to the 2007 audit and 4 other audits cancelled. For 2007, 5 of the 9 planned audits had yet to commence as at 31 August 2007. The Office of Internal Oversight Services explained that the audit requests received from senior management had resulted in changes to planned audit activities.
- 346. Also at MINUSTAH, the information contained in the tracking by the Office of the implementation of recommendations had not been updated at the time of the audit.
- 347. The Board recommends that the Office of Internal Oversight Services: (a) expedite the filling of all resident auditor posts to ensure effective internal audit coverage of all missions; (b) carefully monitor the workplans of the resident audit service to ensure that audits are executed and finalized in a timely manner; and (c) update on a regular basis its recommendations tracking system at MINUSTAH.

Results of audit

- 348. A review of the report of the Office of Internal Oversight Services on peacekeeping operations for the period from 1 July 2005 to 31 December 2006 (A/61/264 (Part II)), indicated deficiencies in internal control, several instances of integrity violations and mismanagement at some missions. There were also significant shortcomings in procurement management.
- 349. At MONUC, the Office of Internal Oversight Services reviewed the management of human resources during the period from August to November 2006. Several shortcomings had been noted, including:
- (a) There was no clear policy concerning advance leave, and the recording of leave;
- (b) There was a need to monitor and enforce controls over travel on duty within the Mission area in relation to the occasional recuperation break and annual leave;

- (c) Standard operating procedures at the Mission in regard to administration of entitlements were not in conformity with United Nations policies;
- (d) Personal trips to non-hazard areas were not accurately reported on the monthly attendance sheets;
- (e) There was a need to strengthen the monitoring of overtime by requiring attendance sheets and CarLog reports to be attached to overtime reports;
- (f) The National Staff Unit did not maintain a roster of suitable candidates, and personnel files of national staff members did not contain proof of testing, qualifications, experience and background checks;
- (g) There was a need to strengthen coordination and monitoring of the capabilities of the Training Unit.

24. Cases of fraud and presumptive fraud

- 350. In accordance with paragraph 6 (c) (i) of the annex to the Financial Rules and Regulations of the United Nations, the United Nations Controller reported to the Board 16 cases of fraud or presumptive fraud that occurred during the period under review, as follows:
- (a) At MINUSTAH, a staff member falsified records to conceal his personal use of the Mission's fuel valued at $1,335. The case was still ongoing but the Mission had recommended to the Office of Human Resources Management that the staff member be dismissed. In the meantime, said staff member had been reassigned to another function, the padlock of the vehicle dispensing point had been changed and the spare keys kept by the Regional Security Officer;
- (b) At MINUSTAH, there had been inadequate oversight in respect of aviation fuel operations, particularly in relation to record keeping. The deficiencies included adjusting meter totalizer records at the vehicle dispensing point and the drawing of fuel in containers. The amount involved was still unknown. Meanwhile, the official responsible had been transferred to Port-au-Prince where he would be under supervision until investigation of the case was completed;
- (c) Also at MINUSTAH, 40 national staff members had fraudulently used the telephone PIN codes of other staff members, involving costs of approximately $3,800. The fraud had been facilitated by the roaming feature of the telephones, which could be used from any extension at the Mission. The investigation was ongoing. In order to avoid a recurrence, the roaming PIN facility had been discontinued;
- (d) The billings of the ground fuel service provider for MINUSTAH had been found to be inaccurate and did not match the entries in the logsheets. There were also no fuel tickets, and fuel had been drawn by staff who no longer worked with the Mission. The amount involved was still unknown but no payments had been made on the disputed invoices. The Mission had since ceased doing business with the supplier. The Department of Field Support informed the Board that the matter had been referred to the Office of Human Resources Management for disciplinary action against the five staff members;
- (e) The lack of security controls at BINUB (then ONUB) had resulted in the theft of assets kept at a container compound, resulting in a loss amounting to $180,048.43. In addition, two cases of collusion among fuel attendants had been detected through the mission electronic fuel accounting system and from a hint provided by a former United Nations staff member. Further, a lack of supervision and poor record keeping had resulted in the misappropriation of fuel aggregating $35,136. The contracts of the staff member and the individual contractor involved in the fraud had been terminated;

