reconciliation and political dialogue. It reiterates its full support for the legitimate and democratically elected Government of Lebanon, calls for full respect for the democratic institutions of the country, in conformity with its Constitution, and condemns any effort to destabilize Lebanon. The Council also reiterates its full support for the efforts carried out by the Lebanese army to ensure security and stability throughout Lebanon and reaffirms that there should be no weapons or authority in Lebanon other than that of the Lebanese State.

“The Council reiterates its attachment to the full implementation of all provisions of resolution 1701 (2006) and urges all concerned parties to cooperate fully with the Council and the Secretary-General to achieve a permanent ceasefire and a long-term solution as envisioned in the resolution. It also takes note of the letter dated 25 June 2007 from the Government of Lebanon to the Secretary-General,<sup>15</sup> in which it reaffirmed its commitment to the role of the United Nations Interim Force in Lebanon and asked for the renewal of its mandate. The Council reaffirms its full support for the Force, condemns all terrorist attacks against it, and calls upon all parties to abide by their obligation to respect the safety of United Nations personnel. It also emphasizes the need for the Force to enhance its investigative capacity in response to the attacks. The Council welcomes the tripartite arrangements referred to in the report of the Secretary-General, notes the commitments to reach an agreement on the northern part of Ghajar, and encourages the parties to cooperate with the Force to visibly mark the Blue Line. It expresses its deep concern at the increase in Israeli violations of Lebanese airspace and appeals to all parties concerned to respect the cessation of hostilities and the Blue Line in its entirety.

“The Council, in this context, expresses grave concern at persistent reports of breaches of the arms embargo along the border between Lebanon and the Syrian Arab Republic. It expresses concern at any allegation of rearming of Lebanese and non-Lebanese armed groups and militias and reiterates that there should be no sale or supply of arms and related materiel to Lebanon except as authorized by its Government. In this regard, it expresses concern about the recent statement by Hizbullah that it retains the military capacity to strike all parts of Israel, and calls upon all parties to refrain from statements and activities that could jeopardize the cessation of hostilities. The Council takes note of the detailed information conveyed by the Government of Lebanon about the dangerous activities of armed elements and groups, in particular the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine-General Command and Fatah-Intifada, and reiterates its call for the disbanding and disarmament of all militias and armed groups in Lebanon. It underscores the obligation of all Member States, in particular those in the region, to take all necessary measures to implement paragraph 15 of resolution 1701 (2006) to enforce the arms embargo.

“The Council welcomes the recommendations of the Lebanon Independent Border Assessment Team and looks forward to their implementation. It requests the Secretary-General, in consultation with the Government of Lebanon, to assess their implementation and to regularly update the Council on this issue in his regular reports on the implementation of resolution 1701 (2006), including, as appropriate and in coordination with the Government of Lebanon, on the basis of follow-up field visits. The Council welcomes the assistance provided by donors to help the Government of Lebanon to secure its borders and encourages further such assistance, including by continuing to provide equipment and border security experts. Underlining that the Syrian Arab Republic and Lebanon share responsibility for controlling their border, it notes that the Government of the Syrian Arab Republic has stated that it has taken measures, reiterates its call upon that Government to take further measures to reinforce control at the border, and looks forward to additional proposals in this regard in the light of the visit by the Secretary-General to the Syrian Arab Republic. The Council also calls for enhanced cross-border cooperation to secure the Syrian-Lebanese border.

“The Council emphasizes the need for greater progress on all the principles and elements required for a permanent ceasefire and long-term solution identified in resolution 1701 (2006). The Council expresses deep concern that Hizbullah has not returned the two Israeli soldiers it abducted, or even provided proof of life, and calls for their immediate and unconditional return. It further encourages efforts to urgently settle the issue of Lebanese prisoners detained in Israel.

“The Council expresses deep concern at the presence of unexploded ordnance in southern Lebanon and renews its support for the request by the Secretary-General to Israel to provide to the United Nations detailed data on its use of cluster munitions in southern Lebanon.

“The Council, bearing in mind the relevant provisions of resolutions 1559 (2004), 1680 (2006) and 1701 (2006) on the delineation of the Syrian-Lebanese border, looks forward to the reactivation of the Syrian-Lebanese boundary committee. It takes note of the solid progress made by the cartographer towards a provisional determination of the geographical extent of the Shebaa Farms and welcomes the intention of the Secretary-General to engage in further discussions with the parties on the Shebaa Farms area, including on its territorial definition, that will strengthen a diplomatic process aimed at resolving this key issue in accordance with the relevant provisions of resolution 1701 (2006). It also reiterates its appreciation for the process launched by the Secretary-General to investigate the implications of the interim proposal contained in the seven-point plan of the Government of Lebanon regarding the Shebaa Farms area.<sup>16</sup> Recalling paragraph 62 of the report of the Secretary-General, the Council underlines that progress should also be made on all the other issues identified in paragraph 10 of resolution 1701 (2006). In this regard, the Council requests, pursuant to resolution 1701 (2006), that the Secretary-General continue to develop, in liaison with relevant actors and the parties concerned, proposals to implement the relevant provisions of the Taif Accords and resolutions 1559 (2004) and 1680 (2006), including disarmament.

“The Council stresses the importance of, and the need to achieve, a comprehensive, just and lasting peace in the Middle East, based on all its relevant resolutions, including resolutions 242 (1967) of 22 November 1967 and 338 (1973) of 22 October 1973.”

THE SITUATION IN CYPRUS<sup>48</sup>

Decision

At its 5803rd meeting, on 14 December 2007, the Security Council considered the item entitled:

“The situation in Cyprus

“Report of the Secretary-General on the United Nations operation in Cyprus (S/2007/699 and Corr.1)”.

