In the field of nuclear science and aerospace technology, exemptions can be granted by the sanctions Committee when it has determined, on a case-by-case basis, that the activity will not contribute to illegal activities. Lithuania has the following national legislation requiring authorization for the sale, supply, transfer or export to third countries of arms and related material⁷ and authorization for the provision of brokering services and other services related to military activities, which, together with Council Decision (CFSP) 2016/849,⁸ provides the basis for the enforcement of the arms embargo against the Democratic People's Republic of Korea and the ban on related brokering services:

- Law concerning the control of the import, transit and export of strategic goods and technologies, No. I-1022, adopted on 5 July 1995, as amended
- Government Resolution No. 932 of 22 July 2004 on the Approval of Licensing Rules for the Export, Import, Transit and Mediation of Strategic Goods and the Rules of Implementation for the Control of Strategic Goods, as amended
- Government Resolution No. 237 of 1 March 2005 on the Approval of the List of the States to which the Export or Transit of the Goods Listed in the Common Military List is Prohibited and for which Brokering in Negotiations and Transactions in the Goods Listed in the Common Military List is Prohibited, as amended

The above-mentioned Council Regulations are binding in their entirety and directly applicable in all member States of the European Union. Regulation (EC) No. 329/2007 requires member States to determine the penalties applicable to infringements of their provisions. Such penalties are set out in the Code of Administrative Offences of the Republic of Lithuania (Official Gazette, 1985, No. 11, as amended) and in the Law on the Approval and Entry into Force of the Criminal Code (26 September 2000, No. VIII-1968, as amended).

With regard to restrictions on admissions (visa ban), Lithuania implements them in accordance with Council Decision (CFSP) 2016/849 and Regulation (EC) No. 539/2001, which provide the basis for the refusal of admissions and the denial of requests for a visa. The national entry-ban list is updated on a regular basis.