- (f) At UNDOF, the reported accomplishments of the heavy equipment contractor had not been verified against the quantum of work executed on the ground. A recommendation for the recovery of $143,629 was being reviewed by the Office of Human Resources Management;
- (g) At UNOCI, there had been five cases of apparent theft of fuel valued at $15,300, due mainly to tampering and falsification of fuel records. At the time of reporting, an amount $114 had been recovered from two of the cases while the remaining three cases were still under investigation.
- 351. A review of the reports of the Office of Internal Oversight Services issued for the period under review indicated the following cases of fraudulent practice:
- (a) A member of a contingent deployed at UNMIL had been involved in the theft of United Nations food rations. The Office of Internal Oversight Services recommended that the relevant Government be provided with a copy of the report and that steps be taken to ensure that the concerned contingent member was not accepted for assignment to any current or future United Nations mission. The Department of Field Support stated that a note verbale had been sent to the Permanent Mission of the concerned Member State for appropriate action to be taken;
- (b) At UNMIL, a locally hired staff member, who was designated as a fuel tanker driver, had been suspected of fuel theft while driving on a road outside his area of responsibility. He was carrying approximately 150 gallons of fuel in excess of the expected load. The excess load had been determined on the basis of the recorded load at the start of the day and recorded deliveries prior to discovery of the fraudulent act. The Department of Field Support informed the Board that there had been insufficient evidence to justify disciplinary action and that administrative reprimand had been recommended.
- 352. The cases reported above might not reflect all cases of fraud and presumptive fraud throughout the system, since some cases might be under review by other offices or units and not yet reported to the Board.

Chapter III

Audit opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the United Nations peacekeeping operations, comprising statements numbered I to XLVII and the supporting notes and annexes, for the financial period ended 30 June 2007. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Secretary-General of the United Nations. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the International Standards on Auditing. Those Standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting policies used and significant estimates made by the Secretary-General, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for the audit opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the United Nations peacekeeping operations as at 30 June 2007 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the period then ended, in accordance with the United Nations system accounting standards.

Furthermore, in our opinion, the transactions of the United Nations peacekeeping operations that have come to our notice, or which we have tested as part of our audit, have in all significant respects been in accordance with the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations and legislative authority.

In accordance with article VII of the Financial Regulations and Rules, we have also issued a long-form report on our audit of the United Nations peacekeeping operations.

Without qualifying our opinions expressed above, we draw attention to the following matters:

- (a) An amount of $202.28 million is shown in statement I as savings on/or cancellation of prior-period obligations. Although some unliquidated obligations may be carried forward up to a maximum of five years, the high incidence of cancellations of prior-period obligations may be indicative of an apparent overstatement of expenditure over the years. It may also highlight the need for the Administration to place greater emphasis on the monitoring of the creation of unliquidated obligations at the close of the financial year. This matter was also raised in our previous report on peacekeeping operations (A/61/5 (Vol. II), chap. III);
- (b) An amount of $1.38 billion is shown in note 13 to the financial statements, representing the original cost of non-expendable property. Significant discrepancies were noted when the results of physical counts were compared with the balances shown in the asset records. This indicates deficiencies in the system of asset management at the various missions. There was also evidence of surplus assets being held at a number of missions, as indicated by the length of time they remained unused. Similar observations were made in respect of unused expendable property.

If these deficiencies are not addressed in a timely manner, they will continue to impact adversely the ability of missions to effectively manage assets under their control.

The Board's detailed assessment of these two areas is reflected in chapter II of the present report.

