I. Introduction

The present document, which is an addendum to the annotated preliminary list of items to be included in the provisional agenda of the seventy-fifth regular session of the General Assembly (A/75/100), is being issued in accordance with paragraph 17 (c) of annex II to Assembly resolution 2837 (XXVI). The annotated draft agenda has been prepared on the basis of the provisional agenda of the seventy-fifth session (A/75/150, issued on 17 July 2020) and contains information relating to items 4 to 6, 10, 11 (b), 12, 29, 30, 33 (b) to 35, 39, 40, 42 to 48, 53, 64 to 66, 91, 116 to 118 (b), 119 (a), 120 (i), 121, 124 to 127, 135, 136 and 138 to 170.

II. Annotated draft agenda

4. Election of the President of the General Assembly

In accordance with Article 21 of the Charter, the General Assembly shall elect its President for each session. Under rule 30 of the rules of procedure, the Assembly shall elect a President at least three months before the opening of the session over which the President is to preside. The President so elected will assume the functions only at the beginning of that session for which the President is elected and shall hold office until the close of that session. The Assembly has had the item entitled “Election of the President of the General Assembly” on its agenda annually since its first session (decisions adopted at the first to thirtieth sessions and decisions 31/302, 32/302, 33/302, 34/302, 35/302, 36/302, 37/302, 38/302, 39/302, 40/302, 41/302, 42/302, 43/302, 44/302, 45/302, 46/302, 47/302, 48/302, 49/302, 50/302, 51/302, 52/302, 53/302, 54/302, 55/302, 56/302, 56/320, 57/418, 58/418, 59/421, 60/418, 61/418, 62/416, 63/421, 64/422, 65/416, 66/424, 67/420, 68/418, 69/421, 70/421, 71/419, 72/417, 73/418 and 74/417).

At its seventy-fourth session, the Assembly elected Volkan Bozkır (Turkey) as its President for the seventy-fifth session (decision 74/417).

At its thirty-third session, the Assembly, under the item entitled “Question of the composition of the relevant organs of the United Nations”, decided (resolution 33/138, annex, para. 1) that, in the election of the President, regard should be had for equitable geographical rotation of the office among the following groups of States:

- (a) African States;
- (b) Asia-Pacific States;
- (c) Eastern European States;
- (d) Latin American and Caribbean States;
- (e) Western European and other States.

In accordance with rule 92 of the rules of procedure, the election is held by secret ballot. At its thirty-fourth session, however, the Assembly, under the item entitled “Adoption of the agenda and organization of work”, decided that the practice of dispensing with the secret ballot for elections to subsidiary organs when the number of candidates corresponded to the number of seats to be filled should become standard and that the same practice should apply to the election of the President of the Assembly, unless a delegation specifically requested a vote on a given election (decision 34/401, para. 16). Since the thirty-second session, with the exception of the thirty-sixth, thirty-eighth, forty-third, forty-sixth, sixty-sixth, seventieth, seventy-second and seventy-fourth sessions, the President has been elected by acclamation.

Pursuant to resolution 70/305, adopted under the agenda item entitled “Revitalization of the work of the General Assembly”, the President-elect shall take an oath of office of his or her own, as detailed in annex I to the resolution, at the moment of handing over the gavel in the final plenary meeting of the preceding session. In its resolution 71/323, adopted under the same item, the Assembly decided, in full respect of the established principle of geographical rotation and its resolution 33/138, to conduct informal interactive dialogues with candidates for the position of the President of the Assembly, thus contributing to the transparency and inclusivity of the process, and called upon candidates to present to the Assembly their vision statements. The Assembly also invited Member States to consider presenting women as candidates for the position of President of the Assembly.

5. Election of the officers of the Main Committees

The General Assembly has six Main Committees. At its forty-seventh session, the Assembly, under the agenda item entitled “Revitalization of the work of the General Assembly”, decided (resolution 47/233) to amend rule 98 of the rules of procedure of the Assembly as follows:

- “1. Decides that the Main Committees of the General Assembly shall be as follows:
 - (a) Disarmament and International Security Committee (First Committee);
 - (b) Special Political and Decolonization Committee (Fourth Committee);
 - (c) Economic and Financial Committee (Second Committee);
 - (d) Social, Humanitarian and Cultural Committee (Third Committee);
 - (e) Administrative and Budgetary Committee (Fifth Committee);
 - (f) Legal Committee (Sixth Committee).”

At its fifty-second session, the Assembly, under the item entitled “Report of the Special Committee on the Charter of the United Nations and on the Strengthening of the Role of the Organization”, decided to amend the first sentence of rule 103 of the rules of procedure to read: “Each Main Committee shall elect a Chair, three Vice-Chairs and a Rapporteur” (resolution 52/163, para. 1).

Rule 103 states that the elections shall be held by secret ballot unless the Committee decides otherwise in an election where only one candidate is standing. Since in the great majority of cases only one candidate is nominated, most officers of Main Committees are elected by acclamation (decisions adopted at the first to thirtieth sessions and decisions 31/303, 32/303, 33/304, 34/303, 35/303, 36/303, 37/303, 38/303, 39/303, 40/304, 41/304, 42/303, 43/303, 44/303, 45/303, 46/303, 47/303, 48/303, 49/303, 50/303, 51/303, 52/303, 53/303, 54/303, 55/303, 56/303, 57/419, 58/419, 59/422, 60/419 A and B, 61/419, 62/417, 63/422, 64/423 A and B, 65/417, 66/426, 68/402, 68/423, 69/422, 70/423, 71/402, 71/421, 72/402, 72/420, 73/403, 73/421, 74/403 and 74/421).

In addition, rule 103 provides that the nomination of each candidate shall be limited to one speaker, after which the Committee shall immediately proceed to the election.

Rule 99 (a) stipulates that all the Main Committees shall, at least three months before the opening of the session, elect a Chair and that elections of the other officers provided for in rule 103 shall be held at the latest by the end of the first week of the session. In accordance with resolution 58/126, adopted under the agenda item entitled “Revitalization of the work of the General Assembly”, the full Bureaux of the Main Committees shall also be elected three months in advance of the next session.

In accordance with rule 30, the Vice-Presidents shall be elected after the election of the Chairs of the six Main Committees, in such a way as to ensure the representative character of the General Committee.

At the seventy-fourth session, the Main Committees elected their Chairs for the seventy-fifth session (decision 74/421) as follows:

First Committee:	Agustín Santos Maraver (Spain)
Special Political and Decolonization Committee (Fourth Committee):	Collen Vixen Kelapile (Botswana)
Second Committee:	Amrit Bahadur Rai (Nepal)
Third Committee:	Katalin Annamária Bogyay (Hungary)
Fifth Committee:	Carlos Amorín (Uruguay)
Sixth Committee:	Milenko Esteban Skoknic Tapia (Chile)

At its sixty-eighth session, the Assembly decided, under the item entitled “Revitalization of the work of the General Assembly”, to reiterate the guidelines on the election of the Chairs and Rapporteurs of the Main Committees contained in the annex to the resolution (resolution 68/307). At its seventy-second session, the Assembly, under the item entitled “Revitalization of the work of the General Assembly”, decided to establish the pattern for the rotation of the Chairs of the Main Committees for the forthcoming 10 sessions, namely from the seventy-fourth to the eighty-third session, as contained in resolution 72/313.

