

2513 (XXIV). Procedures for implementation of new arrangements for regional and inter-regional projects under the Technical Assistance component of the United Nations Development Programme

The General Assembly,

Having considered the report of the Governing Council of the United Nations Development Programme on its eighth session⁷ and Economic and Social Council resolution 1432 (XLVII) of 25 July 1969 concerning the revised programming procedures for regional and interregional projects for the Technical Assistance component of the United Nations Development Programme,

Recalling its resolution 2279 (XXII) of 4 December 1967 concerning the new programming procedures for the Technical Assistance component of the Programme,

Approves the procedures recommended by the Governing Council of the United Nations Development Programme for regional and interregional projects under the Technical Assistance component of the Programme beginning with the year 1971.⁸

21 November 1969.*

2514 (XXIV). Programming and budgetary procedures for the United Nations regular programme of technical co-operation

The General Assembly,

Having considered chapter X, section B, of the report of the Economic and Social Council,⁹ dealing with technical co-operation activities undertaken by the Secretary-General of the United Nations,

Having reviewed the notes by the Secretary-General on operational activities for development undertaken by him¹⁰ and on the United Nations Industrial Development Organization,¹¹

Having noted Economic and Social Council resolution 1434 (XLVII) of 25 July 1969 recommending revised programming and budgetary procedures for the United Nations regular programme of technical co-operation,

Keeping in mind resolution 2511 (XXIV) of 21 November 1969 on the regular programme of technical assistance for industrial development, in which the General Assembly reaffirmed its resolution 2298 (XXII) of 12 December 1967 providing for programming and budgetary procedures for the regular programme of technical assistance in the field of industrial development,

Approves the application of the programming and budgetary procedures contained in Economic and Social Council resolution 1434 (XLVII) to the United Nations technical co-operation activities other than industrial development, which is provided for under part V (Technical programmes) of the United Nations budget.

2525 (XXIV). United Nations Capital Development Fund

The General Assembly,

Recalling its resolutions 2186 (XXI) of 13 December 1966 and 2321 (XXII) of 15 December 1967,

Recalling further its resolution 2410 (XXIII) of 17 December 1968, in which it decided to continue the provisional arrangements for the operation of the United Nations Capital Development Fund and to review at its twenty-fourth session the whole question of institutional arrangements,

Noting the decision whereby the Governing Council of the United Nations Development Programme, at its eighth session, requested the Administrator of the Programme to continue on a broader basis his consultations with Governments and international organizations and explore wider possibilities for making the Fund operational,¹²

Recognizing that the results of the Second United Nations Development Decade will depend to a large extent on the volume, nature and conditions of the transfer of financial resources from the developed countries,

Recalling that the percentage of financial transfers to the developing countries does not reach the generally accepted level except in a very few cases,

Recalling the hopes expressed in the various international bodies concerning the access, in favourable conditions, of developing countries to the international capital market and the need to bring about and promote a substantial and advantageous mobilization of external financial resources in the interests of development,

1. Requests the Governing Council of the United Nations Development Programme to undertake, within the context of the objectives of the United Nations Capital Development Fund, an exploratory study with a view to broadening the functions of the Fund so as to normalize, stimulate and develop its activities and make it operational and effective, in order to enable all Member States to give it their support;

2. Decides, meanwhile, to preserve the original functions of the United Nations Capital Development Fund until 31 December 1970, in accordance with the measures set forth in paragraph 1 of General Assembly resolution 2321 (XXII).

*1823rd plenary meeting,
5 December 1969.*

2526 (XXIV). A day for peace

The General Assembly,

Reiterating its determination to encourage economic and social progress and thus contribute to the establishment of better living conditions in all countries,

Noting with concern the increasing gap between the levels of living in developed countries and those in less developed countries,

Recalling its resolutions 724 A (VIII) of 7 December 1953, 1837 (XVII) of 18 December 1962, 2092 (XX) of 20 December 1965, 2171 (XXI) of 6 December 1966 and 2387 (XXIII) of 19 November 1968 on the conversion to peaceful needs of the resources released by disarmament,

¹² See Official Records of the Economic and Social Council, Forty-seventh Session, document E/4706, para. 286.