Notes to the financial statements for peacekeeping operations for the period from 1 July 2006 to 30 June 2007

Note 1

The United Nations and its activities

- (a) The Charter of the United Nations was signed on 26 June 1945 and came into force on 24 October 1945. The Organization's primary objectives, to be implemented through its five major organs, are as follows:
 - (i) The maintenance of international peace and security;
 - (ii) The promotion of international economic and social progress and development programmes;
 - (iii) The universal observance of human rights;
 - (iv) The administration of international justice and law;
 - (v) The development of self-government for Trust Territories;
- (b) The General Assembly focuses on a wide range of political, economic and social issues as well as the financial and administrative aspects of the Organization;
- (c) Under the direction of the Security Council, the Organization has been involved in various aspects of peacekeeping and peacemaking, including efforts to resolve conflicts, restore democracy, promote disarmament, provide electoral assistance, facilitate post-conflict peacebuilding, engage in humanitarian activities to ensure the survival of groups deprived of basic needs and oversee the prosecution of persons responsible for serious violations of international humanitarian law;
- (d) The Economic and Social Council plays a particular role in economic and social development, including a major oversight role in the efforts of other organizations of the United Nations system to address international economic, social and health problems;
- (e) The International Court of Justice has jurisdiction over disputes between Member States brought before it for advisory opinions or binding resolutions;
- (f) The Trusteeship Council completed its primary functions in 1994 with the termination of the Trusteeship Agreement for the last United Nations Trust Territory.

Note 2

Summary of significant accounting and financial reporting policies of the United Nations

(a) The accounts of the United Nations are maintained in accordance with the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations as adopted by the General Assembly, the rules formulated by the Secretary-General as required under the regulations and administrative instructions issued by the Under-Secretary-General for Management or the Controller. They also take fully into account the United Nations system accounting standards, as adopted by the former Administrative Committee on Coordination, which has since been replaced by the United Nations System Chief Executives Board for Coordination. The Organization follows International Accounting Standard 1, "Presentation of financial statements", on the disclosure of accounting policies, as modified and adopted by the Chief Executives Board as follows:

- (i) Going concern, consistency and accrual are fundamental accounting assumptions. Where fundamental accounting assumptions are followed in financial statements, disclosure of such assumptions is not required. If a fundamental accounting assumption is not followed, that fact should be disclosed together with the reasons;
- (ii) Prudence, substance over form and materiality should govern the selection and application of accounting policies;
- (iii) Financial statements should include clear and concise disclosure of all significant accounting policies that have been used;
- (iv) The disclosure of the significant accounting policies used should be an integral part of the financial statements. The policies should normally be disclosed in one place;
- (v) Financial statements should show comparative figures for the corresponding period of the preceding financial period;
- (vi) A change in an accounting policy that has a material effect in the current period or may have a material effect in subsequent periods should be disclosed together with the reasons. The effect of the change should, if material, be disclosed and quantified;
- (b) The Organization's accounts are maintained on a fund accounting basis. Separate funds for general or special purposes may be established by the General Assembly, the Security Council or the Secretary-General. Each fund is maintained as a distinct financial and accounting entity with a separate self-balancing, double-entry group of accounts. Separate financial statements are prepared for each fund or for a group of funds of the same nature;
- (c) The financial period for peacekeeping operations is one year from 1 July to 30 June. The financial period of the Organization for all other funds is a biennium and consists of two consecutive calendar years;
- (d) Generally, income, expenditure, assets and liabilities are recognized on the accrual basis of accounting. For assessed income, the policy set out in paragraph (j) (ii) below applies;
- (e) The accounts of the Organization are presented in United States dollars. Accounts maintained in other currencies are translated into United States dollars at the time of the transactions at rates of exchange established by the United Nations. In respect of such currencies, the financial statements shall reflect the cash, investments, unpaid pledges and current accounts receivable and payable in currencies other than the United States dollar translated at the applicable United Nations rates of exchange in effect as at the date of the statements. In the event that the application of actual exchange rates at the date of the statements would provide a valuation materially different from the application of the Organization's rates of exchange for the last month of the financial period, a footnote will be provided quantifying the difference;

