In addition, the Assembly reaffirmed that the United Nations visiting missions to the Territories were an effective means of ascertaining the situation in the Territories, as well as the wishes and aspirations of their inhabitants, and called upon the administering Powers to continue to cooperate with the Special Committee in the discharge of its mandate and to facilitate United Nations visiting missions to the Territories, and also called upon all the administering Powers to cooperate fully in the work of the Special Committee and to participate formally in the Committee's future sessions.

23. Draft resolution A/AC.109/2009/L.7, adopted by the Special Committee at its 5th meeting, on 15 June 2009, reads as follows:

Special Committee decision of 9 June 2008 concerning Puerto Rico

The Special Committee,

Bearing in mind the Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples, contained in General Assembly resolution 1514 (XV) of 14 December 1960, as well as the resolutions and decisions of the Special Committee concerning Puerto Rico,

Considering that the period 1990-2000 was proclaimed by the General Assembly, in its resolution 43/47 of 22 November 1988, as the International Decade for the Eradication of Colonialism, and that by resolution 55/146 of 8 December 2000, the General Assembly declared the period 2001-2010 the Second International Decade for the Eradication of Colonialism,

Bearing in mind the 27 resolutions and decisions adopted by the Special Committee on the question of Puerto Rico, contained in the reports of the Special Committee to the General Assembly, in particular those adopted without a vote in recent years,

Recalling that 25 July 2009 marks the one hundred and eleventh anniversary of the intervention in Puerto Rico by the United States of America,

Noting with concern that despite the diverse initiatives taken by the political representatives of Puerto Rico and the United States in recent years, the process of decolonization of Puerto Rico has not yet been set in motion,

Stressing the urgent need for the United States to lay the groundwork for the full implementation of General Assembly resolution 1514 (XV) and the resolutions and decisions of the Special Committee concerning Puerto Rico,

Noting that the inter-agency Task Force on Puerto Rico's Status designated by the President of the United States, which submitted its report on 22 December 2005, affirmed that Puerto Rico is a territory subject to United States congressional authority and that initiatives concerning Puerto Rico's status have been subsequently presented to the Congress of the United States,

Also noting the "Panama Proclamation", adopted by the Latin American and Caribbean Congress for the Independence of Puerto Rico, which was held in Panama from 17 to 19 November 2006 and attended by 33 political parties from 22 countries of the region,

Further noting the debate in Puerto Rico on the search for a procedure that would make it possible to launch the process of decolonization of Puerto Rico, and aware of the principle that any initiative for the solution of the political status of Puerto Rico should originate from the people of Puerto Rico,

Aware that Vieques Island, Puerto Rico, was used for over 60 years by the United States Marines to carry out military exercises, with negative consequences for the health of the population, the environment and the economic and social development of that Puerto Rican municipality,

Recalling the decision of the Government of the United States to put an end to the bombings and military exercises on Vieques Island from 1 May 2003, which was the outcome of the prolonged process conducted during years of peaceful protests carried out by the people of Puerto Rico as well as the wide campaign of international solidarity, which has been appropriately reflected in the work and documents of the Special Committee,

Noting the consensus existing among the people and the Government of Puerto Rico on the necessity of ensuring the clean-up, decontamination and return to the people of Puerto Rico of all the territory previously used for military exercises and installations, and of using them for the social and economic development of Puerto Rico,

Also noting the consensus among the people of Puerto Rico in favour of the release of the Puerto Rican political prisoners, some of whom have been serving sentences in United States prisons for more than 28 years for cases related to the struggle for Puerto Rico's independence,

Further noting the complaints made by the inhabitants of Vieques Island regarding the continued bombing and the use of open burning for clean-up, which exacerbate the existing health problems and pollution and endanger civilian lives,

Noting the concern of the people of Puerto Rico regarding violent actions, including repression and intimidation, against Puerto Rican independence fighters in Puerto Rico, including those that have recently come to light through documents declassified by federal agencies of the United States,

Also noting that in the final document of the Fourteenth Summit of the Movement of Non-Aligned Countries, held in Havana from 11 to 16 September 2006, and at other meetings of the Movement, the right of the people of Puerto Rico to self-determination and independence is reaffirmed on the basis of General Assembly resolution 1514 (XV); the Government of the United States is urged to assume its responsibility to expedite a process that will allow the Puerto Rican people to fully exercise their inalienable right to self-determination and independence; the Government of the United States is urged to return the territory and occupied installations on Vieques Island and at the Roosevelt Roads Naval Station to the Puerto Rican people, who constitute a Latin American and Caribbean nation; and the General Assembly is urged to actively consider the question of Puerto Rico in all its aspects,

Having heard statements and testimonies representative of various viewpoints among the people of Puerto Rico and their social institutions,

Having considered the report of the Rapporteur of the Special Committee on the implementation of the resolutions concerning Puerto Rico,⁵

1. Reaffirms the inalienable right of the people of Puerto Rico to self-determination and independence in conformity with General Assembly resolution 1514 (XV) and the applicability of the fundamental principles of that resolution to the question of Puerto Rico;

⁵ A/AC.109/2009/L.13.

2. Reiterates that the Puerto Rican people constitute a Latin American and Caribbean nation that has its own unequivocal national identity;
3. Calls upon the Government of the United States of America to assume its responsibility to expedite a process that will allow the Puerto Rican people fully to exercise their inalienable right to self-determination and independence, in accordance with General Assembly resolution 1514 (XV) and the resolutions and decisions of the Special Committee concerning Puerto Rico;
4. Notes the broad support of eminent persons, governments and political forces in Latin America and the Caribbean for the independence of Puerto Rico;
5. Again notes the debate in Puerto Rico on the implementation of a mechanism that would ensure the full participation of representatives of all viewpoints prevailing in Puerto Rico, aware of the principle that any initiative for the solution of the political status of Puerto Rico should originate from the people of Puerto Rico;
6. Expresses serious concern regarding actions carried out against Puerto Rican independence fighters, and encourages the investigation of those actions with the necessary rigour and with the cooperation of the relevant authorities;
7. Requests the General Assembly to consider the question of Puerto Rico comprehensively in all its aspects;
8. Urges the Government of the United States, in line with the need to guarantee the Puerto Rican people their legitimate right to self-determination and the protection of their human rights, to complete the return of occupied land and installations on Vieques Island and in Ceiba to the people of Puerto Rico; respect fundamental human rights, such as the right to health and economic development; and expedite and cover the costs of the process of cleaning up and decontaminating the impact areas previously used in military exercises through means that do not continue to aggravate the serious consequences of its military activity for the health of the inhabitants of Vieques Island and the environment;
9. Requests the President of the United States of America to release Oscar López Rivera and Carlos Alberto Torres, who have been serving sentences in United States prisons for over 28 years, and Avelino González Claudio, all of whom are Puerto Rican political prisoners serving sentences in United States prisons for cases relating to the struggle for the independence of Puerto Rico;
10. Takes note with satisfaction of the report prepared by the Rapporteur of the Special Committee,⁵ in compliance with its resolution of 9 June 2008;
11. Requests the Rapporteur to report to the Special Committee in 2010 on the implementation of the present resolution;
12. Decides to keep the question of Puerto Rico under continuous review.

F. Consideration of other matters

24. At its 1st meeting, on 27 February 2009, by adopting the suggestions relating to the organization of its work put forward by the Chairman (see A/AC.109/2009/L.2), the Special Committee decided to consider in plenary meetings the questions of compliance of Member States with the Declaration and other relevant resolutions on decolonization, holding a series of meetings away from Headquarters, pattern of conferences and other questions mentioned in paragraphs 25 to 38 below.

1. Compliance of Member States with the Declaration and other resolutions on decolonization

25. The Special Committee took into account in its consideration of specific items, a decision listed in paragraph 24 above.