Resolution 1789 (2007) of 14 December 2007

The Security Council,

Welcoming the analysis of developments on the ground over the last six months, contained in the report of the Secretary-General of 3 December 2007 on the United Nations operation in Cyprus, in accordance with his mandate,<sup>49</sup>

Noting that the Government of Cyprus has agreed that, in view of the prevailing conditions on the island, it is necessary to keep the United Nations Peacekeeping Force in Cyprus beyond 15 December 2007,

Echoing the Secretary-General’s firm belief that the responsibility of finding a solution lies first and foremost with the Cypriots themselves, and that the upcoming year offers an important window of opportunity to make decisive progress, which must be grasped by all parties, in the search for a comprehensive solution, and noting the primary role of the United Nations in assisting the parties to bring the Cyprus conflict and division of the island to a comprehensive and durable settlement,

Taking note of the assessment of the Secretary-General that the security situation on the island and along the Green Line remains generally stable, welcoming the decrease in the overall number of incidents involving the two sides, and urging both sides to avoid any action which could lead to an increase in tension,

Underlining that activity in the buffer zone, in particular proposals for large-scale commercial projects, which are not compatible with returning to normal conditions as expressed in the mandate of the Force, should not be at the expense of stability and security, and reiterating the Secretary-General’s firm belief that the situation in the buffer zone would be improved if both sides accepted the 1989 aide-memoire used by the United Nations,

Welcoming the principles and decisions enshrined in the agreement of 8 July 2006 stressing that a comprehensive settlement based on a bicomunal, bizonal federation and political equality, as set out in the relevant Security Council resolutions, is both desirable and possible and should not be further delayed,<sup>50</sup>

Deploring the continued failure to date to implement the agreement of 8 July 2006, and urging the leaders of both communities to act to start the process without delay in order to prepare the ground for fully fledged negotiations leading to a comprehensive and durable settlement,

Welcoming the agreement to allow European Union funds to support demining activities, and urging the rapid finalization of the protocol between the relevant parties governing the remaining demining activities in order to complete demining of the buffer zone,

Welcoming also the progress and continuation of the important activities of the Committee on Missing Persons in Cyprus, and expressing the hope that this process will promote reconciliation between the communities,

Welcoming further the proposed confidence-building measures advanced by both sides, as a means of creating greater trust between the two communities, and encouraging their early implementation, encouraging also progress on measures such as the opening of additional crossing points including, but not limited to, at Ledra Street, taking into account the arrangements already in place at existing crossing points, and reaffirming the importance of continued crossing of the Green Line by Cypriots,

Welcoming all efforts to promote bicommunal contacts and events, including on the part of all United Nations bodies on the island, and urging the two sides to promote the active engagement of civil society and the encouragement of cooperation between economic and commercial bodies and to remove all obstacles to such contacts,

Agreeing that an active and flourishing civil society is essential to the political process, and expressing concern, in this respect, that opportunities for constructive public debate about the future of the island, within and between the communities, are becoming fewer, and that this atmosphere is hampering, in particular, efforts to foster bicommunal activities intended to benefit all Cypriots and to promote reconciliation and build trust in order to facilitate a comprehensive settlement,

Reaffirming the importance of the Secretary-General continuing to keep the operations of the Force under close review while continuing to take into account developments on the ground and the views of the parties, and reverting to the Council with recommendations, as appropriate, for further adjustments to the mandate, force levels and concept of operation of the Force as soon as warranted,

Welcoming the steps taken by Cyprus to address the living conditions of many troops of the Force,

3. Expresses its full support for the 8 July process, notes with deep concern the lack of any progress, calls upon all parties immediately to engage constructively with the United Nations efforts, as described in Under-Secretary-General Gambari's letter of 15 November 2006, and to cease mutual recriminations, and urges all parties to show flexibility and political will over the coming months to make measurable progress which will allow fully fledged negotiations to begin;

“The Council encourages the authorities of the Democratic Republic of the Congo and the Republic of Rwanda to implement fully their commitments in the Nairobi communiqué and to continue to cooperate to solve their common security concerns.

Expressing its grave concern at the continued presence of other armed groups and militias in the eastern part of the Democratic Republic of the Congo, which perpetuates a climate of insecurity in the whole region, underscoring that the statements of commitment (Actes d'engagement) signed at Goma on 23 January 2008, together with the Nairobi communiqué, represent a major step towards the restoration of lasting peace and stability in the Great Lakes region, calling upon the signatories to the Goma statements of commitment to take immediate action in support thereof, and expressing its intention to continue to monitor closely their implementation,

“The Council is particularly pleased that the armed groups in North and South Kivu have undertaken to observe a complete and immediate ceasefire, to begin the withdrawal of their forces with a view to their brassage or their disarmament, demobilization and reintegration under the national programme for that process, and to abide strictly by the rules of international humanitarian and human rights law, set out in the statements of commitment (Actes d’engagement) which they signed with the Government of the Democratic Republic of the Congo on 23 January 2008.

Within the framework of the fight against impunity, while noting the Government’s pledge to seek parliamentary approval of an amnesty law covering acts of war and insurrection, the Council welcomes the exclusion of genocide, war crimes and crimes against humanity from the scope of this amnesty.

Decisions

At its 5838th meeting, on 15 February 2008, the Security Council considered the item entitled "The situation between Eritrea and Ethiopia".

At the same meeting, following consultations among members of the Security Council, the President made the following statement on behalf of the Council:<sup>247</sup>

"The Security Council recalls that on 30 January 2008 it adopted resolution 1798 (2008) on the United Nations Mission in Ethiopia and Eritrea. The Council is following with the utmost concern the situation confronting the Mission. It expresses its full support for the efforts of the Secretary-General to address this problem.

"The Council notes with great concern that, by maintaining restrictions on the Mission despite the numerous demands of the Council and by refusing to reinstate fuel deliveries to the Mission, the Government of Eritrea has created a situation in which a temporary relocation of personnel and equipment from Eritrea has been rendered inevitable. The Council also expresses deep concern about the impediments and logistical constraints put on the Mission in its attempts to organize this temporary relocation. The Council condemns such steps taken by Eritrea.

"The Council strongly condemns the lack of cooperation from the Government of Eritrea, which not only gravely contravenes Council resolutions and the Agreement on Cessation of Hostilities of 18 June 2000<sup>242</sup> but also fails to comply with Eritrea's general obligation to assist forces that have been stationed with its consent. The Council holds Eritrea responsible for the safety and security of the Mission and its personnel.

“The Council demands that the Government of Eritrea resume full cooperation with the Mission, including by ending all its restrictions on the Mission, and abide by all its obligations as a State Member of the United Nations.

“The Council expresses its determination to closely monitor the situation and to consider further appropriate steps for the safety and protection of the Mission and its personnel.”

At its 5883rd meeting, on 30 April 2008, the Council considered the item entitled:

“The situation between Eritrea and Ethiopia

“Special report of the Secretary-General on the United Nations Mission in Ethiopia and Eritrea (S/2008/226)”.