6. Election of the Vice-Presidents of the General Assembly

The President of the General Assembly is assisted by 21 Vice-Presidents. The duties involved are performed by heads of delegations of Member States, and not by individuals elected in their personal capacity. The Assembly decided on four occasions to increase the number of Vice-Presidents (resolutions 1104 \(XI\), 1192 \(XII\), 1990 \(XVIII\) and 33/138).

Under rule 30 of the rules of procedure, the Assembly shall elect 21 Vice-Presidents at least three months before the opening of the session over which they are to preside (decisions adopted at the first to thirtieth sessions and decisions 31/304, 32/304, 33/303, 34/304, 35/304, 36/304, 37/304, 38/304, 39/304, 40/303, 41/303, 42/304, 43/304, 44/304, 45/304, 46/304, 47/304, 48/304, 49/304, 50/304, 51/304, 52/304, 53/304, 54/304, 55/304, 56/304, 56/322, 57/420, 58/420, 59/423, 60/420, 61/420, 62/418, 63/423, 64/424, 65/418 A and B, 66/425 A and B, 67/421 A and B, 68/419, 69/423, 70/422, 71/420, 72/418, 73/419 and 74/420). The Vice-Presidents so elected will assume the functions only at the beginning of the session for which they are elected and shall hold office until the close of that session.

At its seventy-fourth session, the Assembly elected the following Member States as its Vice Presidents for the seventy-fifth session: Afghanistan, Albania, Cameroon, China, Eswatini, France, Grenada, Jordan, Lebanon, Libya, Mali, Monaco, Palau, Paraguay, Peru, Russian Federation, Somalia, Togo, Turkmenistan, United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and United States of America (decision 74/420).

In accordance with rule 92 of the rules of procedure, the election is held by secret ballot. Vice-Presidents are elected by a simple majority. At its thirty-fourth session, however, the Assembly, under the item entitled “Adoption of the agenda and organization of work”, decided that the practice of dispensing with the secret ballot for elections to subsidiary organs when the number of candidates corresponded to the number of seats to be filled should become standard and that the same practice should apply to the election of the Vice-Presidents of the Assembly, unless a delegation specifically requested a vote on a given election (decision 34/401, para. 16). Since the thirty-second session, with the exception of the thirty-sixth, thirty-eighth, forty-first and forty-second sessions in the case of one of the regional groups (decisions 36/304, 38/304, 41/303 and 42/304), the Vice-Presidents have been elected by acclamation.

In accordance with rule 30, the Vice-Presidents shall be elected after the election of the Chairs of the Main Committees, in such a way as to ensure the representative character of the General Committee (see item 7).

At its thirty-third session, the Assembly, under the item entitled “Question of the composition of the relevant organs of the United Nations”, decided, in its resolution 33/138 (see annex, para. 2), that the 21 Vice-Presidents should be elected according to the following pattern:

- (a) Six representatives from African States;
- (b) Five representatives from Asia-Pacific States;
- (c) One representative from an Eastern European State;
- (d) Three representatives from Latin American and Caribbean States;
- (e) Two representatives from Western European or other States;
- (f) Five representatives from the permanent members of the Security Council.

The election of the President of the Assembly has the effect, however, of reducing by one the number of vice-presidencies allocated to the region from which the President is elected (resolution 33/138, annex, para. 3).

141. Proposed programme budget for 2021

Pursuant to regulation 2.4 of the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations, the Secretary-General, in the second year of a financial period, submits to the General Assembly at its regular session his proposed programme budget for the following financial period. At its seventy-second session, the Assembly considered this question under the item entitled “Review of the efficiency of the administrative and financial functioning of the United Nations”. The Assembly welcomed the Secretary-General’s commitment to improving the ability of the United Nations to deliver on its mandates through management reform, approved the proposed change from a biennial to an annual budget period on a trial basis, beginning with the programme budget for 2020, and requested the Secretary-General to conduct a review of changes to the budgetary cycle in 2022, following the completion of the first full budgetary cycle. The Assembly decided that the proposed programme budget document would consist of three parts: (a) part I: the plan outline, which endorses the long-term priorities and the objectives of the Organization; (b) part II: the programme plan for programmes and subprogrammes and programme performance information; and (c) part III: the post and non-post resource requirements for the programmes and subprogrammes. It reaffirmed that no changes to the budget methodology, established budgetary procedures and practices or the financial regulations may be implemented without prior review and approval by the Assembly in accordance with established budgetary procedures (resolution 72/266 A).

At its sixtieth session, the Assembly endorsed the proposal that the request for a subvention to the United Nations Institute for Disarmament Research be submitted for review and approval by the Assembly on a biennial basis in the context of its consideration of the proposed programme budget for the related biennium (resolution 60/248, sect. IV). With the approved change in cycle of the proposed programme budget from biennial to annual, the request for a subvention to the United Nations Institute for Disarmament Research will be submitted for review and approval by the Assembly on an annual basis in the context of its consideration of the proposed programme budget, pursuant to resolution 72/266 A.

At its seventy-third session, the Assembly, having considered the report of the Secretary-General on revised estimates relating to the resident coordinator system under section 1, Overall policymaking, direction and coordination, reaffirmed that the focus of the resident coordinator system should remain sustainable development, with the eradication of poverty in all its forms and dimensions as its overarching objective, consistent with the integrated nature of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and in line with the United Nations Development Assistance Framework and national leadership and ownership. The Assembly indicated that it looked forward to the new cost-sharing formula for 2021 onwards, to be presented to the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions, the Fifth Committee and the respective governing bodies of the member entities of the United Nations Sustainable Development Group in 2020, reflecting the direct involvement of each agency, based on the proportion of services used. The cost-sharing methodology was being reviewed as part of a comprehensive review of the reinvigorated resident coordinator system, including its funding arrangements, as requested by the Assembly in its resolution 72/279. The review of the cost-sharing methodology was initiated in 2020 and will be finalized before the end of the seventy-fifth session of the Assembly (resolutions 72/279 and 73/279 A, sect. XV).

At its resumed seventy-third session, the Assembly, having considered the report of the Secretary-General on managing after-service health insurance, endorsed the recommendations contained in the report of the Advisory Committee, including that the Secretary-General further explore options for the improvement of efficiency and the containment of costs, including liabilities associated with current and future staff, with a view to reducing the Organization's expenditure on health insurance plans and its after-service health insurance obligations, and requested the Secretary-General to report thereon to the Assembly at its seventy-fifth session (resolution 73/279 B, sect. II).