2. Question of holding a series of meetings away from Headquarters

26. Having regard to its programme of work for 2010, the Special Committee, at its 11th meeting, on 23 June 2009, considered the question of holding meetings away from Headquarters, taking into account the provisions of paragraph 6 of General Assembly resolution 1654 (XVI) and paragraph 3 (9) of resolution 2621 (XXV), by which the Assembly authorized the Special Committee to meet elsewhere than at United Nations Headquarters whenever and wherever such meetings might be required for the effective discharge of its functions. At the same meeting, the Special Committee decided that it would consider accepting such invitations as might be received in 2010 and that, when particulars of such meetings had become known, it would request the Secretary-General to seek the necessary budgetary provision in accordance with established procedure (see A/AC.109/2009/L.14, paras. 2 and 3).

3. Pattern of conferences

27. Further recalling the measures it had taken theretofore in that connection, the Special Committee decided to continue to exercise its initiatives in the effective utilization of the limited conference resources and the further reduction of its documentation requirements by circulating communications and information material, as far as possible, in the form of informal notes and aides-memoires in the original language of submission, thus curtailing documentation requirements and accruing considerable savings for the Organization. A list of the documents issued by the Special Committee in 2009 is contained in the annex to the present chapter.

28. At its 11th meeting, on 23 June 2009, the Special Committee considered the item and noted that, during the year, it had closely followed the guidelines set forth in the resolutions of the General Assembly on the pattern of conferences, in particular resolution 63/248 of 24 December 2008. By organizing its programme of work effectively and holding extensive consultations, the Committee had striven to keep the number of its formal meetings to a minimum. The Special Committee decided, taking into account its probable workload for 2010, to consider holding its meetings in accordance with the following schedule: (a) Plenary: February/March (as required); June/July (up to 30 meetings: 6-8 meetings a week); (b) Bureau (February-July: 20 meetings). It was understood that that programme would not preclude the holding of any ad hoc meetings that might be warranted and that the Special Committee might, in early 2010, review the schedule of meetings on the basis of any new developments. The Special Committee decided, subject to any directives given by the General Assembly, to strive, while fulfilling its mandate, to keep its meetings to a minimum (see A/AC.109/2009/L.14, paras. 5 and 7).

4. Control and limitation of documentation

29. At its 11th meeting, on 23 June 2009, the Special Committee considered the question of the control and limitation of documentation and noted that, during the year, it had taken further measures to control and limit its documentation in compliance with the relevant resolutions of the General Assembly, in particular resolutions 34/50 of 23 November 1979, 39/68 D of 13 December 1984, 51/211 B of 18 December 1996 and 63/248. The Special Committee noted that, in General Assembly resolution 50/206 B of 23 December 1995, the Assembly had approved the recommendation of the Special Committee to replace its verbatim records with summary records. Having reviewed the need for such records, the Special Committee decided to maintain its summary records (see A/AC.109/2009/L.14, paras. 8-10).

5. Cooperation and participation of the administering Powers in the work of the Special Committee

30. In compliance with the provisions of the relevant resolutions of the General Assembly, the delegation of New Zealand, as an administering Power, continued to participate, in accordance with established procedure, in the related work of the Special Committee (see chap. X). The delegation of France also participated in the related work of the Committee on the question of New Caledonia.

31. The delegations of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the United States of America did not formally participate in the work of the Special Committee.⁶

32. In a related context, the Special Committee, at its 3rd meeting, on 8 June 2009, adopted a resolution on the question of sending visiting missions to Territories. By that resolution, the Special Committee noted with appreciation that, at the invitation of the Government of New Zealand, two missions to observe the referendums in Tokelau were dispatched, in February 2006 and October 2007. It also recalled with satisfaction the cooperation of the United Kingdom, as an administering Power, in facilitating the Special Mission to the Turks and Caicos Islands in April 2006 at the request of the territorial Government. It called upon the administering Powers to cooperate or continue to cooperate with the United Nations by facilitating United Nations visiting missions in the Territories under their administration, in accordance with the relevant resolutions of the United Nations on decolonization (see para. 86 below).

6. Participation of representatives of Non-Self-Governing Territories in the work of the Special Committee

33. At its 11th meeting, on 23 June 2009, the Special Committee considered the question of the participation of representatives of Non-Self-Governing Territories in its work and decided that the participation of representatives of Non-Self-Governing Territories in the work of the Special Committee at Headquarters, as recommended in the plan of action for the Second International Decade for the Eradication of Colonialism (A/56/61, annex), should continue to be facilitated through the reimbursement by the United Nations of the expenses relating to their participation under the terms of the guidelines amended by the Committee and approved by the General Assembly at its forty-eighth session (see A/AC.109/L.1791, annex, and A/AC.109/L.1804). In that regard, the Special Committee decided to consider the guidelines at its plenary meetings with a view to amending them further, where appropriate (see A/AC.109/2009/L.14, para. 14).

7. Representation at seminars, meetings and conferences of intergovernmental and other organizations

34. At its 11th meeting, on 23 June 2009, the Special Committee decided to recommend to the General Assembly that the Committee continue to be represented at seminars, meetings and conferences organized by United Nations bodies and other intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations active in the field of decolonization. In keeping with its decision of 27 February 2009, the Committee would authorize its Chairman to hold consultations, as appropriate, concerning its participation in those meetings, as well as the level of representation, when accepting invitations. In accordance with established practice and on the basis of the principle of rotation, the Chairman would hold consultations with the Bureau members, who, in turn, would consult with the members of the Committee from their respective regional groups. The Special Committee also decided that the Chairman would also hold consultations with that member of the Committee whose regional group was not represented in the Bureau. It also decided to recommend that the General Assembly make appropriate budgetary provisions to cover such activities in 2010 (see A/AC.109/2009/L.14, para. 4).

8. Week of Solidarity with the Peoples of Non-Self-Governing Territories

35. The question of the Week of Solidarity with the Peoples of Non-Self-Governing Territories was considered by the Special Committee at its 11th meeting, on 23 June 2009, in connection with its consideration of the report of the Caribbean regional seminar (see chap. II and annex thereto).

9. Report of the Special Committee to the General Assembly

36. At its 1st meeting, on 27 February 2009, by adopting the suggestions relating to the organization of its work put forward by the Chairman (see A/AC.109/2009/L.2), and in accordance with paragraph 31 of General Assembly decision 34/401 on the rationalization of the procedures and organization of the Assembly and based on practice initiated by the Committee in 2005, the Committee decided to continue to formulate its decisions in General Assembly form and to submit them to the Assembly at its sixty-fourth session.

37. At its 11th meeting, on 23 June 2009, the Special Committee, on the proposal of the Chairman, authorized the Rapporteur to submit directly to the Assembly the report in accordance with established practice and procedure.

10. Other questions

38. At its 1st meeting, on 27 February 2009, by adopting the suggestions relating to the organization of its work put forward by the Chairman (see A/AC.109/2009/L.2), the Special Committee decided, in its examination of specific Territories, to take into account the relevant provisions of General Assembly resolutions and a decision listed in the note by the Secretary-General on the organization of work of the Special Committee (A/AC.109/2009/L.1, para. 11). These resolutions and a decision were taken into account during the consideration of specific Territories and other items in plenary meetings.

G. Relations with United Nations bodies, intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations

39. In connection with the Special Committee's consideration of the implementation of the Declaration by the specialized agencies and the international institutions associated with the United Nations, and in accordance with paragraph 20 of General Assembly resolution 63/103 of 5 December 2009 relating to the item, consultations were held between the President of the Economic and Social Council and the Chairman of the Special Committee to consider appropriate measures for coordination of the policies and activities of the specialized agencies in implementing the relevant resolutions of the General Assembly (see E/2009/69). An account of the Special Committee's consideration of the question is set out in chapter VI of the present report.

40. During the year, the Special Committee adopted decisions relating to the extension of assistance to the peoples of Non-Self-Governing Territories. Those decisions are reflected in recommendations of the Special Committee to the General Assembly (see chap. XII).

41. The Special Committee took into account the relevant resolutions and decisions of the Human Rights Council at its ninth session and continued to follow the work of the Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination.

42. Bearing in mind its previous decisions to maintain contact with the Movement of Non-Aligned Countries, the African Union, the Caribbean Community and the Pacific Islands Forum on a regular basis in order to assist in the effective discharge of its mandate, the Special Committee, as in previous years, closely followed the work of these intergovernmental organizations.