At the same meeting, following consultations among members of the Security Council, the President made the following statement on behalf of the Council:<sup>248</sup>

“The Security Council notes that the continuation of Eritrea’s obstructions towards the United Nations Mission in Ethiopia and Eritrea has reached a level such as to undermine the basis of the Mission’s mandate and has compelled the Mission to temporarily relocate. The Council recalls its previous condemnation of Eritrea’s lack of cooperation.

“The Council notes the underlying fundamental issues and stands ready to assist the parties to overcome the current stalemate, taking into account the interests and concerns of both parties.

“The Council will, in the light of consultations with the parties, decide on the terms of a future United Nations engagement and on the future of the Mission.

“The Council stresses, in accordance with its repeated statements, that the primary responsibility for achieving a comprehensive and lasting settlement of the border dispute and normalizing their relations rests with the parties themselves.

“The Council urges both sides to show maximum restraint and to refrain from any threat or use of force against each other and calls upon the parties to address forthwith the unresolved issues in accordance with the commitments made in the Agreement on Cessation of Hostilities of 18 June 2000<sup>242</sup> and the Peace Agreement of 12 December 2000<sup>243</sup> (“the Algiers Agreements”).”

On 30 June 2008, the President of the Security Council addressed the following letter to the Secretary-General:<sup>249</sup>

“I have the honour to inform you that your letter dated 5 June 2008 concerning your proposal that the troops of the United Nations Mission in Ethiopia and Eritrea temporarily relocated from Eritrea to their home countries now be considered as repatriated<sup>250</sup> has been brought to the attention of the members of the Security Council. Considering that Ethiopia and Eritrea bear a shared responsibility in the implementation of the Algiers Agreements, in which they agreed that the delimitation and demarcation determinations of the Eritrea-Ethiopia Boundary Commission shall be final and binding and that their forces shall respect the integrity of the Temporary Security Zone,

1. Decides to terminate the mandate of the United Nations Mission in Ethiopia and Eritrea effective on 31 July 2008, emphasizes that this termination is without prejudice to the obligations of Ethiopia and Eritrea under the Algiers Agreements,<sup>242</sup> <sup>243</sup> and calls upon both countries to cooperate fully with the United Nations, including in the process of liquidation of the Mission;

2. Demands that Ethiopia and Eritrea comply fully with their obligations under the Algiers Agreements, show maximum restraint and refrain from any threat or use of force against each other, and avoid provocative military activities; conflict on children, its determination to ensure respect for and the implementation of resolution 1612 (2005) and all of its previous resolutions on children and armed conflict, as well as respect for other international norms and standards for the protection of children affected by armed conflict.

“The Council stresses in this regard the need to adopt a broad strategy of conflict prevention which addresses the root causes of armed conflict in a comprehensive manner in order to enhance the protection of children on a long-term basis, including by promoting sustainable development, poverty eradication, national reconciliation, good governance, democracy, the rule of law and respect for and protection of human rights.

“The Council reiterates the primary responsibility of national Governments in providing effective protection and relief to all children affected by armed conflict, and encourages further cooperation and coordination between Member States, the United Nations system and the international community, in a spirit of partnership.

“The Council reiterates the importance of the full, safe and unhindered access of humanitarian personnel and goods and the delivery of humanitarian assistance to all children affected by armed conflict, and stresses the importance for all, within the framework of humanitarian assistance, of upholding and respecting the humanitarian principles of humanity, neutrality, impartiality and independence.

“The Council calls for the full implementation of the monitoring and reporting mechanism on children and armed conflict as called for in paragraph 3 of resolution 1612 (2005) in all situations of armed conflict listed in the annexes to the report of the Secretary-General.

“In this regard the Council reiterates that the mechanism should continue to collect and provide timely, objective, accurate and reliable information on violations and abuses committed against children affected by armed conflict and to operate with the participation of and in cooperation with national Governments and relevant United Nations and civil society actors, including at the country level.

“The Council commends the work carried out by the Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Children and Armed Conflict, Ms. Radhika Coomaraswamy, including her field activities in situations of armed conflict.

“The Council also commends the work carried out by the United Nations Children’s Fund and the child protection advisers of peacekeeping operations and political missions in cooperation with other relevant United Nations entities.

“The Council welcomes the sustained activity of its Working Group on Children and Armed Conflict, as outlined, inter alia, in the latest report of its Chairman,<sup>257</sup> and invites it to continue adopting conclusions and proposing effective recommendations for consideration and, where appropriate, implementation by the Council, including through mandates of United Nations peacekeeping operations and political missions.

“The Council will continue to consider including or enhancing the presence of child protection advisers in the mandates of all relevant United Nations peacekeeping operations and political missions.

“The Council strongly emphasizes the need to end impunity for violations and abuses perpetrated against children in armed conflict, and in this regard welcomes the fact that several individuals who are alleged to have committed such crimes have been brought to justice by national, international and ‘mixed’ criminal courts and tribunals.

“The Council acknowledges that the implementation of resolution 1612 (2005) has already generated progress, resulting in the release and reintegration of children in their families and communities, and in a more systematic dialogue between the United Nations country task forces on monitoring and reporting and parties to armed conflict on the implementation of time-bound action plans.

“Nonetheless, the Council strongly condemns the continuing recruitment and use of children in armed conflict in violation of applicable international law, the killing and maiming of children, rape and other sexual violence, abductions, the denial of humanitarian access to children and attacks against schools and hospitals by parties to armed conflict.

“The Council is concerned by the widespread and systematic use of rape and other forms of sexual violence against children, in particular girls, in situations of armed conflict, and calls upon all parties to armed conflict to take special measures to protect girls and boys from sexual and gender-based violence, particularly rape, in situations of armed conflict.

“The Council expresses its concern that civilians, particularly children, continue to account for the vast majority of victims of acts of violence committed by parties to armed conflict, including killing and maiming as a result of deliberate targeting, and indiscriminate and excessive use of force in violation of applicable international law. The Council condemns these acts and demands that those parties immediately put an end to such practices.

“The Council is gravely concerned by the persistent disregard of its resolutions on children and armed conflict by parties to armed conflict identified in the reports of the monitoring and reporting mechanism, including parties to whom precise, immediate and unequivocal requests have been addressed. Recalling the statement made by its President on 28 November 2006,<sup>258</sup> the Council reaffirms its intention to make use of all the tools provided in resolution 1612 (2005).