At its seventy-fourth session, the Assembly, having considered the reports of the Secretary-General on the proposed programme budget for 2020, decided on the programme narratives and budget appropriations for 2020. The Assembly also provided specific direction to the Secretary-General with regard to the format for the proposed programme budget for 2021. The Assembly noted the increased workload in the Office for Outer Space Affairs and requested the Secretary-General to review resourcing for the Office in future budget proposals. The Assembly also regretted the inadequate resources for the least developed countries, landlocked developing countries and small island developing States, and requested the Secretary-General to take the action necessary to ensure that additional post and non-post resources are allocated to them in the context of the proposed programme budget for 2021 to enable them to effectively carry out their increased mandates (resolutions 74/251, 74/262, 74/263 and 74/264 A–C).

At the same session, the Assembly, having considered the report of the Secretary-General on the use of the commitment authority and request for a subvention to the Residual Special Court for Sierra Leone, expressed serious concern over the adverse financial situation facing the Residual Special Court, and requested the Secretary-General to redouble his efforts to seek voluntary contributions, including through broadening the donor base and holding regular consultations with the key stakeholders, as well as to implement innovative fundraising approaches, and to report thereon to the Assembly at the main part of its seventy-fifth session. The Assembly also requested the Secretary-General to report to the Assembly on the use of the commitment authority at the main part of its seventy-fifth session (resolution 74/263, sect. VI).

Also at the same session, the Assembly, having considered the report of the Secretary-General on the request for a subvention to the Extraordinary Chambers in the Courts of Cambodia, authorized the Secretary-General, as an exceptional measure, to enter into commitments to supplement the voluntary financial resources of the international component of the Extraordinary Chambers. The Assembly noted the steps taken by the Secretary-General to develop a framework for the completion of the work of the Extraordinary Chambers and the identification of possible residual functions, and requested the Secretary-General to expedite the finalization of the framework. The Assembly also requested the Secretary-General to report on the use of the commitment authority in the context of his next report (resolution 74/263, sect. V).

Also at its seventy-fourth session, the Assembly reaffirmed that flexible workplace strategies in the United Nations should be aimed at improving the overall productivity and efficiency of the Organization, as well as the staff workplace environment, and requested the Secretary-General to ensure full compliance with its decisions and full cooperation with the implementation plan for the project, while meeting the needs of staff and ensuring their well-being and productivity. The Assembly reiterated its request that the Office of Human Resources of the Secretariat assess in detail the impact of the flexible workplace on productivity and provide reliable qualitative and quantitative benefit indicators as well as other factors for the improvement of overall productivity and staff well-being, and report thereon in the context of the next progress report. It also requested the Secretary-General to ensure that the implementation of flexible workplace strategies and other potential changes in logistical arrangements take into account the needs of language staff in order to continue to ensure that the services provided to Member States meet the highest standard of quality. The Assembly requested the Secretary-General to continue with the implementation of flexible workplace strategies in New York in 2020, with the full utilization of maximum occupancy per floor, and to report thereon at the main part of its seventy-fifth session. The Assembly also requested the Secretary-General to provide detailed information with respect to the planning and costs of rental leases, including rental savings from all vacated rental buildings and spaces, in the context of his next report, and to closely monitor and manage the remaining works to ensure completion of the flexible workspace project in the third quarter of 2020, and stressed the need to ensure completion of the project on time and within the estimated cost. The Assembly decided that future reports of the Secretary-General should continue to include the unit costs of goods and services procured under the construction and systems furniture categories, and requested the Secretary-General to seek further efficiencies in that regard and to include detailed information and explanations for the cost changes for each completed floor in his next report (resolution 74/263, sect. IX).

Also at the same session, the Assembly, having considered the report of the Secretary-General on the seismic mitigation retrofit and life-cycle replacements project at the Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific premises in Bangkok, welcomed the continued efforts of the Government of Thailand, as the host country, in facilitating the work of the Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific in Bangkok, as well as the positive steps taken towards engaging with the host country, and encouraged the Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific to continue the discussions on cooperation with the host country in that regard. The Assembly encouraged the Secretary-General to continue his efforts to include local knowledge, technology and capacity throughout the implementation of the construction project, as appropriate, and welcomed the steps taken by the Secretary-General to make the Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific building conform to relevant building standards and best practices for persons with disabilities. The Assembly stressed the importance of governance, effective oversight, transparency and accountability in the management of the project to ensure that the objectives of the project were achieved within budget and in a timely manner, emphasized that the Global Asset Management Policy Service should continue to be actively involved in overseeing the project to ensure the central supervision of capital projects, including risk management and alignment with lessons learned, and requested the Secretary-General to continue to take into account lessons learned and best practices from past construction and renovation projects and, in particular, to draw from experience and knowledge acquired from other capital projects. The Assembly reiterated that unused contingency funds must be carried over to subsequent years and that all remaining unused contingency funds must be returned to Member States at the conclusion of the project, in 2023, and requested the Secretary-General to proactively manage and mitigate risks identified to ensure the successful delivery of the project within the scope, budget and timeline approved by the Assembly, and to provide an update on relevant measures taken in his next report. The Assembly requested the Secretary-General to continue to ensure the implementation of the recommendations of the Office of Internal Oversight Services, and reiterated its request to the Secretary-General to remain proactive in seeking both voluntary and in-kind contributions from Member States, in full compliance with all relevant rules and regulations of the Organization, and to provide detailed information on the matter in the context of his next report (resolution 74/263, sect. Also at its seventy-fourth session, the Assembly, having considered the report of the Secretary-General on progress in the renovation of Africa Hall and the construction of new office facilities at the Economic Commission for Africa in Addis Ababa, expressed its gratitude to the Government of Ethiopia, as the host country, for its continued support for the construction of additional office facilities, as well as the renovation of Africa Hall, including conference rooms, at the Economic Commission for Africa in Addis Ababa, welcomed the close-out of the construction project of the new office facilities (Zambezi Building) and its ancillary works, and encouraged the Secretary-General to continue to engage with the host country in the preservation of the environment, including the greening of the compound and public spaces in its vicinity. The Assembly expressed its appreciation for the financial contribution of the Government of Mali, the in-kind contribution from the Government of Ethiopia and the pledge by the Government of Switzerland, and reiterated its request to the Secretary-General to continue to seek both voluntary and in-kind contributions from Member States, in full compliance with all relevant regulations and rules of the Organization, and to provide detailed information in the context of the next progress report.

The Assembly encouraged the Secretary-General to continue to utilize local knowledge, material, technology and capacity throughout the implementation of construction and renovation projects at the Economic Commission for Africa in Addis Ababa, as appropriate, and requested the Secretary-General to make additional efforts to raise global awareness of the historic Africa Hall and the African heritage that it represented and to cultivate partnerships with regional and international academic and research institutions, including universities and museums, specializing in African history and culture. The Assembly expressed its appreciation for the continued commitment of the Secretary-General to ensure the preservation of the historical and architectural integrity of Africa Hall, and underlined the need to continue to engage key stakeholders, including the host Government, the African Union and the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, in safeguarding the heritage conservation objective. The Assembly requested the Secretary-General to provide a comprehensive assessment of the number of possible visitors annually to the renovated Africa Hall and its visitors' centre, and to propose different admission options for visitors of various income brackets, including a fee exemption for children, students and those above the age of 65, as well as a more refined outreach strategy, following the completion of the renovation of Africa Hall and its visitors' centre, and to report his findings thereon in his next progress report.