43. Having regard to the relevant provisions of General Assembly resolutions 63/109 and 63/110, the Special Committee continued to follow closely the activities of non-governmental organizations having a special interest in the field of decolonization (see A/AC.109/2009/18 and Corr.1, and para. 19 above). The related decisions of the Special Committee are listed in chapter XII of the present report.

44. The Special Committee continued to monitor related developments in the Territories, having regard to the relevant provisions of article 15 of the International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination (General Assembly resolution 2106 A (XX), annex).

H. Review of work

45. The reform processes initiated by the Special Committee in 1991 continued to be actively pursued in 2009. The Special Committee's recommendation to the General Assembly at its sixty-fourth session on 12 Territories was consolidated into two resolutions (see chap. XII, draft resolutions V and VI).

46. The Special Committee also considered and submitted recommendations on information from Non-Self-Governing Territories transmitted under Article 73 e of the Charter of the United Nations, the question of sending visiting and special missions to Territories, implementation of the Declaration by the specialized agencies and the international institutions associated with the United Nations and economic and other activities that affect the interests of the peoples of the Non-Self-Governing Territories.

47. As noted in chapter II of the present report, the Special Committee held a Caribbean regional seminar in Frigate Bay, Saint Kitts and Nevis, from 12 to 14 May 2009 on challenges and opportunities in the process of decolonization in today's world.

48. On the question of the publicity to be given to the work of the United Nations in the field of decolonization, the Special Committee adopted a resolution on the dissemination of information on decolonization, which it recommends to the General Assembly for action at its sixty-fourth session (see chap. XII, draft resolution VII).

49. The Special Committee also continued its review of the list of Territories to which the Declaration is applicable. With regard to its decision of 12 June 2008 concerning Puerto Rico, the Special Committee heard a number of representatives of organizations concerned and adopted a resolution on the matter, which is set out in paragraph 23 above.

50. During the period under review, the Special Committee continued the critical review of its work and its programme of future work by holding a number of informal meetings. The Special Committee was able during the year to reduce the number of its formal meetings and to minimize the wastage resulting from the cancellation of scheduled meetings.

I. Future work

51. In accordance with the mandate entrusted to it by the General Assembly since 1961 and subject to further directives from the Assembly at its sixty-fourth session, the Special Committee intends to continue during 2010 to pursue its efforts in bringing a speedy end to colonialism, in accordance with Article 73 of the Charter of the United Nations, the Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples and the plan of action contained in the annex to document A/56/61.

52. In order to discharge its responsibilities, the Special Committee will keep the situation in the Non-Self-Governing Territories under continuous review, examining the impact of developments concerning each Territory on their political advancement, reviewing the compliance by Member States, particularly the administering Powers, with the relevant decisions and resolutions of the United Nations and seeking the input of representatives of the Territories, non-governmental organizations from the Territories and experts inviting them to attend its meetings and regional seminars and also by visiting the Territories to gather first-hand information.

53. In 2010, the Special Committee intends to continue and intensify its dialogue and cooperation with the administering Powers for the purpose of furthering the cause of decolonization through the development of programmes of work for the decolonization of specific Territories in agreement with the administering Powers and with the participation of representatives of the Territories at every stage of discussion. The members of the Special Committee are particularly encouraged by the excellent cooperation of New Zealand and Tokelau at every stage of the negotiations including the referendums in the exercise of the right of self-determination by the people of Tokelau held in October 2006 and November 2007.

54. The Special Committee will continue to conduct the regional seminars, for the purpose of assessing, receiving and disseminating information on the situation in the Territories, in order to facilitate the implementation of its mandate. In this connection, the Special Committee will hold a seminar in the Pacific region in 2010.

55. The Special Committee will continue to seek the cooperation of the administering Powers in facilitating United Nations visiting and special missions to the Territories under their administration. The Special Committee continues to attach the utmost importance to visiting missions as a means of collecting adequate and first-hand information on conditions in the Territories and on the wishes and aspirations of the peoples concerning their future status. Moreover, visiting missions are important in the context of action plans for decolonization and observing acts of self-determination. The Special Committee will explore the possibility of combining visiting missions to certain Territories with regional seminars in order to optimize its available resources.

56. The Special Committee will continue to use opportunities such as the regional seminars and visiting and special missions to disseminate information on its activities and on the Territories in an effort to mobilize world public opinion to support and assist the people of the Territories in bringing about a speedy end to colonialism, and to develop, together with the Department of Public Information of the Secretariat, programmes aimed at Territories that have requested information about self-determination options.

57. The Special Committee will continue to pay attention to the specific problems of the remaining Non-Self-Governing Territories. The Special Committee is aware that, in addition to general problems facing developing countries, those Territories also suffer handicaps arising from the interplay of such factors as size, remoteness, geographical dispersion, vulnerability to natural disasters, fragility of ecosystems, constraints in transport and communications, great distances from market centres, a highly limited internal market, lack of natural resources and vulnerability to drug trafficking, money-laundering and other illegal activities, as well as from the current financial crisis. The Special Committee will continue to recommend measures to facilitate a sustained and balanced growth of the fragile economies of those Territories and increased assistance in the development of all the sectors of their economies.

58. It is the intention of the Special Committee to continue to follow closely the implementation of the Declaration by the specialized agencies and the international and regional institutions associated with the United Nations. The Special Committee will continue the practice of holding consultations between its Chairman and the President of the Economic and Social Council with the objective to facilitate the effective implementation of the decisions of the various United Nations bodies and to foster cooperation between the specialized agencies and the regional organizations in providing assistance for the Non-Self-Governing Territories in a given region.

59. The Special Committee will also strive to follow up on the General Assembly's request that the participation of the Non-Self-Governing Territories in the work of relevant meetings and conferences of the agencies and organizations be facilitated so that the Territories can benefit from the related activities of the specialized agencies and other organizations of the United Nations system.

60. The Special Committee intends to take into account economic and other activities that affect the interests of the peoples of the Non-Self-Governing Territories and to continue its cooperation with interested States to ensure that the interests of the peoples of those Territories are protected.

61. In the light of the provisions of the General Assembly resolutions concerning the pattern of conferences, and taking into consideration its experience in previous years as well as its probable workload for 2010, the Special Committee has approved a tentative programme of meetings for 2010, which it commends to the Assembly for approval.

62. The Special Committee suggests that, when the General Assembly, at its sixty-fourth session, examines the question of the implementation of the Declaration, it may wish to take into account the various recommendations of the Special Committee that are reflected in the relevant chapters of the present report and, in particular, to endorse the proposals outlined in the present section in order to enable the Special Committee to carry out the tasks it envisages for 2010. The Special Committee recommends that the Assembly renew its appeal to the administering Powers to take all necessary steps for the implementation of the Declaration and the relevant United Nations resolutions, in accordance with the freely expressed wishes of the peoples of the Territories concerned. In that connection, the Special Committee recommends that the Assembly request those administering Powers that have not yet done so to become involved with the work of the Special Committee in the discharge of its mandate and, in particular, to participate actively in the work relating to the Territories under their respective administrations. The Special Committee also recommends that the Assembly continue to invite the administering Powers to allow representatives of the Territories concerned to participate in the discussions in the Special Political and Decolonization Committee (Fourth Committee) and the Special Committee on the items relating to their respective Territories. Furthermore, the Assembly might also wish to renew its appeal to all States, the specialized agencies and other organizations of the United Nations system to comply with the various requests addressed to them by the Assembly in their relevant resolutions.

63. The Special Committee recommends that, in approving the programme of work outlined above, the General Assembly make adequate provision to cover the activities that the Special Committee envisages for 2010. In that regard, the Special Committee notes that the programme budget for the biennium 2010-2011 includes resources to provide for the programme of work of the Special Committee for 2010, based on the level of activities approved for 2009, without prejudice to the decisions to be taken by the Assembly at its sixty-fourth session. On that basis, the Special Committee understands that, should any additional provisions be required over and above those included in the proposed programme budget for the biennium 2010-2011, proposals for supplementary requirements would be made to the General Assembly for its approval. Finally, the Special Committee expresses the hope that the Secretary-General will continue to provide it with all the facilities and personnel necessary for the discharge of its mandate, taking into account the various tasks assigned to it by the Assembly as well as those arising from decisions taken by it during the current year.