“The Council reiterates its call upon the parties to armed conflict listed in the annexes to the report of the Secretary-General that have not already done so to prepare and implement, without further delay, concrete time-bound action plans to halt the recruitment and use of children in violation of applicable international law and to address all violations and abuses against children in close cooperation with the Special Representative of the Secretary-General, as well as with the United Nations Children’s Fund and the United Nations country task forces on monitoring and reporting.

“The Council expresses concern over the casualties inflicted on children in armed conflict by the indiscriminate use of landmines and cluster munitions, and in this regard calls upon all parties to armed conflict to desist from such practice.

“In order to further strengthen the comprehensive framework of the protection of children in armed conflict, considering the changing nature of armed conflict and the issues raised by the Secretary-General in his report, the Council expresses its readiness to review the relevant provisions of its resolutions on children and armed conflict, building on the provisions of resolution 1612 (2005), with a view to further increasing the efficiency of its actions.

“The Council recognizes that a stronger focus is required on the reintegration and rehabilitation of children associated with armed forces and armed groups, and in this regard invites all parties concerned, including Member States, regional organizations, the Secretariat and other relevant United Nations entities, including the United Nations Children’s Fund, the United Nations Population Fund, the United Nations Development Fund for Women, the World Health Organization, the United Nations Development

“The Council requests the Secretary-General to submit his next report on the implementation of its resolutions on children and armed conflict by May 2009.”

At its 5936th meeting, on 17 July 2008, the Council decided to invite the representatives of Afghanistan, Australia, Austria, Bangladesh, Benin, Canada, Colombia, Côte d'Ivoire, Egypt, Germany, Ghana, Ireland, Israel, Japan, Liberia, Liechtenstein, Malawi, Mexico, Myanmar, Nepal, New Zealand, Nicaragua, Nigeria, Norway, Peru, the Philippines, the Republic of Korea, Rwanda, Sri Lanka, Tonga, Uganda, the United Republic of Tanzania and Uruguay to participate, without vote, in the discussion of the item entitled:

its resolution 1612 (2005) and all its previous resolutions on children and armed conflict, and the statements by its President of 24 July<sup>263</sup> and 28 November 2006<sup>258</sup> and 12 February 2008,<sup>255</sup> which provide a comprehensive framework for addressing the protection of children affected by armed conflict, as well as the provisions on children contained in other resolutions, including resolutions 1325 (2000), 1674 (2006) and 1820 (2008).

“The Council reiterates its strong and equal condemnation of the continuing recruitment and use of children in armed conflict in violation of applicable international law, killing and maiming of children, rape and other sexual violence, abductions, denial of humanitarian access to children and attacks against schools and hospitals by parties to armed conflict, while acknowledging that the implementation of resolution 1612 (2005) has already generated progress, resulting in the release and reintegration of children into their families and communities, through, inter alia, a more systematic dialogue between the United Nations country task forces on monitoring and reporting and parties to armed conflict on the implementation of time-bound action plans.

“The Council reaffirms the need for States parties to comply with their obligations under the Convention on the Rights of the Child<sup>264</sup> and the Optional Protocols thereto<sup>265</sup> for armed groups distinct from the State to refrain from recruiting or using children in hostilities, and urges States that have not yet done so to consider ratifying or acceding to those instruments.

“The Council welcomes the sustained activity of its Working Group on Children and Armed Conflict, as outlined, inter alia, in the latest report of its Chairman,<sup>266</sup> and as the monitoring and reporting mechanism is being implemented in a growing number of situations of armed conflict, requests the Secretary-General to provide additional administrative support in order for the Working Group to continue to fully carry out its mandate in an effective manner.

“The Council invites the Working Group to continue adopting conclusions providing clear guidance to the parties to armed conflict and relevant international actors on the concrete steps that need to be taken in order to respect their obligations under international law, in particular Council resolutions on children and armed conflict, and proposing to the Council effective recommendations based on timely, objective, accurate and reliable information, with a view to promoting the protection of children affected by armed conflict, including through appropriate mandates of United Nations peacekeeping operations and political missions. The Council welcomes the efforts of the Working Group to improve its working methods and encourages it to continue to do so with a view to further improving its transparency and efficiency.

“The Council commends the work carried out by the Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Children and Armed Conflict, Ms. Radhika Coomaraswamy, and underlines the importance of her country visits in facilitating better coordination among United Nations partners at the field level, promoting collaboration between the United Nations and Governments, enhancing dialogue with parties to conflicts in implementing applicable international law, including their obligations under resolution 1612 (2005), and thereby securing concrete child protection commitments.

“The Council reiterates the need for stronger focus by all parties concerned, including Governments and the donor community, on the long-term effects of armed conflict on children and the impediments to their full rehabilitation and reintegration into their families and communities, by, inter alia, addressing the need for providing appropriate health care, enhancing their exchange of information about programmes and best practices, and ensuring the availability of adequate resources, funding and technical assistance to support national strategies or action plans in the area of child protection and welfare, and community-based programmes, bearing in mind the Paris principles to protect children from unlawful recruitment by armed forces or groups,<sup>259</sup> with a view to ensuring the long-term sustainability and success of their programmatic response to the release, rehabilitation and reintegration of all children associated with armed forces and armed groups.

developments in Guinea-Bissau and on the activities of the United Nations Peacebuilding Support Office in Guinea-Bissau,<sup>269</sup> reaffirms its support for the continuing efforts to consolidate peace in that country.

“The Council notes with deep concern the threat posed by drug and human trafficking, which can undermine the important gains made with respect to the rule of law and democratic and transparent governance. The Council further notes that the danger posed by drug trafficking in Guinea-Bissau could have negative implications for the region as well as other regions.

“The Council is especially concerned over the security and safety of Bissau-Guinean officials involved in combating drug trafficking and organized crime. The Council therefore calls upon the Government of Guinea-Bissau, with appropriate support from the international community, to take concerted action to safeguard the safety and security of those officials who are involved in combating these activities.