It emphasized that the Global Asset Management Policy Service should continue to be actively involved in overseeing the project to ensure the central supervision of capital projects, including risk management and alignment with lessons learned, and encouraged the Secretary-General to continue to engage with the Stakeholders Committee, the Advisory Board and the host country to improve coordination efforts in the implementation of the project. The Assembly reiterated its request to the Secretary-General to submit to the Assembly, at the main part of its seventy-fifth session, a progress report on the implementation of the construction projects and the renovation of the conference facilities, including Africa Hall and its visitors' centre, outlining, inter alia, project expenditure and total costs, requested the Secretary-General to continue to engage with the host country and to provide, in his next progress report, an update on the construction of a parking lot on the parcel of land provided by the Government of Ethiopia, and reaffirmed its request to the Secretary-General to continue to take appropriate measures to mitigate potential risks and to monitor closely the Africa Hall renovation project in order to avoid any further delay. The Assembly reiterated its request to the Secretary-General to include an update on the management of the main risks and the related mitigation measures, with a view to keeping the approved time frame of the project, to avoiding cost overruns and to ensuring the delivery of the project within the scope, budget and timeline, as approved by the Assembly, in the context of his next progress report, which should also include detailed information on the envisaged renewable energy efficiency measures, wastewater treatment, solid waste management and water management in the context of the Africa Hall renovation project, drawing from best practices and lessons learned from other United Nations construction projects, as appropriate. It welcomed the steps taken by the Secretary-General to ensure conformity of Africa Hall and its visitors' centre with relevant building codes and standards, as well as best practices for persons with disabilities (resolution 74/263, sect. The Assembly welcomed the wastewater treatment plans under way, and requested the Secretary-General to report in his next report in that regard. It also welcomed the planned renovation of the North Building at the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean as a sustainable and energy-efficient building, where the total amount of energy used by the building on an annual basis is equal to or less than the amount of renewable energy generated on site. It requested the Secretary-General to provide more detailed information regarding the planned seismic mitigation measures in his future reports on the renovation of the North Building, reiterated its request to the Secretary-General to ensure that the project delivered renovation works that conformed to relevant building codes and standards, including provisions for persons with disabilities concerning accessibility, technology and workplace safety, and requested the Secretary-General to annually review the role and funding ratio of the position of Project Coordinator (P-3), jointly funded by the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean and the United Nations Office at Nairobi, and to provide detailed information in his next report (resolution 74/263, sect. The Assembly encouraged the Secretary-General to continue his efforts to include local knowledge, technology, material and capacity, in particular the use of materials available and/or manufactured locally, throughout the implementation of the replacement of office blocks A to J at the United Nations Office at Nairobi, as appropriate. It reiterated its request to the Secretary-General to remain proactive in seeking both voluntary and in-kind contributions from Member States, in full compliance with all relevant rules and regulations of the Organization, and to provide detailed information on the matter in the context of his next progress report.

The Assembly stressed the importance of governance, effective oversight, transparency and accountability in the management of the project to ensure that the objectives of the project were achieved within the approved budget and time schedule, emphasized that the Global Asset Management Policy Service should continue to be actively involved in overseeing the project to ensure the central supervision of capital projects, including risk management and alignment with lessons learned, requested the Secretary-General, through the Global Asset Management Policy Service, to take into account lessons learned and best practices from similar past construction and renovation projects in the planning, design and implementation of the proposed replacement of office blocks A to J, and encouraged the Secretary-General to continue to make every effort in implementing measures against slippages in the timeline of the project and to mitigate their potential impact on project costs and completion time. The Assembly reiterated its request to the Secretary-General for an updated proposal, including refined information on the full scope, maximum overall cost and implementation strategy, and requested the Secretary-General to ensure conformity with relevant building codes and standards, as well as best practices for persons with disabilities, in the design, construction and renovation of United Nations Office at Nairobi facilities. It requested the Secretary-General to incorporate the envisaged renewable energy efficiency measures, wastewater treatment, solid waste management and water management into the design and construction of the United Nations Office at Nairobi project on office blocks A to J, including lessons learned from other construction projects (resolution 74/263, sect. XIII).

At the same session, the Assembly, having considered the report of the Secretary-General on addressing the deteriorating conditions and limited capacity of the conference services facilities at the United Nations Office at Nairobi, requested the Secretary-General to conduct a needs assessment and explore options that maximize efficiency and cost-effectiveness, taking into consideration the future needs of the United Nations Office at Nairobi conference facilities, and to submit a report to the Assembly at its seventy-fifth session (resolution 74/263, section XIV).

Also at the same session, the Assembly considered the eleventh progress report of the Secretary-General on the enterprise resource planning project, Umoja (resolution 74/263, sect. XVII).

142. Programme planning

At its fifty-eighth session, in 2003, the General Assembly requested the Secretary-General to prepare, on a trial basis, for submission to the Assembly at its fifty-ninth session, a strategic framework to replace the four-year medium-term plan (resolution 58/269).

At its sixty-second session, the Assembly endorsed the recommendation of the Committee for Programme and Coordination that it maintain the strategic framework as the principal policy directive of the United Nations, which serves as the basis for programme planning, budgeting, monitoring and evaluation, with effect from the biennium 2010–2011 (resolution 62/224).

At its seventy-second session, under the item entitled “Review of the efficiency of the administrative and financial functioning of the United Nations”, the Assembly approved the proposed change from a biennial to an annual budget period on a trial basis, beginning with the programme budget for 2020. The Assembly also decided that the proposed programme budget document would consist of three parts: (a) part I: the plan outline, which endorses the long-term priorities and the objectives of the Organization; (b) part II: the programme plan for programmes and subprogrammes and programme performance information; and (c) part III: the post and non-post resource requirements for the programmes and subprogrammes. It further decided that parts I and II would be submitted through the Committee for Programme and Coordination and part III through the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions for the consideration of the Assembly. The Assembly reiterated that the Committee for Programme and Coordination and the Advisory Committee should examine the proposed programme budget in accordance with their respective mandates and, preserving the sequential nature of the review processes, submit their conclusions and recommendations to the Assembly for the final approval of the programme budget, and requested the Secretary-General to assess the impact of the changes to the budgetary cycle on the work of the relevant subsidiary bodies of the Assembly (resolution 72/266 A).