J. Conclusion of the 2009 session

64. At its 12th meeting, on 23 June 2009, the Chairman made a statement on the occasion of the closing of the 2009 session of the Special Committee (see A/AC.109/2009/SR.12).

I. Introduction

1. In its resolution 55/146 of 8 December 2000, the General Assembly declared the period 2001-2010 the Second International Decade for the Eradication of Colonialism, and called upon Member States to redouble their efforts to implement the plan of action set out in the annex to the report of the Secretary-General (A/46/634/Rev.1 and Corr.1), updated where necessary, to serve as the plan of action for the Second Decade. The report of the Secretary-General on the Second International Decade for the Eradication of Colonialism (A/56/61) contains an updated plan of action.

2. In its resolution 63/110 of 5 December 2008, the General Assembly approved the programme of work of the Special Committee on the Situation with regard to the Implementation of the Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples envisaged for 2009, including the holding of a seminar in the Caribbean region to be organized by the Special Committee and attended by the representatives of all the Non-Self-Governing Territories.

3. The objective of this seminar was to enable the Special Committee to hear the views of representatives of the Non-Self-Governing Territories, experts, members of civil society, and other stakeholders in the process of decolonization. It assessed the situation in the Non-Self-Governing Territories, including follow-up to the 2008 Pacific regional seminar, and aimed at identifying policy approach and practical ways of dealing with the challenges and opportunities in the process of decolonization in a changing world. The seminar also assessed the constitutional evolution of the Non-Self-Governing Territories towards self-government and self-determination with a view to developing, in cooperation with the Administering Powers and representatives of the Territories, a constructive programme of work on a case-by-case basis for the decolonization of the Non-Self-Governing Territories. Furthermore, the seminar aimed to further identify areas in which the United Nations system and the international community at large could enhance programmes of assistance to territories within an integral framework, particularly to ensure the sustainable socio-economic development of the territories concerned.

4. The seminar also aimed to assess the progress achieved thus far in the implementation of the Plan of Action of the Second International Decade on the Eradication of Colonialism as it is coming to an end, and to identify priority actions for the remaining year of the decade as well as possible approaches and priorities beyond 2010.

5. The contributions of the participants would serve as a basis for further consideration of the Special Committee at its substantive session in June 2009, with a view to submitting proposals to the General Assembly concerning the fulfilment of the objectives of the Second International Decade for the Eradication of Colonialism.

20. At the same meeting, Delano Frank Bart, Permanent Representative of Saint Kitts and Nevis to the United Nations addressed the seminar, followed by closing remarks by the Chairman (see appendix IV).

21. Also at the same meeting, the participants adopted by acclamation a draft resolution expressing appreciation to the Government and the people of Saint Kitts and Nevis (see appendix V).

IV. Conclusions and recommendations

22. Members of the Special Committee participating in the seminar (henceforth referred to as “participating members”) recalled the Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples contained in General Assembly resolution 1514 (XV) and the role of the Special Committee to examine the application of the Declaration, to make suggestions and recommendations on the progress and extent of the implementation of the Declaration, and to report to the General Assembly.

23. Participating members reaffirmed the continued relevance of the conclusions and recommendations of the previous seminars.

24. In addition, pursuant to rule 9 of the rules of procedure of the seminar (A/AC.109/2009/17, annex), participating members presented the following conclusions and recommendations at the substantive session of the Special Committee:

A. Challenges and opportunities in the process of decolonization in today’s world

25. As their concluding observations, participating members:

(a) Identified a number of cross-cutting issues in the process of decolonization in a changing world, including the impact of climate change, the global economic and financial crisis, the role of regional cooperation, education and public awareness, the role of women, the empowerment of vulnerable people, and the capacity for full self-governance towards self-determination;

(b) Acknowledged that climate change had exposed many of the Non-Self-Governing Territories, particularly the small island Territories, to even greater environmental and economic vulnerability, and that the ongoing global economic and financial crisis had highlighted the importance of the economic sustainability and diversification of the economic base in the Non-Self-Governing Territories;

(c) Welcomed the important role played by regional organizations and regional arrangements in assisting many Non-Self-Governing Territories in coping with various emerging challenges;

(d) Underscored the fact that education and public awareness remain crucial elements for decolonization, particularly to ensure that the peoples concerned would be in a position to make an informed decision regarding their future political status in accordance with the relevant United Nations resolutions and decisions;

(e) Stressed the important role of women in the process of decolonization, including in education, poverty eradication and community empowerment;

(f) Underscored the fact that status-related and/or constitutional review exercises in many of the Non-Self-Governing Territories were delicate processes that should meet certain expectations on a case-by-case basis;

(g) Recognized that enhanced interactions and cooperation between the Special Committee and the administering Powers remain crucial to the implementation of the United Nations decolonization mandate and would be beneficial to all stakeholders, including the administering Powers themselves, and in this connection welcomed the participation of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the United States of America in the seminar;

(h) Recognized also the importance of active engagement from other States Members of the United Nations who are not members of the Special Committee in the work of the Special Committee, and in this connection welcomed the participation of Algeria, Argentina, Brazil, Morocco, Spain, and Togo, as well as the Permanent Observer of the Holy See, in the seminar.

B. Challenges and opportunities in the process of decolonization of the Non-Self-Governing Territories in the Caribbean region

26. As their concluding observations, participating members:

(a) Welcomed the participation of the representatives of Anguilla, Bermuda, British Virgin Islands, Montserrat, Turks and Caicos Islands and the information they furnished to the seminar, and also welcomed the participation of experts as well as representatives of civil society who shared their views on the process of decolonization in Anguilla, Montserrat, the United States Virgin Islands, and the Cayman Islands;

(b) With regard to the current constitutional situation in the Turks and Caicos Islands, took note of the information furnished to the seminar by the Premier of the Territory, and called for full respect for the constitutional arrangement of the territorial Government of the Turks and Caicos Islands;

(c) With regard to the process of Constitutional review in Anguilla, stressed the need for taking into account the consent and wishes of the inhabitants of the Non-Self-Governing Territory in drafting the new constitution.

C. Challenges and opportunities in the process of decolonization of the Non-Self-Governing Territories in the Pacific region and other Territories, including follow-up to the 2008 Pacific Regional Seminar

27. As their concluding observations, participating members:

(a) Welcomed the participation of the representatives of St. Helena and Western Sahara as well as the observer of Gibraltar in the seminar and the information they furnished to the seminar, and also welcomed the participation of a civil society representative who shared his views on the process of decolonization in American Samoa;

(b) Expressed their appreciation for the written statements submitted by the Ulu-o-Tokelau and New Zealand as administering Power of Tokelau to the seminar;

(c) With regard to Western Sahara, the participants recalled the mandate of the Special Committee towards self-determination for the people of Western Sahara, reaffirmed all relevant General Assembly resolutions, including General Assembly resolution 63/105. They supported Security Council resolutions 1754 (2007), 1783 (2007), 1813 (2008) and 1871 (2009) and the commitment of the Secretary-General and his Personal Envoy to a solution to the question of Western Sahara in this context. They called upon the parties to continue to show political will and work in an atmosphere propitious for dialogue in order to enter into a more intensive and substantive phase of negotiations, thus ensuring implementation of the above-mentioned resolutions and the success of the negotiations. They reiterated the call made at previous regional seminars on the parties to continue such negotiations under the auspices of the Secretary-General without preconditions and in good faith, taking into account efforts made since 2006 and subsequent developments, with a view to achieving a just, lasting and mutually acceptable political solution, which will provide for the self-determination of the people of Western Sahara in the context of arrangements consistent with the principles and purposes of the Charter of the United Nations;

(d) With regard to the question of the Falkland Islands (Malvinas), recalled the relevant General Assembly and Special Committee resolutions and decisions on this question, which encouraged the resumption of negotiations between the Governments of Argentina and the United Kingdom with the aim of finding a lasting solution to the sovereignty dispute, taking into account the interests of the population of the Islands, in accordance with the relevant resolutions of the United Nations;

(e) With regard to the question of Gibraltar, welcomed the continuing work of the Forum of Dialogue on Gibraltar involving Spain, the United Kingdom and the territorial Government.

