Lithuania has the following national legislation requiring authorization for the sale, supply, transfer or export to third countries of arms and related materiel<sup>a</sup> and authorization for the provision of brokering services and other services related to military activities which, together with Council Decision (CFSP) 2016/849, provides the basis for enforcing the arms embargo against the DPRK and the ban on related brokering services.

(a) The Law on the Control of Strategic Goods, which states that a licence to export strategic goods shall not be issued if the issuance of the export licence is, inter alia, in contravention of international sanctions implemented in the Republic of Lithuania and the criteria listed in the Arms Trade Treaty and European Union Council Common Position 2008/944/CFSP of 8 December 2008 defining common rules governing control of exports of military technology and equipment. These criteria, inter alia, provide for the respect of international obligations and commitments, in particular the sanctions adopted by the Security Council and the European Union;

(b) The Government resolution on the transportation of arms and ammunition, which includes European Union Common Position 2008/944/CFSP and Arms Trade Treaty criteria, among other export licence application assessment criteria.

Lithuania has additional national legislation prohibiting the sale, supply, transfer or export to the DPRK of arms and related materiel<sup>b</sup> and the provision of brokering and other services related to military activities, namely, Government resolution No. 237 of 1 March 2005 (last amended in 2016), on the approval of lists of States prohibited from engaging in the purchase, import, export or transit of goods listed in the Common Military List and other arms and ammunition, and in brokering negotiations and transactions related to goods listed in the Common Military List and other arms and ammunition.

The above-mentioned European Union Council regulations are binding in their entirety and directly applicable in all member States of the European Union.<sup>c</sup> Council Regulation (EC) No. 329/2007 requires member States to determine the penalties applicable to infringements of their provisions. Meanwhile, the Law of the Republic of Lithuania on the Implementation of Economic and other International Sanctions (art. 14) states that natural and legal persons shall be held liable for infringements of this Law in accordance with the procedure established by the laws of the Republic of Lithuania. The penalties determined by Lithuania are set out in article 123(1) of the Criminal Code of the Republic of Lithuania and in article 187(12) of the Code of Administrative Offences of the Republic of Lithuania.

With regard to restrictions on admissions (visa ban), Lithuania has included persons subject to this restrictive measure in the national travel ban list, following the procedure set out in the Government resolution on the implementation of political sanctions that prohibit the entry or transit of individuals through the territory of the Republic of Lithuania (2008) which, together with Council Decision (CFSP) 2016/849 and Regulation (EC) No. 539/2001,<sup>c</sup> provides the basis for refusal of admission and denial of requests for a visa.

<sup>b</sup> This legislation applies to all goods included in the Common Military List of the European Union and other arms and ammunition not covered by the Common Military List.

<sup>c</sup> Regulation (EC) No. 539/2001 applies neither to Ireland nor to the United Kingdom.