At its seventy-fourth session, the Assembly, having considered the reports of the Secretary-General on the proposed programme budget for 2020, decided on the programme narratives and expressed its support for the efforts of the Secretariat to better engage and support programme managers with the aim of making the Organization more effective, and welcomed the commitment and ongoing efforts of the Secretariat to improve the programmatic aspects of the programme budget. The Assembly also requested the Secretary-General, while still considering further areas of improvement, to apply certain guidelines as stipulated in the resolution when preparing the next proposed programme plan and programme performance documents for 2021 and 2022. The Assembly also requested the Secretary-General to present a report as early as practicable, for the consideration of the Assembly at its seventy-fourth session, on the impact of the changes to the budgetary cycle on the established budgetary procedures and practices as they pertained to the agreed sequential nature of the review processes of the proposed programme budget, and in that regard to present possible options to ensure the preservation of that sequence, including the possibility of the Advisory Committee preparing its conclusions and recommendations on the basis of a programme plan approved by the Assembly in 2021 (resolution 74/251).

The regular budget of the United Nations is apportioned among its Member States in accordance with the scale of assessments approved by the General Assembly on the recommendation of the Committee on Contributions (see item 118 (b)). The scale, as modified by the provisions of resolutions 55/235 and 55/236 and other resolutions concerning the financing of peacekeeping operations, has also been used to apportion the cost of peacekeeping operations among Member States. The assessment rates used for the regular budget and peacekeeping operations have also been used for apportioning the costs of the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda, the International Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia and the International Residual Mechanism for Criminal Tribunals.

At its fifty-fourth session, in 1999, the Assembly decided that requests for exemption under Article 19 of the Charter must be submitted by Member States to the President of the Assembly at least two weeks before the session of the Committee on Contributions, so as to ensure a complete review of the requests (resolution 54/237 C).

At its fifty-seventh session, the Assembly endorsed the conclusions and recommendations of the Committee on Contributions concerning multi-year payment plans, as contained in paragraphs 17 to 23 of its report (A/57/11). Among those recommendations were that the Secretary-General should be requested to provide information on the submission of multi-year payment plans to the Assembly through the Committee and to submit an annual report to the Assembly through the Committee on the status of Member States' payment plans as at 31 December each year (resolution 57/4 B).

At its seventy-third session, the Assembly adopted a scale of assessments for the period from 2019 to 2021, based on the recommendations of the Committee on Contributions and using the same methodology applied to the preparation of the scale of assessments for the six previous scale periods, and encouraged Member States to submit national accounts data under the 2008 System of National Accounts on a timely basis. The Assembly also requested the Committee, in accordance with its mandate and the rules of procedure of the Assembly, to review and make recommendations on the elements of the methodology of the scale of assessments in order to reflect the capacity of Member States to pay, and to report thereon to the Assembly by the main part of its seventy-sixth session (resolution 73/271).

146. Human resources management

The General Assembly first considered this item at its forty-ninth session (resolutions 49/222 A and B and decision 49/491).

The Assembly then considered the item at its fifty-first to seventy-fourth sessions (resolutions 51/226, 52/219, 52/252, 53/11, 53/218, 53/221, 53/225, 54/264, 55/221, 55/258, 57/281 A and B, 57/305, 58/285, 58/296, 59/266, 60/238, 60/260, 60/283, 61/244 to 61/246, 62/248, 63/250, 63/271, 65/247, 66/234, 67/255, 68/252, 68/265, 70/256, 71/263, 72/254 and 74/254 B and decisions 50/454, 50/469, 54/460, 56/458 C, 60/551, 62/545, 64/548, 69/553 B, 70/553 B and 73/547 A; see also resolutions 72/266 A and B and 73/281, adopted under the item entitled “Review of the efficiency of the administrative and financial functioning of the United Nations”).

At its seventy-first session, the Assembly requested the Secretary-General to continue to modernize, streamline and integrate the Organization’s human resources management structures and functions, considering expected benefits, efficiencies and lessons learned from the implementation of previous reforms, and to present detailed proposals for the consideration of the Assembly at its seventy-third session. The Assembly also underlined the need for a comprehensive and robust workforce-planning system as a key component of human resources management, acknowledged the progress made, and requested the Secretary-General to intensify his efforts to develop a comprehensive and effective workforce-and succession-planning proposal and to report thereon at the seventy-third session. The Assembly also requested the Secretary-General to further intensify his efforts to ensure that a more refined performance management framework is implemented throughout the Organization (resolution 71/263, sect. I).

At the same session, the Assembly noted with serious concern that the 120-day target for filling a post had not been reached, and requested the Secretary-General to investigate the reasons for delays at each stage of the staff selection and recruitment processes and to include in his next overview report a comprehensive strategy aimed at achieving the 120-day target for recruitment set by the Assembly (resolution 71/263, sect. I).

Also at the same session, the Assembly expressed its serious concern about the slow pace of progress towards the goal of 50/50 gender balance in the United Nations system, especially in senior, policymaking and field positions, in conformity with Article 101, paragraph 3, of the Charter of the United Nations (resolution 71/263, sect. I).

Also at its seventy-first session, the Assembly urged the Secretary-General to ensure necessary cooperation among related departments and offices in the implementation of the new staff selection and managed mobility system and requested him to provide detailed information on his proposal to include vacant positions at B, C, D and E duty stations in the managed mobility system in his next progress report (resolution 71/263, sect. II).

At the same session, the Assembly noted with concern that the Secretary-General had failed to present a proposal for a comprehensive review of the system of desirable ranges, and in that regard requested him to present to the Assembly, no later than at its seventy-third session, proposals for a comprehensive review of the system of desirable ranges, including by retaining or widening the current base number of Professional posts, with a view to establishing a more effective tool for ensuring equitable geographical distribution within the Secretariat in relation to all posts financed through the regular budget (resolution 71/263, sect. III).

At its seventy-third and seventy-fourth sessions, the General Assembly deferred consideration of the item on human resources management until its subsequent session (decisions 73/547 A and 74/540 A and B).

147. Joint Inspection Unit

At its twenty-first session, in 1966, the General Assembly established the Joint Inspection Unit for an initial period of four years (resolution 2150 \(XXI\)), and subsequently decided to continue the Unit until 31 December 1973 (resolution 2735 A \(XXV\)) and then for a further period of four years beyond that date (resolution 2924 B \(XXVII\)). At its thirty-first session, the Assembly approved the statute of the Unit as a subsidiary organ of the Assembly and of the legislative bodies of the specialized agencies that accepted the new statute (resolution 31/192). The membership of the Unit was increased from 8 to not more than 11 Inspectors, with effect from 1 January 1978.

The Assembly continued to reaffirm the statute of the Unit and its unique and independent system-wide role in the areas of inspection, evaluation and investigation at various sessions from its forty-eighth to seventy-third sessions (resolutions 48/221, 50/233, 54/16, 60/258, 61/238, 61/260, 62/226, 62/246, 63/272, 64/262, 65/270, 66/259, 67/256, 68/266, 69/275, 70/257, 71/281, 72/269 and 73/287).

At its fiftieth session, in June 1996, the Assembly requested the Secretary-General, and invited the executive heads of organizations participating in the Unit, to take the necessary measures to ensure that the thematic reports of the Unit were listed under the appropriate substantive agenda items of the work programmes of the Assembly, other pertinent organs and bodies of the United Nations and the appropriate legislative organs of the other participating organizations (resolution 50/233).