D. Role of the United Nations system in providing assistance to the Non-Self-Governing Territories

28. As their concluding observations, participating members:

(a) Welcomed the participation of the representative of the United Nations-ECLAC and WHO/PAHO at the seminar and the information they furnished to the seminar;

(b) Encouraged the United Nations specialized agencies and other organizations of the United Nations system to intensify their engagement with the work of the Special Committee, including possible participation at the forthcoming regional seminars on decolonization, upon the invitation of the Special Committee.

E. The way forward: priorities for the remainder of the Second International Decade for the Eradication of Colonialism and possible approaches and priorities beyond the Second International Decade for the Eradication of Colonialism

29. As their recommendations, participating members:

(a) Reaffirm that all peoples have the right to self-determination; by virtue of that right they freely determine their political status and freely pursue their economic, social and cultural development;

(b) Also reaffirm that any attempt aimed at the partial or total disruption of the national unity and the territorial integrity of a country is incompatible with the purposes and principles of the Charter of the United Nations;

(c) Reconfirm that the United Nations has a valid ongoing role in the process of decolonization. The mandate of the Special Committee is a major programme of the Organization. United Nations support should be provided until all outstanding decolonization issues are resolved in a satisfactory manner;

(d) Reaffirm the role of the Special Committee as the primary vehicle for fostering the process of decolonization as well as for monitoring the situation in the Territories;

(e) Underline the importance for the Special Committee to develop, as a matter of urgency, a proactive and focused approach, in fulfilment of the goal of decolonization vis-à-vis the Non-Self-Governing Territories on the United Nations list. The Special Committee needs to approach each case with an open mind, to build on the available options and to bring about a results-oriented evolution of positions to help move the decolonization process forward. It also needs to look more thoroughly at how to further operationalize the United Nations decolonization mandate;

(f) In view of the cross-cutting nature of the challenges faced by many Non-Self-Governing Territories in the dynamics of today's world, underline that efforts must be made, through the involvement of relevant stakeholders and on a case-by-case basis, for the continued strengthening of administrative capacity, good governance and economic sustainability of the Non-Self-Governing Territories, which would allow the Territories to address the cross-cutting issues in a holistic manner;

(g) In view of the economic vulnerability brought about by climate change and the global economic and financial crisis, suggest that the relevant stakeholders, particularly the territorial Governments and the administering Powers, step up their attention to community-based sustainable development, including the development of small and medium businesses, the promotion of micro-financing and employment-generating activities, and the empowerment of vulnerable groups in the Non-Self-Governing Territories;

(h) In view of the contribution of various regional organizations and regional arrangements to the capacity-building of the Non-Self-Governing Territories in coping with emerging challenges, advise that effective participation of the Non-Self-Governing Territories in relevant regional organizations and regional arrangements needs to be facilitated, in accordance with the relevant United Nations resolutions and through the appropriate mechanisms, along with the strengthening of concrete regional functional cooperation in various areas, such as natural-disaster preparedness and community empowerment;

(i) Also in view of the important role of regional organizations and regional arrangements in providing assistance to the relevant Non-Self-Governing Territories in support of the process of decolonization, suggest that the Special Committee, in accordance with its mandate and the relevant United Nations resolutions and decisions, strengthen its interactions and collaboration with relevant regional and subregional organizations;

(j) On the issue of public outreach to the peoples of the Non-Self-Governing Territories on decolonization issues, advise the Special Committee, in collaboration with the Department of Public Information, to actively engage and seek new and innovative ways to promote a public awareness campaign aimed at fostering an understanding among the people of the Territories of the options for self-determination in accordance with the relevant United Nations resolutions and decisions on decolonization, including to complement their ongoing efforts and ensuring that the information provided effectively reaches the peoples of the Non-Self-Governing Territories;

(k) On the issue of education, suggest that the relevant territorial Governments and the administering Powers consider incorporating decolonization issues into the school curriculum of the Non-Self-Governing Territories;

(l) In view of the important role of women in the process of decolonization, underline the fact that gender equality must continue to be supported, which will contribute to good governance and enhanced capacity for self-governance through equal rights for all;

(m) On the status-related and/or constitutional review exercises and the overall process of decolonization, stress that such processes should be approached on a case-by-case basis and in a way that is respectful of human rights, transparent, accountable, inclusive and participatory with the involvement of the people concerned, in accordance with the relevant United Nations resolutions and decisions on decolonization and the purposes and principles of the Charter of the United Nations;

(n) On the relationship with administering Powers, advise that interactions and cooperation between the Special Committee and the administering Powers should continue to be nurtured and strengthened through various possible platforms and means, and reaffirm that all administering Powers, particularly those who have not done so, need to engage effectively with the Special Committee;

(o) In view of the valuable contribution of the representatives of the Non-Self-Governing Territories in the seminar, reiterate that the Special Committee, through the proper mechanism and with the assistance of the Secretariat, should continue to work towards full participation of the representatives of the Non-Self-Governing Territories in future seminars. The administering Powers should facilitate the participation of the elected representatives of the Territories in the seminars in conformity with the relevant resolutions and decisions of the United Nations;

(p) On the role of the United Nations system in providing assistance to the Non-Self-Governing Territories, stress that the relevant United Nations bodies and specialized agencies need to engage with the work of the Special Committee and to strengthen their efforts, in accordance with the relevant United Nations resolutions and through the appropriate mechanism, in providing assistance to the Non-Self-Governing Territories. In this regard, the Special Committee needs to develop ways and means to encourage the participation of those agencies and bodies;

(q) Advise the Special Committee that it needs to develop ways and means through which it can make a better assessment, on a case-by-case basis, of the current stage of decolonization and self-determination in each Non-Self-Governing Territory in accordance with the relevant resolutions and decisions of the United Nations, which could serve as a checklist or benchmark on the progress thus far and how much is left to be done;

(r) Reiterate that the Special Committee needs to continue working towards sending visiting missions to the Non-Self-Governing Territories, with the involvement of the relevant territorial Government and administering Power, on a case-by-case basis, and in accordance with the relevant United Nations resolutions. In this regard, notes the interest expressed at the seminar by representatives of Non-Self-Governing Territories in such visiting and special missions;

(s) Suggest that the Special Committee needs to consider proposing to the General Assembly the possibility of launching a Third International Decade for the Eradication of Colonialism, reaffirming that the process of decolonization is incomplete until all the outstanding decolonization issues are resolved in a satisfactory manner.

Message from the Secretary-General

It gives me great pleasure to convey my greetings to all who have gathered in St. Kitts and Nevis for the 2009 Caribbean Regional seminar on decolonization. I thank the Government and people of St. Kitts and Nevis for hosting this event.

This seminar gives the Special Committee on decolonization an opportunity to examine the progress made in the implementation of the principles contained in the United Nations Charter relating to Non-Self-Governing Territories, and in the Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples. The right to self-determination must be taken into proper account as we explore how to accelerate the decolonization process for the remaining 16 Territories under the Committee's purview.

I commend the Committee for deciding to look at the challenges and opportunities for the decolonization process within the dynamics of a changing world. The global economic crisis poses a direct threat to many economies in the Territories, including through its negative effect on tourism, a major source of income. The potentially devastating impact of climate change is also of urgent concern, particularly as many of the Non-Self-Governing Territories are small islands.

Progress in discharging the decolonization mandate of the Special Committee on Decolonization will require close cooperation between the Non-Self-Governing Territories, the administering Powers and the Special Committee. The interests of the peoples of the Non-Self-Governing Territories must be at the heart of our efforts. I count on the administering Powers in particular to discharge their obligations in a manner that promotes the well-being of the inhabitants of the territories within their responsibility. The United Nations system will continue to offer assistance to the Non-Self-Governing Territories as appropriate, in areas such as economic and social development, environmental sustainability, health care and good governance.