- (f) The Organization's financial statements are prepared on the historical cost basis of accounting and are not adjusted to reflect the effects of changing prices for goods and services;
- (g) The cash flow statement is based on the indirect method of determining cash flow, as referred to in the United Nations system accounting standards;
- (h) The Organization's financial statements are presented in accordance with the ongoing recommendations of the Task Force on Accounting Standards to the High-level Committee on Management of the Chief Executives Board;
- (i) The results of the Organization's operations presented in statements I, II and III are shown at a summary level by general type of activity as well as on a combined basis after the elimination of all inter-fund balances and instances of double-counting of income and expenditure. Their presentation on a combined basis does not imply that the various separate funds can be intermingled in any way, since, normally, resources may not be utilized between funds;
 - (j) Income:
 - (i) Amounts necessary to finance the activities of peacekeeping operations are assessed on Member States in accordance with the scale of assessments determined by the General Assembly;
 - (ii) Income is recognized when an assessment on Member States has been authorized by the General Assembly. Neither appropriations nor spending authorities are recognized as income except to the extent that a matching assessment on Member States has been levied;
 - (iii) Amounts assessed on non-Member States that agree to pay reimbursement of costs for their participation in the United Nations treaty bodies, organs and conferences are credited to miscellaneous income;
 - (iv) Voluntary contributions from Member States or other donors are recorded as income on the basis of a written commitment to pay monetary contributions at specified times within the current financial period. Voluntary contributions made in the form of services and supplies that are acceptable to the Secretary-General are credited to income or noted in the financial statements;
 - (v) Allocations from other funds represent monies appropriated or designated from one fund for transfer to and disbursement from another fund;
 - (vi) Income for services rendered includes amounts charged for salaries of staff members and other costs that are attributable to the provision of technical and administrative support to other organizations;
 - (vii) Interest income includes all interest earned on deposits in various bank accounts and investment income earned on the cash pool. All realized losses and net unrealized losses on short-term investments in the cash pool are offset against investment income. Investment income and costs associated with operation of investments in the cash pool are allocated to participating funds;
 - (viii) Miscellaneous income includes income from rental of premises, sale of used or surplus property, refunds of expenditures charged to prior periods, income from net gains resulting from currency exchange adjustments except for those arising from revaluation of current period obligations as stated in

08-26075 205

- paragraph (k) (i) below, settlements of insurance claims, amounts assessed on new Member States for the year of admission to the United Nations, amounts assessed on non-Member States as stated in paragraph (j) (iii) above, monies accepted for which no purpose was specified and other sundry income;
- (ix) Income relating to future financial periods is not recognized in the current financial period and is recorded as deferred credits as referred to in paragraph (m) (iii) below;
- (k) Expenditure:
- (i) Expenditures are incurred against authorized appropriations or commitment authorities. Total expenditures reported include unliquidated obligations and disbursements. Expenditures also include currency exchange adjustments arising from revaluation of current-period obligations;
- (ii) Expenditures incurred for non-expendable property are charged to the budget of the period when the property is acquired and are not capitalized. The inventory of such non-expendable property is maintained at historical cost;
- (iii) Expenditures for future financial periods are not charged to the current financial period and are recorded as deferred charges, as referred to in paragraph (1) (v) below;
- (1) Assets:
- (i) Cash and term deposits represent funds in demand deposit accounts and interest-bearing bank deposits;
- (ii) The cash pool comprises participating funds' share of the cash and term deposits, short-term and long-term investments and accrual of investment income, all of which are managed in the cash pool. The investments in the cash pool are similar in nature. Short-term investments are stated at cost or market value, whichever is lower; long-term investments are stated at cost. Cost is defined as the nominal value plus or minus any unamortized premium or discount. The share in the cash pool is reported separately in each of the participating fund's statement, and its composition and the market value of its investments are disclosed in the footnotes to the individual statements:
- (iii) Assessed contributions represent legal obligations of contributors, and therefore the balances of unpaid assessed contributions due from Member States are reported irrespective of collectability. It is the policy of the United Nations not to make provision for delays in collection of such assessments;
- (iv) Inter-fund balances reflect transactions between funds, and are included in the amounts due to and from the General Fund. Inter-fund balances also reflect transactions directly with the General Fund. Inter-fund balances are settled periodically, depending upon the availability of cash resources;
- (v) Deferred charges normally comprise expenditure items that are not properly chargeable to the current financial period. They will be charged as expenditure in a subsequent period. These expenditure items include commitments approved by the Controller for future financial periods in accordance with financial rule 106.7. Such commitments are normally restricted to administrative requirements of a continuing nature and to contracts or legal obligations where long lead times are required for delivery;