At its fifty-fourth session, the Assembly endorsed the follow-up system annexed to the Unit's report (A/52/34) and invited the Unit to include in its annual reports approved recommendations that had not been implemented (resolution 54/16).

At its fifty-fifth session, the Assembly decided to consider the annual reports of the Unit on an annual basis (resolution 55/230).

At its fifty-ninth session, the Assembly decided that the Unit should include in its annual reports information on implementation and the results achieved by organizations in respect of their follow-up to the recommendations of the Unit, as endorsed by their legislative bodies, and the arrangements put in place by participating organizations for reporting thereon (resolution 59/267).

At its sixty-first session, the Assembly requested that reports of the Unit include information on savings, acceptance rate of recommendations and implementation status by impact category (resolution 61/238, sect. I). At the same session, the Assembly decided to consider jointly the annual report and programme of work of the Unit, starting from the sixty-second session (resolution 61/260).

At its sixty-second session, the Assembly invited the Unit to report in the context of its annual reports on experience in the implementation of the follow-up system by the participating organizations (resolution 62/246).

At its sixty-ninth session, the Assembly reiterated its requests that the Unit issue its reports in all the official languages of the United Nations, well in advance of meetings of the legislative organs of participating organizations. The Assembly also reiterated its request to the executive heads of the participating organizations to fully comply with the statutory procedures for consideration of the reports of the Unit, to make full use of the web-based system of the Unit and to provide an in-depth analysis of how the recommendations of the Unit are being implemented (resolution 69/275).

At its seventy-third session, the Assembly recognized that the effectiveness of the Unit system-wide is a shared responsibility of the Unit, the Member States and the secretariats of the participating organizations, and also recognized the need to continue to enhance the impact of the Unit on the management efficiency and transparency of the participating organizations within the United Nations system (resolution 73/287).

At the same session, the Assembly stressed the importance of the oversight functions of the Unit in identifying concrete managerial, administrative and programming questions and providing legislative organs with practical and action-oriented recommendations. The Assembly reiterated its request to the Unit to consider optimizing the number of projects in its programme of work through prioritization and to focus its reports on priority items of the participating organizations and the States Members of the United Nations with the aim of providing legislative organs with thematic reports of the Unit that can be used to maximum effect. The Assembly also stressed the need for the Unit to continuously update and improve its strategic framework for the period from 2020 to 2029 and decided to consider any resources associated with the implementation of the strategy approach in the context of future programme budgets. The Assembly encouraged the Unit to continue to include single organizations for management and administrative reviews (resolution 73/287).

At its seventy-fourth session, the Assembly noted with appreciation the report of the Unit on enhancing accessibility for persons with disabilities to conferences and meetings of the United Nations system and urged the Secretary-General to implement all 10 recommendations contained in the report in a timely manner. The Assembly invited the executive heads and the legislative bodies of the United Nations system organizations to address the relevant recommendations, without prejudice to the measures taken in the framework of the United Nations Disability Inclusion Strategy. Similarly, the Secretary-General was requested to submit to the Assembly a progress report on the implementation of the resolution (resolution 74/253).

148. United Nations common system

The General Assembly, by its resolution 3042 \(XXVII\), decided in principle to establish an international civil service commission for the regulation and coordination of the conditions of service of the United Nations common system. By its resolution 3357 \(XXIX\), the Assembly approved the statute of the International Civil Service Commission. The United Nations common system comprises 17 organizations that have accepted the Commission's statute and, together with the United Nations itself and its funds and programmes, participate in the United Nations common system of salaries and allowances. Other organizations have not formally accepted the statute but fully participate in the Commission's work or apply the common system of salaries, allowances and benefits. Under its statute, the Commission is required to submit an annual report to the Assembly, which is also to be transmitted to the governing organs of the other organizations of the common system, through their executive heads.

At its seventy-fourth session, the Assembly reaffirmed the authority of the Commission to continue to establish post adjustment multipliers for duty stations in the United Nations common system, under article 11 (c) of its statute (resolution 74/255 A).

At the same session, the Assembly expressed its concern at the application of two concurrent post adjustment multipliers in the United Nations common system at the Geneva duty station, urged the Commission and member organizations to uphold the unified post adjustment multiplier for the Geneva duty station under article 11 (c) of its statute as a matter of priority, and requested the Commission to report on the matter to the General Assembly at its seventy-fifth session. The Assembly noted with concern that the organizations of the United Nations common system faced the challenge of having two independent administrative tribunals with concurrent jurisdiction among the organizations of the common system, as highlighted in the report of the Commission, and requested the Secretary-General, in his capacity as Chair of the United Nations System Chief Executives Board for Coordination, to conduct a review of the jurisdictional setup of the common system and submit the findings of the review and recommendations to the Assembly as soon as practicable. The Assembly invited the Commission to carry out a needs assessment for its communication and legal expertise functions within its secretariat and in relation to its work and engagement with all relevant stakeholders and to present proposals in its next report (resolution 74/255 B).

Also at the same session, the Assembly reaffirmed paragraph 1 of section I.B of its resolution 72/255, in which it approved the principles and guidelines for performance appraisal and management for the recognition of different levels of performance, urged the organizations of the United Nations common system to continue to abide by those principles and guidelines and requested the Commission to report on their implementation to the Assembly at its seventy-fifth session (resolution 74/255 B, sect. I).

Also at its seventy-fourth session, the Assembly approved, with effect from 1 January 2020, the revised unified base/floor salary scale and updated pay protection points for staff in the Professional and higher categories. The Assembly decided to defer consideration of the recommendations of the Commission on the revised sliding reimbursement scale and the boarding lump sum and requested the Commission to provide in its next report a detailed review on the scale and the level of the boarding lump sum, taking into consideration a maximum amount per household (resolution 74/255 B, sect. II).

149. United Nations pension system

The United Nations Joint Staff Pension Fund, the Regulations for which were adopted initially by the General Assembly at its third session, in 1948 (resolution 248 \(III\)), is administered by the United Nations Joint Staff Pension Board, currently consisting of 33 members, one third of whom are elected by the Assembly and the corresponding legislative bodies of the other member organizations, one third by the executive heads of those organizations and one third by the participants.

The Fund comprises the United Nations and 23 other member organizations. As at 31 December 2019, the total number of active participants was 131,583 and there were 79,975 periodic benefits in award.

At its forty-sixth session, in 1991, the Assembly decided to consider this item on a biennial basis, in even-numbered years (resolution 46/220).

At its seventy-third session, the Assembly took note of the report of the Pension Board for 2018, in particular the actions taken by the Board as set out in chapter II of the report. The Assembly also approved the exception to article 15 (b) of the Regulations of the Fund, to effect a change from a biennial to an annual budget, on a trial basis, subject to the follow-up review to be conducted by the Secretary-General for consideration by the Assembly at its seventy-seventh session (resolution 73/274).