As we approach the end of the Second International Decade for the Eradication of Colonialism, I urge you to continue working together to find solutions for the completion of the decolonization process, with the aim of de-listing additional territories. The United Nations Secretariat stands ready to assist. In that spirit of partnership, I wish you a productive and successful seminar.

Appendix III

Opening statement by the Chair

I would like to welcome all participants to the 2009 United Nations Caribbean regional seminar on decolonization in Frigate Bay, Saint Kitts and Nevis, convened under the auspices of the Special Committee on the Situation with regard to the Implementation of Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples.

On behalf of the Special Committee, I would also like to extend our sincere thanks to the Government and people of Saint Kitts and Nevis for hosting the seminar.

We are delighted that this year's seminar is taking place in a country and region that have undertaken tireless efforts to eradicate colonialism, with a good measure of success.

Our host country, Saint Kitts and Nevis, along with other Caribbean States, has always played an active and much appreciated role in the work of the Special Committee.

The seminar is an essential part of the work of the Special Committee as well as the implementation of the Second International Decade. It has a strong symbolic significance as it is held in the month during which the Special Committee observes the week of solidarity with the peoples of Non-Self-Governing Territories. It has a clear deliberative value, as a forum where views are exchanged in an informal and interactive manner on how to make progress in the area of decolonization.

As we are approaching the very end of the Second Decade, this seminar has a further fundamental importance for the Special Committee to seek fresh and innovative ideas and recommendations to implement the mandate entrusted to it by the General Assembly.

This year's theme topic, "Challenges and opportunities in the process of decolonization in today's world", bears an important message: we need to contemplate on how to meet contemporary challenges, consistent with the United Nations and the Special Committee's core principles and resolutions on decolonization.

This theme was chosen as a logical follow-up to last year's seminar.

Last year, at the 2008 Pacific regional seminar in Bandung, Indonesia, in addition to the topical focus on the decolonization process in the Pacific region, we sought to find ways and means to improve cooperation with administering Powers, provide better information to the peoples of the Non-Self-Governing Territories about their status, and identify practical steps to implement the United Nations decolonization mandate on a case-by-case basis.

This year, in addition to taking a closer look at the decolonization process in the Caribbean region, we seek ways to enhance the Special Committee's relevance to the peoples of the Non-Self-Governing Territories, within the dynamics of a changing world.

We look forward to hear your views on how current global challenges, such as climate change, global economic crisis, and global food crisis, may have affected the path towards decolonization.

We are keen to hear your views about how improved access to education and information technology, as well as improved understanding of constitutional rights, may have brought up new opportunities in the process of decolonization.

We are delighted to see a large turnout at this year's seminar. On behalf of the Special Committee, I would like to welcome the representatives of the Non-Self-Governing Territories, administering Powers, other United Nations Member States, as well as experts and representatives of civil society, at this seminar. We look forward to having fruitful and constructive discussions with all of you.

This is where the seminar has an essential, deliberative role: the more creative and innovative we are in the next few days, the more the seminar's deliberations hold promise to identify opportunities for the effective implementation of the United Nations decolonization mandate. This includes improved cooperation of administering Powers in the work of the Special Committee; and the promotion of tangible support and assistance to Non-Self-Governing Territories to help them face the numerous challenges in today's world.

In this spirit, let us deliberate, even debate, and work together towards a fruitful outcome of the seminar.

It is therefore a great honour for me to declare the 2009 Caribbean Regional seminar on decolonization open.

Appendix IV

Closing statement by the Chair

On behalf of the Special Committee, I should like to, again, express our sincere thanks to the Government and people of Saint Kitts and Nevis for hosting the 2009 regional seminar on decolonization.

I would also like to thank all the participants for making valuable contributions, in written and oral presentations, including from the territorial Governments, the administering Powers, experts and civil society representatives. As in the past, written presentations that are made available to the Secretariat will be posted on the United Nations decolonization website.

We have had good, constructive discussions on a number of important issues on how to move the decolonization process forward for the Non-Self-Governing Territories, on a case-by-case basis and in the context of a changing world.

We discussed various emerging challenges which could affect the Non-Self-Governing Territories in their path towards decolonization.

Not least, we discussed the opportunities that might be available in responding to these challenges.

Along this line, we discussed, among others, issues related to the impact of climate change, the global economic and financial crisis; as well as the role of regional cooperation, education and public awareness, the role of women, the empowerment of vulnerable people, and the capacity for full self-governance towards self-determination.

Without seeking to summarize the wealth of the discussions that we had, I would like to recall a number of salient points, especially those of a cross-cutting nature. They include the following:

In fostering a better understanding of decolonization issues and status-related questions, we should not overlook the value of comparative analysis. Notwithstanding the fact that decolonization needs to be approached on a case-by-case basis, comparative assessment could help us in drawing valuable lessons-learned for our common benefits.

Political maturity, economic sustainability, enhanced administrative capacity and strengthened regional cooperation are important elements for the Non-Self-Governing Territories in responding to the challenges of today's world. The cross-cutting nature of such challenges requires that these elements be approached in a holistic and mutually reinforcing manner.

For example, in response to the challenges of climate change, which have exposed many of the Non-Self-Governing Territories to even greater environmental and economic vulnerability, regional cooperation can play a crucial role through various forms of functional and technical cooperation, such as in the field of disaster preparedness. This, in turn, may also contribute to enhancing the capacity of the Non-Self-Governing Territories for full self-governance.

Indeed, regional cooperation and regional arrangements have offered and should continue to offer important opportunities for many Non-Self-Governing Territories in coping with various emerging challenges. They contribute to the development of a strong regional identity and the strengthening of concrete functional cooperation in various areas of mutual interests.

We recognize the important role that the United Nations regional commissions such as ECLAC and other regional organizations such as CARICOM and the Organization of Eastern Caribbean States can play in facilitating sustainable development in many Non-Self-Governing Territories. The importance of enhanced engagement and role of the United Nations specialized agencies was underscored.

We also discussed the impacts of the global economic and financial crisis on the Non-Self-Governing Territories. The crisis has further highlighted the importance of economic sustainability and diversification of the economic base in the Non-Self-Governing Territories. The relevant territorial Government and administering Power may approach this by stepping up their attention to some areas of community-based development, including the development of small and medium-size enterprises, the promotion of micro-financing and employment-generating activities, and the empowerment of vulnerable groups.

Education and public outreach remains a crucial element for decolonization. This is particularly relevant to enable the people concerned to make an informed decision regarding their future political status. In this context it is also worth noting that various deliberations on decolonization and status-related exercises in the Territories should connect, in a meaningful way, to the reality on the ground and to the people concerned themselves.

There was recognition of the important role played by women in the process of decolonization, including through their active involvement in education, poverty eradication, and community empowerment. Gender equality contributes significantly to good governance and enhanced capacity for self-governance through equal rights for all.

We had illuminating discussions, structured on a case-by-case basis, about the situation of self-governance and self-determination in the Non-Self-Governing Territories. We also had an extensive exchange of views on the status-related exercises in various Non-Self-Governing Territories.

Status-related and constitution exercises is a delicate issue that needs to meet certain expectations. It needs to be approached in a transparent, accountable, inclusive and participatory manner, with the involvement of the people concerned. It needs to be in line with the purposes and principles of the Charter of the United Nations, as well as relevant United Nations resolutions and decisions on decolonization. It needs to adhere to human rights standards and the principles of good governance and democracy. It needs to build upon the identity, cultural norms, and local values of the Non-Self-Governing Territory concerned. Again, education and public outreach can be crucial for this.

We also had a frank exchange of views about how the Special Committee could enhance its capacity to better understand the situation on the ground in each of the Non-Self-Governing Territories and also for the Special Committee to be more proactive in its approach. We need to look into ways and means of better assessing, on a case-by-case basis, the current stage of decolonization and self-determination in each Non-Self-Governing Territory and how much is left to be done. We need to look more thoroughly at how to further operationalize the United Nations decolonization mandate. We also need to continue working towards the possibility of sending visiting missions to the Non-Self-Governing Territories, on a case-by-case basis and with the involvement of the relevant territorial Government and administering Power.