- (vi) For purposes of the balance sheet statements only, those portions of education grant advances that are assumed to pertain to the scholastic years completed as at the date of the financial statement are shown as deferred charges. The full amounts of the advances are maintained as accounts receivable from staff members until the required proofs of entitlement are produced, at which time the budgetary accounts are charged and the advances are settled;
- (vii) Maintenance and repairs of capital assets are charged against the appropriate budgetary accounts. Furniture, equipment, other non-expendable property and leasehold improvements are not included in the assets of the Organization. Such acquisitions are charged against budgetary accounts in the year of purchase. The value of non-expendable property is disclosed in notes to the financial statements;
- (m) Liabilities and reserves and fund balances:
- (i) Operating and other types of reserves are included in the totals for reserves and fund balances shown in the financial statements;
- (ii) Unliquidated obligations for future years are reported both as deferred charges and as unliquidated obligations;
- (iii) Deferred credits include income received for future periods and income received but not yet earned;
- (iv) Commitments of the Organization relating to prior, current and future financial periods are shown as unliquidated obligations. Current-period obligations related to peacekeeping operations remain valid for 12 months following the end of the financial period to which they relate. As per financial regulation 5.5, unliquidated obligations of peacekeeping operations owed to Governments may be retained for an additional period of four years beyond the 12-month period provided for in financial regulation 5.3;
- (v) Accrued liabilities for the end-of-service and post-retirement benefits, comprising those for after-service health insurance, unused vacation days and repatriation benefits, are, effective 30 June 2007, included as liabilities in the statement of assets, liabilities and reserves and fund balances. Previously, the after-service health insurance liabilities for peacekeeping operations were included with those of the United Nations, and shown in volume I of the financial statements of the United Nations, and the liabilities pertaining to unused vacation days and repatriation benefits were included in the notes to volume II of the financial statements for peacekeeping operations. The change in presentation is made in order to recognize such liabilities when incurred, and is in accordance with General Assembly resolutions 60/255 of 8 May 2006 and 61/264 of 4 April 2007 with respect to the recognition of after-service health insurance liabilities. See note 14;
- (vi) Contingent liabilities, if any, are disclosed in notes to the financial statements;
- (vii) The United Nations is a member organization participating in the United Nations Joint Staff Pension Fund, which was established by the General Assembly to provide retirement, death, disability and related benefits. The Pension Fund is a funded defined benefit plan. The financial obligation of the

08-26075 207

Organization to the Pension Fund consists of its mandated contribution at the rate established by the General Assembly together with its share of any actuarial deficiency payments under article 26 of the Regulations of the Pension Fund. Such deficiency payments are payable only if and when the General Assembly has invoked the provision of article 26, following determination that there is a requirement for deficiency payments based on an assessment of the actuarial sufficiency of the Pension Fund as at the valuation date. As at the date of the current financial statement, the General Assembly has not invoked this provision.

Note 3 Accounting policies for peacekeeping operations

The accounts for the peacekeeping operations have been maintained in accordance with the provisions of the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations, with due regard for the following:

- (a) Financial regulation 1.2, which states that the financial period of peacekeeping operations with special accounts shall be one year, from 1 July to 30 June;
- (b) Financial regulation 6.5, which states that the annual accounts for peacekeeping operations with special accounts shall be submitted by the Secretary-General to the Board of Auditors no later than 30 September each year;
- (c) Financial regulation 5.5, which states that obligations to Governments for troops, formed police units, logistical support and other goods supplied and services rendered to peacekeeping operations shall be retained beyond the 12-month period provided for in financial regulation 5.3 if the requisite claims are not received or processed during the financial period to which they pertain. Those obligations shall remain valid for an additional period of four years following the end of the 12-month period provided for in financial regulation 5.3. At the end of the additional four-year period, any unliquidated obligations shall be cancelled and the remaining balance of any appropriations retained shall be surrendered;
 - (d) Voluntary contributions:
 - (i) Voluntary contributions in cash shall be considered income to be credited to the special account of the peacekeeping operation;
 - (ii) Voluntary contributions in kind in the form of supplies and services shall be recorded as income under the heading "Voluntary contributions" at the time of delivery of supplies or commencement of services, provided budgetary provision for such supplies or services was made. In case there was no budgetary provision, no accounting entry shall be made, but the amount of the contribution shall be reflected in a footnote to the financial statements. The cost of facilities provided under an agreement with a Member State in whose country a peacekeeping operation is located is excluded from the determination of voluntary contributions;