Recognizing the importance of disarmament measures as one of the means of releasing additional resources for economic and social progress throughout the world, and in particular in the developing countries,

1. Invites Member States to designate each year a "peace day" devoted to the study of the effects that any disarmament measures might have on economic and social development;

2. Requests Member States to consider on that occasion, in the event that effective disarmament measures do release additional resources, the possibility of using those resources in the light of the objectives of the Second United Nations Development Decade;

3. Suggests to Member States that, when making reports pursuant to General Assembly resolutions 2092 (XX), 2171 (XXI) and 2387 (XXIII), they add such comments as they may deem appropriate on the expected results of their studies in connexion with a "peace day".

2527 (XXIV). Target for pledges to the World Food Programme for the period 1971-1972

The General Assembly,

Recalling the provisions of its resolution 2095 (XX) of 20 December 1965 on the continuation of the World Food Programme, according to which the Programme is to be reviewed before each pledging conference,

Recalling the provisions of paragraph 4 of its resolution 2290 (XXII) of 8 December 1967 on the review of the World Food Programme which stated that, subject to the review mentioned above, the following pledging conference should be convened, at the latest, early in 1970, at which time Governments would be invited to pledge contributions for 1971 and 1972, with a view to reaching whatever target might be recommended by the General Assembly and the Conference of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,

Noting that the review of the Programme was undertaken by the United Nations/FAO Intergovernmental Committee of the World Food Programme at its fifteenth session and by the Economic and Social Council at its forty-seventh session,

Having considered Economic and Social Council resolution 1443 (XLVII) of 1 August 1969, as well as the recommendations contained in the report of the Intergovernmental Committee,¹³

Recognizing the value of multilateral food aid as implemented by the World Food Programme since its inception and the necessity for continuing its action both as a form of capital investment and for meeting emergency food needs,

1. Establishes for the two years 1971 and 1972 a target for voluntary contributions of $300 million, of which not less than one third should be in cash and services, and expresses the hope that such resources will be augmented by substantial additional contributions from other sources in recognition of the prospective volume of sound project requests and the capacity of the World Food Programme to operate at a higher level;

¹³ E/4696.

2. Urges States Members of the United Nations and members and associate members of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations to make every effort to ensure the full attainment of the target;

3. Urges Governments which have pledged contributions of commodities or services for the period 1969-1970 to make every possible effort to carry over and make available for the period 1971-1972 any portion of such pledges that may remain unused at the end of 1970, and to indicate their readiness to effect such a carry-over when announcing pledges at the next pledging conference;

4. Requests the Secretary-General, in co-operation with the Director-General of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, to convene for this purpose the fourth pledging conference at United Nations Headquarters early in 1970;

5. Decides that the following pledging conference, subject to the review provided for in General Assembly resolution 2095 (XX), should be convened, at the latest, early in 1972, at which time Governments should be invited to pledge contributions for 1973 and 1974, with a view to reaching whatever target may then be recommended by the General Assembly and the Conference of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

2528 (XXIV). The role of the United Nations in training national technical personnel for the accelerated industrialization of the developing countries

The General Assembly,

Recalling its resolutions 1824 (XVII) of 18 December 1962, 2090 (XX) of 20 December 1965 and 2259 (XXII) of 3 November 1967 on the role of the United Nations in training national technical personnel for the accelerated industrialization of the developing countries,

Considering that the further industrialization of the developing countries is an indispensable condition for the successful attainment of the goals of the Second United Nations Development Decade,

Recognizing that the training of suitable national technical personnel is one of the most important prerequisites for industrialization,

Bearing in mind that the estimates made by the Secretary-General in 1964¹⁴ of national technical personnel required by the developing countries for their industrialization should be specified in the light of the results already achieved in the training of national technical personnel in the developing countries and of the goals set for the Second United Nations Development Decade,

Bearing in mind also the need for the activities of the United Nations and the specialized agencies relating to the training of national technical personnel at the international, regional and subregional levels to correspond to the national plans and requirements of the developing countries in this sphere,