“The Council welcomes the decision by the Economic Community of West African States to convene later this year a regional conference on combating drug trafficking aimed at developing a regional plan of action to deal with this challenge. The Council calls for urgent consideration of how the United Nations system might improve its support for Guinea-Bissau’s fight against international drug trafficking and organized crime. The Council recognizes the importance of containing and reversing the threat of drug trafficking to the peace consolidation process in Guinea-Bissau. The Council further recognizes, in particular, the important role of the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime. The Council requests the Secretary-General to report on this matter as soon as practicable. The Council further welcomes the initiative to hold an international conference in Lisbon on drug trafficking in Guinea-Bissau in December 2007.

“The Council also expresses its concern about the fragility of the democratization process in Guinea-Bissau as well as persistent economic and social crisis.

The Council further appeals to the international community to provide the necessary logistical and technical support to ensure the effective and timely organization of the polls.

“The Council further welcomes the improved dialogue between the Government of Guinea-Bissau and the Bretton Woods institutions and urges the Government to continue to implement its commitments in the areas of fiscal responsibility, reforms of the justice sector and good governance. The Council also welcomes the assistance provided to Guinea-Bissau by bilateral and multilateral partners, in particular the United Nations Development Programme, the European Union and the World Bank, and encourages their enhanced constructive involvement in the country.

“The Council encourages the authorities of Guinea-Bissau to carry out their commitment concerning security sector reform. The Council also takes note of the announcement made by the European Union and the Economic Community of West African States to make resources available in support of security sector reform.

“The Council recognizes the importance of a holistic approach in resolving the complex and multidimensional situation facing Guinea-Bissau and requests the Secretary-General to present proposals on how best the United Nations could provide effective assistance in an integrated and holistic manner to national efforts in order to contribute to the sustainable stabilization of Guinea-Bissau.

“The Council takes note of the letter dated 11 July 2007 from the Prime Minister of Guinea-Bissau requesting that Guinea-Bissau be placed on the agenda of the Peacebuilding Commission and expresses its intention to consider the request as a matter of priority.

“The Council reaffirms that peace and stability in Guinea-Bissau are critical for peace and security in the West African subregion. The Council recognizes the importance of the regional dimension in the resolution of the problems faced by Guinea-Bissau and, in this regard, welcomes the role being played by the African Union, the Economic Community of West African States and the Community of Portuguese-speaking Countries in the peacebuilding process in Guinea-Bissau.

“The Council recognizes and commends the important role played by the Representative of the Secretary-General for Guinea-Bissau and the staff of the United Nations Peacebuilding Support Office in Guinea-Bissau, as well as by the United Nations country team, towards helping to consolidate peace, democracy and the rule of law, and expresses its appreciation for their activities.

“I have the honour to refer to paragraph 12 of Security Council resolution 1645 (2005) and the statement by the President of the Council of 19 October 2007.<sup>268</sup>

“In a letter dated 11 July 2007 to the Secretary-General, which was forwarded to the Council on 26 July 2007, the Prime Minister of Guinea-Bissau requested that Guinea-Bissau be placed on the agenda of the Peacebuilding Commission. The Council supports this request and invites the Commission to provide advice on the situation in Guinea-Bissau.

“The Council considers that the advice of the Commission would be particularly useful in the following areas:

“(a) Governmental capacity to institute effective oversight and management of national finances, and comprehensive public sector reform, including effective anti-corruption policies and programmes;

“(b) Action by the national Government and the international community to develop effective, accountable and sustainable security systems and to strengthen the independence of the judiciary and the rule of law, taking account, in particular, of the dangers posed by drug trafficking and organized crime;

“(c) Ongoing development of democratic accountability and preparations for elections in 2008.

“The Council recognizes the importance of ensuring respect for the equal rights of women and, in this regard, reaffirms the importance of the equal role of women in the prevention and resolution of conflicts and in peacebuilding, and stresses the need for their full and equal participation in peace processes at all levels. The Council urges Member States, regional and subregional organizations and the United Nations system to enhance the role of women in decision-making with regard to all peace processes and post-conflict reconstruction and rebuilding of societies as vital in all efforts towards the maintenance and promotion of sustainable peace and security.

“The Council is concerned that armed and other types of conflicts still persist in many parts of the world and are an ongoing reality affecting women in nearly every region. In this regard, the Council expresses deep concern that civilians, particularly women and children, continue to account for the vast majority of victims of acts of violence committed by parties to armed conflict, including as a result of deliberate targeting and indiscriminate and excessive use of force. The Council condemns these acts and demands that those parties immediately put an end to such practices.

“The Council reaffirms in this regard that parties to armed conflict bear the primary responsibility to take all feasible steps to ensure the protection of affected civilians, in particular, giving attention to the specific needs of women and girls.

“The Council recognizes the constant underrepresentation of women in formal peace processes and is deeply concerned about persistent obstacles and challenges resulting from situations such as violence against women, shattered economies and social structures, lack of rule of law, poverty, limited access to education and other resources, various forms of discrimination and stereotypes.

“The Council remains concerned about the low number of women appointed as Special Representatives or Special Envoys of the Secretary-General to peace missions. The Council urges the Secretary-General to appoint, taking into account the principle of equitable geographical representation, more women to pursue good offices on his behalf. The Council urges Member States to redouble their efforts to nominate women candidates to the Secretary-General, for inclusion in a regularly updated centralized roster. In turn, the Council calls upon the Secretary-General to increase the profile and transparency of this procedure and to issue guidelines to Member States on the process of nomination to senior posts. In addition, the Council reaffirms its call for broader gender mainstreaming in all peacekeeping operations, and welcomes United Nations peacekeeping operations policies to promote and protect the rights of women and to take into account a gender perspective as set out in resolution 1325 (2000).

“The Council takes note of the second follow-up report of the Secretary-General on women and peace and security,<sup>289</sup> and the various initiatives and actions undertaken by the United Nations entities in the context of the System-wide Action Plan for the implementation of resolution 1325 (2000),<sup>290</sup> and calls upon the Secretary-General to update, monitor and review the implementation and integration of the Plan, to conduct a system-wide evaluation in 2010 of progress achieved in implementing the Plan in 2008–2009, and to report thereon to the Council.

“While welcoming the progress achieved so far, the Council recognizes the need for full and more effective implementation of resolution 1325 (2000).

“In this regard, the Council reiterates its call upon Member States to continue to fully and effectively implement resolution 1325 (2000), including, where appropriate, through the development and strengthening of national efforts and capacities, as well as the implementation of national action plans or other relevant national-level strategies.