(e) Peacekeeping Reserve Fund:

By its resolution 47/217 of 23 December 1992, the General Assembly established the Peacekeeping Reserve Fund as a cash flow mechanism to ensure the rapid response of the Organization to the needs of peacekeeping operations. The level of the Peacekeeping Reserve Fund was established at $150 million. In accordance with the aforementioned resolution, $49,242,762 was allocated from unencumbered balances in the special account of the United Nations Transition Assistance Group, $18,156,200 from unencumbered balances in the special account of the United Nations Iran-Iraq Military Observer Group and $82,601,038 from authorized retained savings in the General Fund.

Note 4 Explanatory notes on assessed contributions receivable

Assessed contributions receivable have been recorded in accordance with the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations, the relevant resolutions of the General Assembly and the policy of the United Nations. With reference to the amounts shown as unpaid, certain Member States have indicated that they do not intend to pay some of their assessed contributions or that such contributions will be paid only under certain conditions. Based on United Nations policy as stated in note 2 (l) (iii) above, no provision has been made for delays in the collection of outstanding assessed contributions. With regard to the foregoing, a number of Member States have requested that attention be drawn to their positions (as stated by their delegations at successive sessions of the General Assembly), in particular with respect to the following:

- (a) To the extent that the amounts relate to expenditures under the Special Account for UNEF 1956 and under the Ad Hoc Account for ONUC, which, in the view of some Member States, were illegal, they do not consider themselves bound, under the provisions of Article 17 of the Charter of the United Nations, to participate in paying for those expenditures. As a result, withholdings by certain Member States from payments for the financing of UNEF 1956 (statement XLVI) and ONUC (statement XLVII) are estimated to be $38.6 million and $70.2 million, respectively. The estimate, which is based on the apportioned shares of the Member States concerned, excludes $5.3 million and $6.7 million in unpaid assessed contributions to UNEF 1956 and ONUC, respectively, by China for the period up to 24 October 1971. Following the adoption by the General Assembly of its resolution 2758 (XXVI), entitled "Restoration of the lawful rights of the People's Republic of China in the United Nations", of 25 October 1971, that amount was transferred to a special account pursuant to General Assembly resolution 3049 C (XXVII) of 19 December 1972;
- (b) A Member State has stated that it does not intend to participate in the financing of UNEF 1973 and UNDOF. As a result, withholding by the Member State from payments for the financing of UNEF 1973 and UNDOF is estimated to be $0.1 million, which covers UNEF 1973 until its liquidation in 1979 and UNDOF to 30 June 2006. That amount excludes $36.0 million in unpaid assessed contributions by China for the period from 25 October 1971 to 31 December 1981, which was transferred to a special account pursuant to General Assembly resolution 36/116 A of 10 December 1981;
- (c) Certain Member States have stated that they do not intend to participate in the financing of UNIFIL. As a result, withholdings by certain Member States from payments for the financing of UNIFIL are estimated to be $3.6 million. That estimate, which is based on the apportioned shares of the Member States concerned from the inception of UNIFIL on 19 March 1978 to 30 June 2007, excludes $19.6 million in unpaid assessed contributions by China for the period from 25 October 1971 to 31 December 1981, which was transferred to a special account pursuant to General Assembly resolution 36/116 A;

(d) Status of unpaid assessed contributions as at 30 June 2007:

Detailed information for each of the separate peacekeeping operations on assessments and collections as at 30 June 2007 and on all outstanding balances due from each Member State is shown in the status of contributions report (ST/ADM/SER.B/714). The report for 30 June 2007 does not reflect any assessments or the application of credits returned to Member States that were approved by the General Assembly in late June. However, the financial statements include such late-June transactions, and the new amounts due become part of the outstanding contributions from Member States shown as at 30 June 2007. As a result, in such cases the amounts shown as contributions outstanding from Member States as at 30 June 2007 in the status of contributions report may be lower or higher than the corresponding amounts included in financial statements as at 30 June 2007.

