It is recalled that the mandate of the Informal Consultative Process was extended by the Assembly for three-year periods in resolutions 57/141 and 60/30, and for additional two-year periods in resolutions 63/111, 65/37 A, 67/78, 69/245, 71/257 and 73/124.
2. On the basis of consultations with delegations and an informal preparatory meeting held at United Nations Headquarters on 18 March 2019, the Co-Chairs, Pennelope Althea Beckles (Trinidad and Tobago) and Isabelle Picco (Monaco), have developed a format for the discussions at the twentieth meeting of the Informal Consultative Process (see annex I) and have proposed a provisional agenda for the meeting (see annex II).
3. The areas of concentration for the discussion panel on the theme “Ocean Science and the United Nations Decade of Ocean Science for Sustainable Development” are presented in annex III and are intended to identify important issues that the discussion panel may wish to consider.
4. The Informal Consultative Process is invited to consider and adopt the provisional agenda.

Discussion panel

5. In paragraph 358 of its resolution 73/124, the General Assembly decided that the meeting would focus its discussions on the theme “Ocean Science and the United Nations Decade of Ocean Science for Sustainable Development”. On the basis of their consultations with delegations, the Co-Chairs have proposed an outline for the theme to be considered by the discussion panel. The Co-Chairs intend to invite a limited number of panellists to launch the discussions by making short presentations on relevant aspects.

Outcome of the twentieth meeting

6. The outcome will consist of a Co-Chairs’ summary of issues and ideas raised and discussed during the plenary sessions. It will also reflect issues and ideas raised during the discussion panel. ## Annex III

Proposed areas of concentration for the discussion panel on the topic “Ocean Science and the United Nations Decade of Ocean Science for Sustainable Development”

Information contained in the report of the Secretary-General

1. The General Assembly decided in its resolution 73/124 that, in its deliberations on the report of the Secretary-General on oceans and the law of the sea, the twentieth meeting of the United Nations Open-ended Informal Consultative Process on Oceans and the Law of the Sea would focus its discussions on the topic “Ocean Science and the United Nations Decade of Ocean Science for Sustainable Development”. The Division for Ocean Affairs and the Law of the Sea has made available on its website (http://www.un.org/depts/los/consultative\_process/consultative\_process.htm) advance and unedited reporting material relating to this theme.

Discussion panel segments

2. In considering the possible approaches for structuring the discussion panel segments in relation to the topic of focus, it may be recalled that the General Assembly, in its resolution 54/33, consistent with the framework provided by the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea and chapter 17 of Agenda 21, established the Informal Consultative Process to facilitate its annual review, in an effective and constructive manner, of developments in ocean affairs by considering the report of the Secretary-General on oceans and the law of the sea and by suggesting particular issues to be considered by it, with an emphasis on identifying areas where coordination and cooperation at the intergovernmental and inter-agency levels should be enhanced. Furthermore, the Assembly, in its resolution 73/124, recognized the role of the Informal Consultative Process as a unique forum for comprehensive discussions on issues related to oceans and the law of the sea and that the perspective of the three pillars of sustainable development should be further enhanced in the examination of the selected topics. It also recognized the primary role of the Informal Consultative Process in integrating knowledge, the exchange of opinions among multiple stakeholders and coordination among competent agencies, and enhancing awareness of topics, including emerging issues, while promoting the three pillars of sustainable development.

3. In considering the topic of focus, it is proposed that the respective panel segments concentrate their discussions on the following areas:

(a) Scope and uses of, and gaps in, ocean science

4. The panel segment could provide an overview of the scope, uses and important role of ocean science, including for the implementation of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, in particular Sustainable Development Goal 14, and other instruments. It could also highlight the current state of knowledge on the oceans. Throughout the panel segment, areas where information, capacity and other gaps exist could be highlighted.

(b) International cooperation and coordination in advancing ocean science and addressing related gaps

5. The panel segment could focus on current activities being undertaken at the global, regional and national levels to advance ocean science and address challenges and related gaps. Opportunities for enhancing cooperation and coordination at all levels, including in relation to technology and data infrastructure and integration of traditional knowledge, and for strengthening the science-policy interface, could also be explored, with a particular focus on the role of the United Nations Decade of Ocean Science for Sustainable Development. Issues relating to capacity-building and the transfer of marine technology would be integrated throughout. The supportive role of the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea and other instruments in advancing ocean science could also be considered.