“The Council calls upon the international community to provide, where needed, financial and technical support, as well as adequate training, for national implementation of resolution 1325 (2000), and upon the United Nations system, civil society and other relevant actors to collaborate and provide assistance in line with national priorities to Member States, particularly those affected by armed conflict, in the rapid development of national action plans, and to work closely with national mechanisms responsible for the implementation of the resolution, including, where appropriate, through the United Nations country teams. To this end, it requests the Secretary-General to include, in his annual report to the Council, information on progress on measures taken to improve, where appropriate, the capacity of relevant Member States to implement resolution 1325 (2000), including information on best practices.

“The Council emphasizes the importance of strengthening cooperation between Member States as well as the United Nations entities and regional organizations in adopting and promoting regional approaches to the full implementation of resolution 1325 (2000) in all its aspects.

“The Council strongly condemns all violations of international law, including international humanitarian law, human rights law and refugee law, committed against women and girls in situations of armed conflict, including killing, maiming, sexual violence, exploitation and abuse. In this regard, the Council urges the complete cessation by all parties of such acts with immediate effect.

“The Council is deeply concerned that despite its repeated condemnation of all acts of violence, including killing, maiming, sexual violence, exploitation and abuse in situations of armed conflict, and despite its calls addressed to all parties to armed conflict for the cessation of such acts with immediate effect and for the adoption of specific measures to protect women and girls from gender-based violence, particularly rape, and other forms of sexual abuse, as well as all other forms of violence, such acts remain pervasive, and in some situations have become systematic, and have reached appalling levels of atrocity. The Council stresses the need to end impunity for such acts as part of a comprehensive approach to seeking peace, justice, truth and national reconciliation.

“In this context, the Council reiterates paragraph 9 of resolution 1325 (2000) and calls upon all parties to armed conflict to respect fully international law applicable to the rights and protection of women and girls, especially as civilians, in particular the obligations applicable to them under the Geneva Conventions of 1949<sup>291</sup> and the Additional Protocols thereto, of 1977,<sup>292</sup> the Convention relating to the Status of Refugees of 1951<sup>293</sup> and the Protocol thereto, of 1967,<sup>294</sup> the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women of 1979<sup>295</sup> and the Optional Protocol thereto, of 1999<sup>296</sup> and the Convention on the Rights of the Child of 1989<sup>297</sup> and the two Optional Protocols thereto,

of 19 June 2008

The Security Council,

Reaffirming its commitment to the continuing and full implementation of its resolutions 1325 (2000) of 31 October 2000, 1612 (2005) of 26 July 2005 and 1674 (2006) of 28 April 2006, and recalling the statements by its President of 31 October 2001,<sup>300</sup> 31 October 2002,<sup>301</sup> 28 October 2004,<sup>302</sup> 27 October 2005,<sup>303</sup> 26 October 2006,<sup>304</sup> 7 March 2007<sup>305</sup> and 23 October 2007,<sup>284</sup>

Guided by the purposes and principles of the Charter of the United Nations,

Reaffirming the resolve expressed in the 2005 World Summit Outcome<sup>285</sup> to eliminate all forms of violence against women and girls, including by ending impunity and by ensuring the protection of civilians, in particular women and girls, during and after armed conflicts, in accordance with the obligations that States have undertaken under international humanitarian law and international human rights law,

Recalling the commitments contained in the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action<sup>286</sup> as well as those contained in the outcome documents of the twenty-third special session of the General Assembly entitled “Women 2000: gender equality, development and peace for the twenty-first century”,<sup>287</sup> in particular those concerning sexual violence and women in situations of armed conflict,

Reaffirming the obligations of States parties to the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women,<sup>295</sup> the Optional Protocol thereto,<sup>296</sup> the Convention on the Rights of the Child<sup>297</sup> and the Optional Protocols thereto,<sup>298</sup> and urging States that have not yet done so to consider ratifying or acceding to them,

Noting that civilians account for the vast majority of those adversely affected by armed conflict; that women and girls are particularly targeted by the use of sexual violence, including as a tactic of war to humiliate, dominate, instil fear in, disperse and/or forcibly relocate civilian members of a community or ethnic group; and that sexual violence perpetrated in this manner may in some instances persist after the cessation of hostilities,

Recalling its condemnation in the strongest terms of all sexual and other forms of violence committed against civilians in armed conflict, in particular women and children,

Reiterating its deep concern that, despite its repeated condemnation of violence against women and children in situations of armed conflict, including sexual violence in situations of armed conflict, and despite its calls addressed to all parties to armed conflict for the cessation of such acts with immediate effect, such acts continue to occur, and in some situations have become systematic and widespread, reaching appalling levels of brutality,

Recalling the inclusion of a range of sexual violence offences in the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court<sup>299</sup> and the statutes of the ad hoc international criminal tribunals,

Reaffirming the important role of women in the prevention and resolution of conflicts and in peacebuilding, and stressing the importance of their equal participation and full involvement in all efforts for the maintenance and promotion of peace and security, and the need to increase their role in decision-making with regard to conflict prevention and resolution,

Deeply concerned about the persistent obstacles and challenges to the participation and full involvement of women in the prevention and resolution of conflict as a result of violence, intimidation and discrimination, which erode women's capacity and legitimacy to participate in post-conflict public life, and acknowledging the negative impact this has on durable peace, security and reconciliation, including post-conflict peacebuilding,

Recognizing that States bear the primary responsibility to respect and ensure the human rights of their citizens, as well as all individuals within their territory, as provided for by relevant international law,

Reaffirming that parties to armed conflict bear the primary responsibility to take all feasible steps to ensure the protection of affected civilians,

Welcoming the ongoing coordination of efforts within the United Nations system, marked by the inter-agency initiative "United Nations Action against Sexual Violence in Conflict," to create awareness about sexual violence in armed conflicts and post-conflict situations and, ultimately, to put an end to it,

1. Stresses that sexual violence, when used or commissioned as a tactic of war in order to deliberately target civilians or as a part of a widespread or systematic attack against civilian populations, can significantly exacerbate situations of armed conflict and may impede the restoration of international peace and security, affirms in this regard that effective steps to prevent and respond to such acts of sexual violence can significantly contribute to the maintenance of international peace and security, and expresses its readiness, when considering situations on the agenda of the Security Council, to, where necessary, adopt appropriate steps to address widespread or systematic sexual violence;