Peacekeeping special account fund summaries: income and expenditure and changes in reserves and fund balances (statement I), assets, liabilities and reserves and fund balances (statement II) and cash flow (statement III)

- (a) Statements I, II and III contain financial results for all United Nations peacekeeping funds, which are broken down into three groups of related funds and consolidated into a grand total reflecting all individual peacekeeping accounts of the Organization. This consolidated presentation should not be interpreted to mean that any of the individual funds can be used for any other purpose than that for which it is authorized. The financial results of all peacekeeping operations are summarized in statements I, II and III. These are categorized as all active peacekeeping missions (statements IV-XIX), the Peacekeeping Reserve Fund (statement XX), the support account for peacekeeping operations (statement XXI), UNLB (statement XXII), peacekeeping after-service health insurance (statement XXIII) and completed peacekeeping missions (statements XXIV-XLVII);
- (b) To comply with the uniform financial statement formats, statement I contains two calculations of the excess (shortfall) of income relative to expenditure. The first calculation is based on income and expenditure only for the current period. The second calculation shown is a net one, which includes any prior-period adjustments to income or expenditure.

Note 6 United Nations Peacekeeping Force in Cyprus (statement IV)

The General Assembly decided by resolution 47/236 of 14 September 1993 that, beginning on 16 June 1993, the costs of UNFICYP should be treated as expenses of the Organization to be borne by Member States in accordance with Article 17, paragraph 2, of the Charter of the United Nations. Accordingly, from 16 June 1993 onwards, appropriations and assessments have been issued on the Member States in accordance with relevant General Assembly resolutions.

Prior to 16 June 1993, the Secretary-General was not authorized to utilize any funds other than the voluntary contributions pledged by Member States for the financing of UNFICYP. The recording of expenditures for the period prior to 16 June 1993 was based on the total of pledged contributions. Obligations to be financed from such voluntary contributions for the period prior to 16 June 1993 totalled $215,779,389 and are reflected in footnote f/ to the UNFICYP financial statements (statement IV).

By its resolution 61/233 B of 29 June 2007, the General Assembly reconfirmed its previous resolution 47/236, in which it had decided that the costs of UNFICYP for the period beginning 16 June 1993 should be treated as expenses of the Organization to be borne by Member States.

Note 7 United Nations Emergency Force 1973 and United Nations Disengagement Observer Force (statement V)

The General Assembly has on a number of occasions authorized the temporary suspension of financial regulations 3.2 (b), 3.2 (d), 5.3 and 5.4 in order to allow UNEF and UNDOF to retain certain amounts of surplus that otherwise would have been returned to Member States. Under the terms of General Assembly resolution 50/83 of 15 December 1995, the authorized retained surplus of $64,931,001 was reduced proportionately by $15,321,728 to offset in part the waiver of South Africa's unpaid contributions to various peacekeeping operations for the period from 30 September 1974 to 23 June 1994. Under the terms of General Assembly resolution 53/226 of 8 June 1999, followed by its resolutions 54/266 of 15 June 2000 and 55/264 of 14 June 2001, the authorized retained surplus was further reduced by $13,622,162, leaving a balance of $35,987,111 as at 30 June 2007. This equals the amount held in the special account for unpaid assessed contributions pursuant to General Assembly resolution 36/116 A (see note 4 (b)).

Note 8 United Nations Interim Force in Lebanon (statement VI)

The General Assembly, on a number of occasions, has authorized the temporary suspension of financial regulations 3.2 (b), 3.2 (d), 5.3 and 5.4 in order to allow UNIFIL to retain certain amounts of surplus that otherwise would have been returned to Member States. Under the terms of General Assembly resolution 50/83, those authorized retained surpluses of $108,461,935 were reduced proportionately by a total of $25,583,986 to offset in part the waiver of South Africa's unpaid contributions to various peacekeeping operations for the period from 30 September 1974 to 23 June 1994. Subsequently, under the terms of resolution 58/307 of 18 June 2004, the authorized retained surplus was further reduced by $63,312,709 representing the net accumulated surplus in the account of the Force from 1978 to 1993, leaving a balance of $19,565,240 as at 30 June 2007. This equals the amount held in the special account for unpaid assessed contributions pursuant to General Assembly resolution 36/116 A (see note 4 (c)).