Indeed, enhanced interaction and cooperation between the Special Committee and the administering Powers remain crucial to the implementation of the United Nations decolonization mandate. This will be beneficial to all parties, particularly the peoples of the Non-Self-Governing Territories. In this context, we may need to explore the possibility of creating frameworks for talks, whether informal or formal in nature, bilateral or multi-stakeholders in nature, involving the Non-Self-Governing Territories, the administering Powers, and the Special Committee.

We had valuable discussions on the way forward, about which several ideas were presented. It is worth noting that, in any case, the underlying principle for the way forward is how to enhance the Special Committee's relevance to the peoples of the Non-Self-Governing Territories.

Indeed, that is also the main purpose of this seminar: how to enhance the Special Committee's relevance to the peoples of the Non-Self-Governing Territories. I believe it is fair for me to say that we have had productive discussions on this. I believe it is fair for me to conclude that we have managed to organize a comparatively more interactive seminar this year.

This is not the end, nevertheless. Members of the Special Committee who are participating at this seminar will need to provide the Special Committee with their conclusions and recommendations. Let us, members of the Special Committee who are participating at the seminar, make the most of this opportunity to come up with sound conclusions and recommendations.

Chapter III

Dissemination of information on decolonization

74. The Special Committee considered the question of dissemination of information on decolonization at its 3rd meeting, on 8 June 2009.

75. In its consideration of the item, the Special Committee took into account the provisions of the relevant General Assembly resolutions, including, in particular, resolution 63/109 on the dissemination of information on decolonization and resolution 63/110 on the implementation of the Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples.

76. The Special Committee held consultations with representatives of the Department of Public Information and of the Department of Political Affairs of the Secretariat at its 3rd meeting, on 8 June (see A/AC.109/2009/SR.3).

77. At the same meeting, the Chairman of the Special Committee drew attention to the report of the Secretary-General on the dissemination of information on decolonization (A/AC.109/2009/18 and Corr.1) and a draft resolution on the item submitted by the Chairman (A/AC.109/2009/L.5).

78. At the same meeting also, the Secretary brought the attention of the Special Committee to a technical correction in operative paragraph 2 of the draft resolution by which the words “to empower” would be replaced by the word “through” and the words “actively engage and seek new and innovative ways” would be inserted before the words “disseminate material” on the last line of that paragraph. The Committee adopted the draft resolution A/AC.109/2009/L.5, as technically corrected, without a vote.

79. The text of draft resolution A/AC.109/2009/L.5, adopted by the Special Committee at its 3rd meeting, on 8 June 2009, appears in the present report in the form of a recommendation of the Special Committee to the General Assembly (see chap. XII, draft resolution VII).

Chapter IV

Question of sending visiting missions to Territories

80. The Special Committee considered the question of sending visiting missions to Territories at its 3rd meeting, on 8 June 2009.

81. In its consideration of the item, the Special Committee took into account the provisions of the relevant General Assembly resolutions, including, in particular, the pertinent provisions of resolution 63/110 on the implementation of the Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples and resolutions 63/108 A and B and 63/107 of 5 December 2008 relating to specific Territories.

82. In addition, the Special Committee considered the specific Territories referred to it, taking into account the relevant provisions of General Assembly resolutions 63/109 and 63/110, as well as previous decisions of the Special Committee relating to the question.

83. At the 3rd meeting, on 8 June 2009, the Chairman drew attention to a draft resolution on the item (A/AC.109/2009/L.6) (see A/AC.109/2009/SR.3).

The Special Committee,

Having considered the question of sending visiting missions to Territories,

Recalling the relevant resolutions and decisions of the General Assembly and the Special Committee requesting the administering Powers to cooperate fully with the United Nations by receiving visiting missions in the Territories under their administration,

Mindful that United Nations visiting missions provide an effective means of assessing the situation in those Territories and of ascertaining the wishes and aspirations of the peoples thereof regarding their future status,

Conscious that United Nations visiting missions enhance the capacity of the United Nations to assist the peoples of Non-Self-Governing Territories in attaining the objectives set forth in the Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples, contained in General Assembly resolution 1514 (XV) of 14 December 1960, in other relevant resolutions of the Assembly and

Recalling with satisfaction the dispatch of two United Nations missions to observe the referendums in Tokelau, in February 2006 and October 2007, at the invitation of New Zealand as the administering Power,⁸

Recalling with satisfaction also the cooperation of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, as the administering Power, in facilitating the United Nations special mission to the Turks and Caicos Islands in April 2006⁹ at the request of the territorial Government,

Recalling the importance of the previously expressed desire of the territorial Governments of American Samoa and of Anguilla for a visiting mission by the Special Committee,

1. Stresses the need to dispatch periodic visiting missions to Non-Self-Governing Territories in order to facilitate the full, speedy and effective implementation of the Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples with respect to those Territories, in accordance with the relevant resolutions of the United Nations on decolonization and the plan of action for the Second International Decade for the Eradication of Colonialism;⁷

2. Calls upon the administering Powers that have not yet done so to cooperate or continue to cooperate with the United Nations by facilitating United Nations visiting missions to the Territories under their administration, in accordance with the relevant resolutions of the United Nations on decolonization;

¹⁴ Official Records of the General Assembly, Sixty-fourth Session, Supplement No. 23 (A/64/23), chap. VI.

The General Assembly,

Having considered the question of Tokelau,

Having examined the chapter of the report of the Special Committee on the Situation with regard to the Implementation of the Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples relating to Tokelau,¹⁸

Recalling its resolution 1514 (XV) of 14 December 1960, containing the Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples, and all resolutions and decisions of the United Nations relating to Non-Self-Governing Territories, in particular General Assembly resolution 63/107 of 5 December 2008,

Noting with appreciation the continuing exemplary cooperation of New Zealand as the administering Power with regard to the work of the Special Committee relating to Tokelau and its readiness to permit access by United Nations visiting missions to the Territory,

Also noting with appreciation the collaborative contribution to the development of Tokelau by New Zealand and the specialized agencies and other organizations of the United Nations system, in particular the United Nations Development Programme, ¹⁸ Official Records of the General Assembly, Sixty-fourth Session, Supplement No. 23 (A/63/23), chap. X.

Recalling the inauguration in 1996 of a national legislative body, the General Fono, based on village elections by universal adult suffrage and the assumption by that body in June 2003 of full responsibility for the Tokelau budget,

Noting that, as a small island Territory, Tokelau exemplifies the situation of most remaining Non-Self-Governing Territories and that, as a case study pointing to successful cooperation for decolonization, Tokelau has wider significance for the United Nations as it seeks to complete its work in decolonization,

Recalling that New Zealand and Tokelau signed in November 2003 a document entitled “Joint statement of the principles of partnership”, which sets out in writing, for the first time, the rights and obligations of the two partner countries,

Bearing in mind the decision of the General Fono at its meeting in November 2003, following extensive consultations undertaken in all three villages, to explore formally with New Zealand the option of self-government in free association and its decision in August 2005 to hold a referendum on self-government on the basis of a draft constitution for Tokelau and a treaty of free association with New Zealand, and its subsequent decision to hold a further referendum in October 2007,

1. Notes that Tokelau and New Zealand remain firmly committed to the ongoing development of Tokelau for the long-term benefit of the people of Tokelau, with particular emphasis on the further development of facilities on each atoll that meet their current requirements;

2. Notes also the ongoing recognition by New Zealand of the complete right of the people of Tokelau to undertake the act of self-determination when this is considered by the people of Tokelau to be appropriate;

3. Welcomes the progress made towards the devolution of power to the three taupulega (village councils), in particular the delegation of the Administrator’s powers to the three taupulega with effect from 1 July 2004 and the assumption by each taupulega from that date of full responsibility for the management of all its public services;