2. Demands the immediate and complete cessation by all parties to armed conflict of all acts of sexual violence against civilians with immediate effect;

3. Demands also that all parties to armed conflict immediately take appropriate measures to protect civilians, including women and girls, from all forms of sexual violence, which could include enforcing appropriate military disciplinary measures and upholding the principle of command responsibility, training troops on the categorical prohibition of all forms of sexual violence against civilians, debunking myths that fuel sexual violence, vetting armed and security forces to take into account past actions of rape and other forms of sexual violence, and evacuation of women and children under imminent threat of sexual violence to safety; and requests the Secretary-General, where appropriate, to encourage dialogue to address this issue in the context of broader discussions of conflict resolution between appropriate United Nations officials and the parties to the conflict, taking into account, inter alia, the views expressed by women of affected local communities;

4. Notes that rape and other forms of sexual violence can constitute a war crime, a crime against humanity, or a constitutive act with respect to genocide, stresses the need for the exclusion of sexual violence crimes from amnesty provisions in the context of conflict resolution processes, and calls upon Member States to comply with their obligations for prosecuting persons responsible for such acts and to ensure that all victims of sexual violence, particularly women and girls, have equal protection under the law and equal access to justice, and stresses the importance of ending impunity for such acts as part of a comprehensive approach to seeking sustainable peace, justice, truth and national reconciliation;

5. Affirms its intention, when establishing and renewing State-specific sanctions regimes, to take into consideration the appropriateness of targeted and graduated measures against parties to situations of armed conflict who commit rape and other forms of sexual violence against women and girls in situations of armed conflict;

6. Requests the Secretary-General, in consultation with the Council, the Special Committee on Peacekeeping Operations and its Working Group and relevant States, as appropriate, to develop and implement appropriate training programmes for all peacekeeping and humanitarian personnel deployed by the United Nations in the context of missions as mandated by the Council to help them to better prevent, recognize and respond to sexual violence and other forms of violence against civilians;

7. Also requests the Secretary-General to continue and strengthen efforts to implement the policy of zero tolerance of sexual exploitation and abuse in United Nations peacekeeping operations, and urges troop- and police-contributing countries to take appropriate preventative action, including predeployment and in-theatre awareness training, and other action to ensure full accountability in cases of such conduct involving their personnel;

8. Encourages troop- and police-contributing countries, in consultation with the Secretary-General, to consider steps they could take to heighten awareness and the responsiveness of their personnel participating in United Nations peacekeeping operations to protect civilians, including women and children, and prevent sexual violence against women and girls in conflict and post-conflict situations, including, wherever possible, the deployment of a higher percentage of women peacekeepers or police;

9. Requests the Secretary-General to develop effective guidelines and strategies to enhance the ability of relevant United Nations peacekeeping operations, consistent with their mandates, to protect civilians, including women and girls, from all forms of sexual violence and to systematically include in his written reports to the Council on conflict situations his observations concerning the protection of women and girls and recommendations in this regard;

10. Requests the Secretary-General and relevant United Nations agencies, inter alia, through consultation with women and women-led organizations, as appropriate, to develop effective mechanisms for providing protection from violence, including, in particular, sexual violence, to women and girls in and around United Nations-managed refugee and internally displaced persons camps, as well as in all disarmament, demobilization and reintegration processes, and in justice and security sector reform efforts assisted by the United Nations;

11. Stresses the important role that the Peacebuilding Commission can play by including in its advice and recommendations for post-conflict peacebuilding strategies, where appropriate, ways to address sexual violence committed during and in the aftermath of armed conflict, and ensuring consultation and effective representation of women's civil society in its country-specific configurations, as part of its wider approach to gender issues;

12. Urges the Secretary-General and his Special Envoys to invite women to participate in discussions pertinent to the prevention and resolution of conflict, the maintenance of peace and security, and post-conflict peacebuilding, and encourages all parties to such talks to facilitate the equal and full participation of women at decision-making levels;

13. Urges all parties concerned, including Member States, United Nations entities and financial institutions, to support the development and strengthening of the capacities of national institutions, in particular of judicial and health systems, and of local civil society networks in order to provide sustainable assistance to victims of sexual violence in armed conflict and post-conflict situations;

14. Urges appropriate regional and subregional bodies, in particular, to consider developing and implementing policies, activities and advocacy for the benefit of women and girls affected by sexual violence in armed conflict;

15. Requests the Secretary-General to submit a report to the Council by 30 June 2009 on the implementation of the present resolution in the context of situations which are on the agenda of the Council, utilizing information from available United Nations sources, including country teams, peacekeeping operations and other United Nations personnel, which would include information on situations of armed conflict in which sexual violence has been widely or systematically employed against civilians; analysis of the prevalence and trends of sexual violence in situations of armed conflict; proposals for strategies to minimize the susceptibility of women and girls to such violence; benchmarks for measuring progress in preventing and addressing sexual violence; appropriate input from United Nations implementing partners in the field; information on his plans for facilitating the collection of timely, objective, accurate and reliable information on the use of sexual violence in situations of armed conflict, including through improved coordination of United Nations activities on the ground and at Headquarters; and information on actions taken by parties to armed conflict to implement their responsibilities as described in the present resolution, in particular by immediately and completely ceasing all acts of sexual violence and taking appropriate measures to protect women and girls from all forms of sexual violence;

16. Decides to remain actively seized of the matter.

The Council emphasizes that the peaceful resolution of the situation in Abyei is vital to the effective implementation of the Comprehensive Peace Agreement<sup>363</sup> and peace in the region. The Council welcomes the agreements in the road map, including its provisions regarding revenue-sharing and the interim boundaries in Abyei. <sup>385</sup> S/2008/438.

At the same meeting, following consultations among members of the Security Council, the President made the following statement on behalf of the Council:<sup>386</sup>

“The Security Council condemns in the strongest possible terms the attack on 8 July 2008 on a military and police convoy of the African Union-United Nations Hybrid Operation in Darfur (UNAMID) in Um Hakibah by 200 fighters on horses and in 40 vehicles, using sophisticated weaponry and tactics, which resulted in the death of 7 peacekeepers and a further 22 United Nations/African Union personnel being wounded. This unacceptable act of extreme violence is the largest attack on UNAMID since the transfer of authority from the African Union Mission in the Sudan on 31 December 2007. The Council is particularly concerned that the attack was premeditated, deliberate and intended to inflict casualties.