Authorized retained surplus

The General Assembly decided, in its resolution 57/323 of 18 June 2003, to suspend financial regulation 5.5 for certain missions in the light of the cash shortages in those missions. Those missions are the Military Observer Group of MINUGUA (statement XXXVI); ONUMOZ (statement XL); UNOSOM (statement XLI); UNSMIH, UNTMIH and MIPONUH (statement XXIX); UNTAC (statement XLIII); and MINURCA (statement XXX). By its resolution 59/302 of 22 June 2005, the General Assembly postponed the return of the net cash balance available as at 30 June 2004 for UNMIBH (statement XXVII).

Note 10

Surplus to be transferred for strategic deployment stocks

Under the terms of General Assembly resolution 56/292 of 27 June 2002, amounts of $95,978,945 and $45,567,055 were authorized to be transferred from reserves and fund balances of UNPF (statement XXXV) and UNMIH (statement XXXVII), respectively, for strategic deployment stocks to be held in the UNLB account (statement XXII). Member States had the option either to transfer their share in the surpluses directly to UNLB or to have their shares returned to them upon settling a separate assessment for strategic deployment stocks. Some Member States opted to transfer their share in the surpluses directly to UNLB and, accordingly, surpluses of $54,690,848 and $25,815,321 were transferred directly from UNPF and UNMIH, respectively. Some Member States opted to settle a separate assessment for strategic deployment stocks and, accordingly, amounts of $11,649,854 and $5,639,962 from the surpluses of UNPF and UNMIH, respectively, were returned to those Member States. The remaining surpluses of $29,638,243 and $14,111,772 in UNPF and UNMIH, respectively, shall be returned to Member States upon their settlement of the separate assessment for strategic deployment stocks. Currently, $13,581,780 remains outstanding from Member States.

Strategic deployment stocks

The General Assembly, in its resolution 56/292, authorized the purchase of strategic deployment stocks. In his report (A/56/870), the Secretary-General stated that once items had been deployed or rotated, the Secretariat would replenish them by charging the replacement costs to the budget of the mission that receives the stocks. In order to account for replenishment of strategic deployment stocks, a separate revolving fund has been established, where all such transactions are recorded. The cumulative surplus at the end of the financial period, which incorporates such items as prior-period savings and timing differences between the recording of income upon transfer and the actual replenishment of strategic deployment stocks, is carried over, to be available in the next financial period.

Note 12

Ageing of assessed contributions receivable

Assessed contributions receivable from Member States have been outstanding for the periods indicated in table V.1 below. On the basis of United Nations policy, no provision is made for delays in collection.

Note 14 Liabilities for end-of-service and post-retirement benefits

- (a) At end of service, eligible staff members are entitled to after-service health insurance coverage, and to be paid for unused vacation days up to a maximum of 60 days and repatriation benefits based on the number of years of service. Effective 30 June 2007, all these three types of liabilities are recognized in the financial statements for peacekeeping operations. Previously, the after-service health insurance liabilities for peacekeeping were included with those of regular budget and shown in volume I of the financial statements and the liabilities for unused vacation days and repatriation benefits were shown in the notes to the financial statements for peacekeeping, in volume II.
- (b) The after-service health insurance liabilities are based on an actuarial valuation and represent the present value of the accrued liabilities, net of retiree contributions. The accrued liabilities represent benefits that have accrued from the staff members' dates of entry on duty till the valuation date. Benefits of active staff members are fully accrued on the date on which the staff member becomes fully eligible for benefits.

United Nations overall accrued after-service health insurance liabilities as determined through an actuarial valuation were $2,072,829,000 as at 31 December 2005, and the portion thereof that pertains to peacekeeping operations was estimated at $330,000,000. The latter amount has been rolled forward to 30 June 2007 and is estimated at $389,000,000, as shown in statement XXIII.

(c) The accrued liabilities for unused vacation days and repatriation benefits are shown in the financial statements of the individual missions, the support account for peacekeeping operations and UNLB, as applicable. The liabilities have been recorded as an adjustment to reserves and fund balances.