4. Recalls the decision of the General Fono in November 2003, following extensive consultations in all three villages and a meeting of the Special Committee on the Constitution of Tokelau, to explore formally with New Zealand the option of self-government in free association, and the discussions subsequently held between Tokelau and New Zealand pursuant to the General Fono decision;

5. Recalls also the decision of the General Fono in August 2005 to hold a referendum on self-government on the basis of a draft constitution for Tokelau and a draft treaty of free association with New Zealand, and notes the enactment by the General Fono of rules for the referendum;

6. Notes that two referendums to determine the status of Tokelau, held in February 2006 and October 2007, did not produce the two-thirds majority of the valid votes cast required by the General Fono to change Tokelau’s status from that of a Non-Self-Governing Territory under the administration of New Zealand;

7. Commends the professional and transparent conduct of both the February 2006 and October 2007 referendums, monitored by the United Nations;

8. Acknowledges the decision of the General Fono that consideration of any future act of self-determination by Tokelau will be deferred and that New Zealand and Tokelau will devote renewed effort and attention to ensuring that essential services and infrastructure on the atolls of Tokelau are enhanced and strengthened, thereby ensuring an enhanced quality of life for the people of Tokelau;

9. Also acknowledges Tokelau's initiative in devising a strategic economic development plan for the period 2007-2010;

10. Further acknowledges the ongoing and consistent commitment of New Zealand to meeting the social and economic requirements of the people of Tokelau, as well as the support and cooperation of the United Nations Development Programme;

11. Acknowledges Tokelau's need for continued support from the international community;

12. Recalls with satisfaction the establishment and operation of the Tokelau International Trust Fund to support the ongoing needs of Tokelau, and calls upon Member States and international and regional agencies to contribute to the Fund and thereby lend practical support to Tokelau in overcoming the problems of smallness, isolation and lack of resources;

13. Welcomes the assurance of the Government of New Zealand that it will meet its obligations with respect to Tokelau;

14. Also welcomes the cooperative attitude of the other States and territories in the region towards Tokelau, and their support for its economic and political aspirations and its increasing participation in regional and international affairs;

15. Calls upon the administering Power and United Nations agencies to continue to provide assistance to Tokelau as it further develops;

16. Welcomes the actions taken by the administering Power to transmit information regarding the political, economic and social situation of Tokelau to the Secretary-General;

17. Also welcomes the commitment of both Tokelau and New Zealand to continue to work together in the interests of Tokelau and its people;

18. Requests the Special Committee on the Situation with regard to the Implementation of the Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples to continue to examine the question of the Non-Self-Governing Territory of Tokelau and to report thereon to the General Assembly at its sixty-fifth session.

Draft resolution VI
Questions of American Samoa, Anguilla, Bermuda, the British Virgin Islands, the Cayman Islands, Guam, Montserrat, Pitcairn, Saint Helena, the Turks and Caicos Islands and the United States Virgin Islands

The General Assembly,

Having considered the questions of the Non-Self-Governing Territories of American Samoa, Anguilla, Bermuda, the British Virgin Islands, the Cayman Islands, Guam, Montserrat, Pitcairn, Saint Helena, the Turks and Caicos Islands and the United States Virgin Islands, hereinafter referred to as “the Territories”,

Having examined the relevant chapter of the report of the Special Committee on the Situation with regard to the Implementation of the Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples,¹⁹

Recalling all resolutions and decisions of the United Nations relating to those Territories, including, in particular, the resolutions adopted by the General Assembly at its sixty-third session on the individual Territories covered by the present resolution,

Recognizing that all available options for self-determination of the Territories are valid as long as they are in accordance with the freely expressed wishes of the peoples concerned and in conformity with the clearly defined principles contained in General Assembly resolutions 1514 (XV) of 14 December 1960, 1541 (XV) of 15 December 1960 and other resolutions of the Assembly,

Recalling its resolution 1541 (XV), containing the principles that should guide Member States in determining whether or not an obligation exists to transmit the information called for under Article 73 e of the Charter of the United Nations,

Expressing concern that more than forty-eight years after the adoption of the Declaration on the Granting of Independence to Colonial Countries and Peoples,²⁰ there still remain a number of Non-Self-Governing Territories,

Conscious of the importance of continuing effective implementation of the Declaration, taking into account the target set by the United Nations to eradicate colonialism by 2010 and the plan of action for the Second International Decade for the Eradication of Colonialism,⁷

Recognizing that the specific characteristics and the aspirations of the peoples of the Territories require flexible, practical and innovative approaches to the options of self-determination, without any prejudice to territorial size, geographical location, size of population or natural resources,

Noting the stated position of the Government of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the stated position of the Government of the ²⁰ Resolution 1514 (XV).

United States of America on the Non-Self-Governing Territories under their administration,

Noting also the constitutional developments in some Non-Self-Governing Territories affecting the internal structure of governance about which the Special Committee has received information,

Convinced that the wishes and aspirations of the peoples of the Territories should continue to guide the development of their future political status and that referendums, free and fair elections and other forms of popular consultation play an important role in ascertaining the wishes and aspirations of the people,

Convinced also that any negotiations to determine the status of a Territory must take place with the active involvement and participation of the people of that Territory, under the aegis of the United Nations, on a case-by-case basis, and that the views of the peoples of the Non-Self-Governing Territories in respect of their right to self-determination should be ascertained,

Noting that a number of Non-Self-Governing Territories have expressed concern at the procedure followed by some administering Powers, contrary to the wishes of the Territories themselves, of amending or enacting legislation for application to the Territories, either through orders in council, in order to apply to the Territories the international treaty obligations of the administering Power, or through the unilateral application of laws and regulations,

Aware of the importance of the international financial services and tourism sectors for the economies of some of the Non-Self-Governing Territories,

Noting the continued cooperation of the Non-Self-Governing Territories at the local and regional levels, including participation in the work of regional organizations,

Mindful that United Nations visiting and special missions provide an effective means of ascertaining the situation in the Territories, that some Territories have not received a United Nations visiting mission for a long time and that no visiting missions have been sent to some of the Territories, and considering the possibility of sending further visiting missions to the Territories at an appropriate time, in consultation with the relevant administering Powers and in accordance with the relevant resolutions and decisions of the United Nations on decolonization,

Mindful also that, in order for the Special Committee to enhance its understanding of the political status of the peoples of the Territories and to fulfil its mandate effectively, it is important for it to be apprised by the relevant administering Powers and to receive information from other appropriate sources, including the representatives of the Territories, concerning the wishes and aspirations of the peoples of the Territories,

Acknowledging the regular transmission by the administering Powers to the Secretary-General of information called for under Article 73 e of the Charter,

Aware of the importance both to the Territories and to the Special Committee of the participation of elected and appointed representatives of the Territories in the work of the Committee,

Recognizing the need for the Special Committee to ensure that the appropriate bodies of the United Nations actively pursue a public awareness campaign aimed at assisting the peoples of the Territories in gaining a better understanding of the options of self-determination,

Mindful, in this connection, that the holding of regional seminars in the Caribbean and Pacific regions and at Headquarters, with the active participation of representatives of the Non-Self-Governing Territories, provides a helpful means for the Special Committee to fulfil its mandate, and that the regional nature of the seminars, which alternate between the Caribbean and the Pacific, is a crucial element in the context of a United Nations programme for ascertaining the political status of the Territories,

Noting the stated positions of the representatives of the Non-Self-Governing Territories before the Special Committee and at its regional seminars,

Mindful that the 2009 Caribbean regional seminar was held in Frigate Bay, Saint Kitts and Nevis, from 12 to 14 May,

Conscious of the particular vulnerability of the Territories to natural disasters and environmental degradation, and, in this connection, bearing in mind the applicability to the Territories of the programmes of action or outcome documents of all United Nations world conferences and special sessions of the General Assembly in the economic and social sphere,

Noting with appreciation the contribution to the development of some Territories by the specialized agencies and other organizations of the United Nations system, in particular the United Nations Development Programme, the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean and the Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific, as well as regional institutions such as the Caribbean Development Bank, the Caribbean Community, the Organization of Eastern Caribbean States, the Pacific Islands Forum and the agencies of the Council of Regional Organizations in the Pacific,