The Pension Board held its sixty-seventh session from 16 to 24 July 2020. It recommended to the Assembly the approval of: (a) the Fund budget estimates for 2021 amounting to $112,388,800; (b) the admission of the secretariat of the Wassenaar Arrangement on Export Controls for Conventional Arms and Dual-Use Goods and Technologies to membership in the Fund, with effect from 1 January 2021; (c) amendments to articles 6 to 8 and 48 of the Regulations of the Fund, as provided in annex XVII to the report of the Board, to clarify or correct the language of those provisions in accordance with the current practice of the Fund; and (d) an amendment to paragraph 19 of the Pension Adjustment System, as provided in annex XVIII to the report of the Board, to clarify the conditions for the application of a second cost of living adjustment in the same calendar year. The Board approved a new section (sect. G) of the rules of procedure of the Fund, as set out in annex XIX to the report of the Board.

150. Administrative and budgetary coordination of the United Nations with the specialized agencies and the International Atomic Energy Agency

Article 17, paragraph 3, of the Charter of the United Nations provides that the General Assembly shall examine the administrative budgets of the specialized agencies referred to in Article 57 with a view to making recommendations to the agencies concerned. General Assembly resolution 14 \(I\) provides that one of the functions of the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions is to examine on behalf of the Assembly the administrative budgets of the specialized agencies and proposals for financial arrangements with such agencies. This provision is repeated in rule 157 of the rules of procedure of the Assembly. At its forty-seventh session, the Assembly requested the Secretary-General to submit the next statistical report by the Administrative Committee on Coordination to the Assembly at its forty-ninth session and thereafter every second year, and to add to the material covered therein information on assessed and voluntary contributions paid by Member States and non-Member States in each of the two prior calendar years (decision 47/449).

The Assembly had this item on its agenda biennially from its forty-ninth to seventy-first sessions and at its seventy-second, seventy-third and seventy-fourth sessions (decisions 49/465, 51/453, 53/459, 55/472, 57/557, 57/558, 59/548, 61/548, 63/547, 65/541, 67/553 B, 69/551, 71/546 C and 73/547 A).

151. Report on the activities of the Office of Internal Oversight Services

At its forty-eighth session, the General Assembly, under the item entitled “Review of the efficiency of the administrative and financial functioning of the United Nations”, decided to establish an Office of Internal Oversight Services (OIOS) under the authority of the Secretary-General, the head of which would be at the rank of Under-Secretary-General. It also decided that OIOS would assume the functions prescribed for the Office for Inspections and Investigations in the note by the Secretary-General (A/48/640), as amended by the resolution, according to which the reporting to the Assembly would be in the form of an annual report prepared by OIOS on its work and submitted to the Assembly by the Secretary-General; and further decided to include in the provisional agenda of its fiftieth session an item entitled “Report of the Secretary-General on the activities of the Office of Internal Oversight Services” (resolution 48/218 B).

The Assembly had the item on its agenda at its fiftieth to sixtieth sessions (resolutions 50/239, 55/259, 56/246, 57/287 A to C and 60/259).

At its fifty-ninth session, the Assembly, under the item entitled “Review of the implementation of General Assembly resolutions 48/218 B and 54/244”, requested the Secretary-General to ensure that annual and semi-annual reports submitted by OIOS to the Assembly contained the titles and brief summaries of all other reports of the Office issued during the year and that original versions of the reports of the Office not submitted to the Assembly were, upon request, made available to any Member State, and decided that reports of the Office should be submitted directly to the Assembly as submitted by the Office and that the comments of the Secretary-General might be submitted in a separate report (resolution 59/272).

At its sixtieth session, the Assembly, under the item entitled “Report of the Secretary-General on the activities of the Office of Internal Oversight Services”, decided to modify the title of the item to read “Report on the activities of the Office of Internal Oversight Services”, in accordance with paragraph 3 of resolution 59/272 (resolution 60/259).

The Assembly has had the item on its agenda annually since its sixty-first session (resolutions 61/275, 62/234, 63/265, 64/232, 65/250, 66/236, 67/258, 68/21, 69/252, 70/111, 71/7, 72/18, 73/275 and 74/256).

At its seventy-fourth session, the Assembly requested the Secretary-General to ensure that the annual reports of the Office continue to include a brief description of any impairment of its independence; and also requested the Secretary-General to continue to ensure the full implementation of the accepted recommendations of the Office, including those related to accountability mechanisms, cost savings, recovery of overpayments, organizational efficiency and effectiveness and other improvements, in a prompt and timely manner, and to provide detailed justifications in cases in which recommendations of the Office are not accepted (resolution 74/256).

The General Assembly had this item on its agenda at its fifty-fifth to fifty-ninth and sixty-first to seventy-fourth sessions (resolutions 55/258, 57/307, 59/283, 61/261, 62/228, 63/253, 64/119, 64/233, 65/251, 66/237, 67/241, 68/254, 69/203, 70/112, 71/266, 72/256, 73/276 and 74/258 and decisions 56/458 C, 58/576, 61/503 A, 63/531, 64/527, 64/553 and 65/213).

At its sixty-second session, the Assembly established: (a) a two-tier formal system of administration of justice, comprising a first instance United Nations Dispute Tribunal and an appellate instance United Nations Appeals Tribunal; (b) the Office of Administration of Justice, comprising the Office of the Executive Director and the Office of Staff Legal Assistance, as well as the Registries for the United Nations Dispute Tribunal and the United Nations Appeals Tribunal, the Registries to be overseen by the Principal Registrar; (c) a single integrated and decentralized Office of the Ombudsman for the United Nations Secretariat, funds and programmes with branches in several duty stations and a new mediation division; (d) the Internal Justice Council; and (e) the Management Evaluation Unit in the Office of the Under-Secretary-General for Management (resolution 62/228).

At its sixty-third session, the Assembly adopted the statutes of the United Nations Dispute Tribunal and the United Nations Appeals Tribunal and decided that the Tribunals would be operational as of 1 July 2009 and that all persons who had access to the Office of the Ombudsman under the previous system would also have access to the new informal system (resolution 63/253). The statutes have been amended at subsequent sessions (resolutions 66/237, 69/203, 70/112, 71/266 and 73/276).

Consideration of the item in the Fifth Committee

At its seventy-fourth session, the Assembly acknowledged the evolving nature of the system of administration of justice and the need to carefully monitor its implementation to ensure that it remains within the parameters set out by the Assembly. The Assembly welcomed the ongoing outreach efforts, and urged the Secretary-General to continue to implement the outreach strategy, with a view to continuing to raise awareness of the role and functioning of the various parts of the system and the possibilities that it offers to address work-related complaints, paying particular attention to field missions and offices. It reiterated that retaliation against complainants or staff appearing as witnesses constitutes misconduct, and noted with appreciation the policy on protection against retaliation for reporting misconduct and for cooperating with duly authorized audits or investigations as well as the efforts to continuously improve the framework for protection from retaliation. The Assembly also encouraged the Secretary-General, in his capacity as the Chair of the United Nations System Chief Executives Board for Coordination, to promote protection against retaliation across the system (resolution 74/258, sect. I).

At the same session, with regard to the informal system, the Assembly reaffirmed the importance of the informal dispute resolution process in the Organization, which represents an effective method of dispute resolution as compared with the formal process, and requested the Secretary-General to include recommendations to address the current underservice of staff in the field in his next report. It noted the efforts of the Mediation Service of the Office of the United Nations Ombudsman and Mediation Services to ensure that timely and high-quality mediation processes are available to address the diverse needs of the Organization, including through the Secretary-General's civility campaign, and requested the Secretary-General to continue to provide detailed information on the mediation activities of the Office, including measures to increase the utilization of these services. The Assembly also welcomed the continued analysis of the root causes of conflict included in the report of the Secretary-General on the activities of the Office, stressed the importance of improving management performance and staff communication, urged the Secretary-General to continue to address the direct feedback and systemic issues identified in the report in order to mitigate and prevent work-related conflicts, including through the improvement of the policies and procedures of the Organization, and requested the Secretary-General to provide information on progress resulting from the actions taken in the context of his next report. The Assembly noted the need for the Organization to develop and employ a holistic managerial approach, including management training for addressing conflict, including efforts to identify and address inappropriate behaviour that affects staff even when it does not amount to misconduct, and requested the Secretary-General to provide an update on the actions taken in the context of his next report. It encouraged the Office to continue its outreach activities, especially in the field, in order to promote informal dispute resolution. The Assembly also noted the five initiatives of the Secretary-General to improve the prevention and resolution of disputes involving non-staff personnel, and requested the Secretary-General to provide in his next report detailed information on the ongoing initiatives, mentioned in his report (A/74/172). It requested the Secretary-General to submit new proposals, bearing in mind the need for budgetary discipline, in the context of his next report, on reviewing formal policies and issuances concerning dispute resolution with consultants and individual contractors, including but not limited to drawing on more cost-effective features of the expedited arbitration procedures for consultants and individual contractors. The Assembly also requested the Secretary-General to prepare, with a view to informing the discussion at its seventy-fifth session, an overview on the functioning of the pilot project to offer access to informal dispute-resolution services to non-staff personnel up to the time of reporting, including on the nature of conflicts, average length of time spent on cases, rate of resolution and disaggregated data on each category of non-staff personnel, and the results of the pilot project on resolving disputes with respect for the principles of the Office (resolution 74/258, sect. II).

Also at the same session, with regard to the formal system, the Assembly recognized the ongoing positive contribution of the Office of Staff Legal Assistance to the system of administration of justice. The Assembly requested the Secretary-General to continue to ensure the accountability of managers whose decisions have been established to be grossly negligent, according to the applicable Staff Regulations and Rules of the United Nations (ST/SGB/2018/1), and which have led to litigation and subsequent financial loss, and to report thereon to the Assembly at its seventy-fifth session. With regard to self-represented applicants, the Assembly commended the Secretary-General for the creation of the toolkits, encouraged the Secretary-General to continue to provide assistance to such applicants and enhance their understanding and ability to utilize the system and mitigate efficiency concerns, and requested him to continue to monitor the issue of self-representation and to report thereon to the Assembly at its seventy-fifth session. In relation to the Dispute Tribunal, the Assembly noted with concern the dual presidency and its impact on case disposal, stressed that the Tribunal is an independent judiciary, which is expected to manage its affairs in accordance with its statute, rules of procedure and code of conduct, and requested the Secretary-General to examine recommendations 11, 12 and 13 contained in the report of the Internal Justice Council (A/74/169), with a view to improving the accountability of the Tribunal, for consideration during the seventy-fifth session of the Assembly. It welcomed recommendation 9 on judicial efficiency and accountability contained in the same report of the Council, and urged the Dispute Tribunal and the Appeals Tribunal to review and amend their respective rules of procedure subject to the approval of the Assembly, with a view to streamlining and harmonizing their approach to case management, including by ensuring that the first judicial action in a case is taken no later than 90 days from the date on which an application is filed. The Assembly also noted the large number of pending cases and of ageing cases at the Dispute Tribunal, acknowledged the efforts made by the Tribunal and the Principal Registrar to develop and implement a case disposal plan, as requested in its resolution 73/276, and the reduction in the number of cases pending in 2019, and requested the Secretary-General to continue to report on the implementation of the case disposal plan at its seventy-fifth session. Turning to the Internal Justice Council, the Assembly requested the Secretary-General to invite the Council to provide its views on the implementation of the system of administration of justice, including the timely delivery of judgments, and to report thereon to the Assembly at its seventy-fifth session. The Assembly also requested the Secretary-General to continue to track the data on the number of cases received by the Management Evaluation Unit and the Dispute Tribunal in order to identify any emerging trends and to include his observations on those statistics in future reports. The Assembly further requested that the judicial directions of the Tribunals that are of general application be posted online and thus made available to all stakeholders, and requested the Secretary-General to report thereon to the Assembly at its seventy-fifth session. In relation to half-time judges of the Dispute Tribunal, the Assembly recalled paragraph 32 of its resolution 73/276 and that they are to be deployed only as required by caseload, encouraged the Tribunal to make full use of telecommuting in the deployment of half-time judges so as to promote efficiencies, and requested the Secretary-General to review and report on the use of the six half-time judges to the Assembly at its seventy-fifth session. With regard to the voluntary supplemental funding mechanism for the Office of Staff Legal Assistance (by way of a payroll deduction not exceeding 0.05 per cent of a staff member's monthly net base salary, in accordance with paragraph 33 of resolution 68/254), the Assembly noted the continuing high opt-out rates from the mechanism, and encouraged the Secretary-General to continue to strengthen incentives for staff not to opt out, in particular in locations and United Nations entities where the participation rate is low. With regard to the proposed amendments to articles 2 and 7 of the statute of the Appeals Tribunal on pension matters (see A/73/217/Add.1), the Assembly requested the Secretary-General to provide further analysis and clarification, and invited the Sixth Committee to consider the legal aspects of the report of the Secretary-General on the administration of justice, without prejudice to the role of the Fifth Committee as the Main Committee of the Assembly responsible for administrative and budgetary matters (resolution 74/258, sect. III).

Also at its seventy-fourth session, the Assembly invited the Sixth Committee to consider the legal aspects of the report to be submitted by the Secretary-General, without prejudice to the role of the Fifth Committee as the Main Committee entrusted with responsibilities for administrative and budgetary matters. The Assembly welcomed further views of the Internal Justice Council on possible ways to improve judicial and operational efficiency, stressed that the Council could help to ensure independence, professionalism and accountability in the system of administration of justice, and requested the Secretary-General to entrust the Council with including the views of both the Dispute Tribunal and the Appeals Tribunal in its reports. The Assembly also recalled paragraphs 36 and 37 of its resolution 62/228, and requested the Secretary-General to provide an overview of and recommendations on the conditions of service and appointment requirements of the members of the Council, in particular professional qualifications, for consideration by the Assembly at its seventy-fifth session (resolution 74/258, sect. IV).