“The Council welcomes the United Nations investigation under way and the Government of the Sudan’s statement that it would assist the United Nations investigation. It calls upon the Government of the Sudan to do its utmost to ensure that the perpetrators of the attack are swiftly identified and brought to justice. The Council underlines its determination to take action against those responsible after hearing the outcome of the investigation by UNAMID.

“The Council expresses its condolences to the Governments of Rwanda, Ghana and Uganda for the deaths of their peacekeepers and to the families of the victims. It commends the dedication of UNAMID personnel. The Council stresses that any attack or threat against UNAMID is unacceptable, and demands that there be no reoccurrence. It underlines that attacks on United Nations peacekeepers during an armed conflict can constitute war crimes under applicable international law and calls upon all parties to comply with their obligations under international humanitarian law.

“The Council calls upon all parties to agree to a cessation of hostilities, to engage fully and constructively in the political process under the leadership of the new Joint African Union-United Nations Chief Mediator for Darfur, Mr. Djibrill Yipènè Bassolé, and to cooperate fully with the deployment of UNAMID and respect its security and freedom of movement.

“The Council further calls upon the United Nations and all parties to facilitate the rapid and complete deployment of UNAMID, and upon capable Member States to contribute the helicopter and transportation units necessary to ensure the successful implementation of the mandate of UNAMID.”

At its 5947th meeting, on 31 July 2008, the Council decided to invite the representative of the Sudan to participate, without vote, in the discussion of the item entitled:

On 3 January 2008, the President of the Security Council addressed the following letter to the Secretary-General.<sup>398</sup>

“The Council emphasizes the importance of national ownership and the primary responsibility of national authorities emerging from conflict for peacebuilding and sustainable development, expresses its intention to support those efforts and encourages other actors to do the same.

activities and resources, and expresses its support for enhancing the role of the Peacebuilding Commission, the Peacebuilding Support Office and the Peacebuilding Fund.

“The Council recognizes that, in particular in the immediate aftermath of conflict, affected countries have urgent needs including, but not limited to, the re-establishment of the institutions of government, disarmament, demobilization and reintegration of armed forces, security sector reform, transitional justice, reconciliation, re-establishing the rule of law and respect for human rights and economic revitalization. The Council underlines that civilian expertise in post-conflict peacebuilding is essential in helping to meet these needs.

“The Council encourages efforts to address the urgent need for rapidly deployable civilian expertise and stresses that the critical role for such expertise is working in cooperation with national authorities to strengthen national capacities.

“The Council highlights the need for the United Nations to play a leading role in the field in coordinating international efforts in post-conflict situations. The Council stresses that coordination between national authorities and others involved in longer-term reconstruction and development, including organs of the United Nations system in accordance with their respective mandates, the international financial institutions, as well as with civil society and the business sector, is vital for the success of United Nations and international engagement in post-conflict situations.

“The Council stresses the need to ensure that finance is available from the outset for recovery and peacebuilding activities to meet immediate needs, and to lay a solid foundation for longer-term reconstruction and development.

“The Council reaffirms the role of regional organizations in the prevention, management and resolution of conflicts in accordance with Chapter VIII of the Charter of the United Nations, and the need to strengthen the capacity of regional organizations in helping countries to recover from conflict.

“The Council encourages the Secretary-General, the Peacebuilding Commission, international and regional organizations and Member States to consider how to support national efforts in affected countries to secure a sustainable peace more rapidly and effectively, including in the areas of coordination, civilian deployment capabilities and financing. The Council invites the Secretary-General to provide advice within 12 months to the relevant United Nations organs on how best to take forward these issues within the United Nations system and, taking into consideration the views of the Peacebuilding Commission, how to coordinate peacebuilding activities and encourage the mobilization and most effective use of resources for urgent peacebuilding needs.”

In a letter dated 30 May 2008, the President of the Security Council informed the Chairperson of the Peacebuilding Commission that the Council supported the request to place the Central African Republic on the agenda of the Commission.<sup>400</sup>

Decisions

On 7 September 2007, the President of the Security Council addressed the following letter to the Secretary-General:<sup>405</sup>

“I have the honour to inform you that your letter dated 4 September 2007 concerning your intention to appoint Mr. Staffan de Mistura, of Sweden, as your Special Representative for Iraq and Head of the United Nations Assistance Mission for Iraq<sup>406</sup> has been brought to the attention of the members of the Security Council. They take note of the intention expressed in your letter.”

At its 5763rd meeting, on 19 October 2007, the Council decided to invite the representative of Iraq to participate, without vote, in the discussion of the item entitled:

“The situation concerning Iraq

“Report of the Secretary-General pursuant to paragraph 6 of resolution 1770 (2007) (S/2007/608)”.

At the same meeting, in accordance with the understanding reached in its prior consultations, the Council also decided to extend an invitation, under rule 39 of its provisional rules of procedure, to Mr. B. Lynn Pascoe, Under-Secretary-General for Political Affairs.

On 8 November 2007, the President of the Security Council addressed the following letter to the Secretary-General:<sup>407</sup>

“I have the honour to inform you that your letter and note dated 25 July 2007 concerning the processing of letters of credit pertaining to the oil-for-food programme<sup>408</sup> have been brought to the attention of the members of the Security Council.

“The members of the Council continue to welcome the ongoing work of the Secretariat. In particular, they welcome the efforts of the Secretariat to meet again with the relevant authorities of the Government of Iraq in Amman, on 3 and 4 June 2007, where pending issues were discussed.

“They further express their appreciation for the efforts of the Secretariat to resolve with BNP Paribas the concerns raised in your letter dated 9 April 2007. The members of the Council affirm that the oil-for-food programme will be terminated by 31 December 2007, and, to that end, seek the full cooperation of all relevant parties to fulfil their responsibilities.

“Given that the oil-for-food programme is to be terminated on 31 December 2007, the members of the Council strongly encourage all companies previously involved with the programme and wishing to do business with Iraq to use normal commercial channels.

“The members of the Council have considered the request of the Central Bank of Iraq pertaining to communication number 900655 and withhold their consent to approve the request.

“They give their consent to the request of the Central Bank of Iraq concerning communication number 1100581. The decision of the Council in this regard shall not be construed as setting any precedent.

“Furthermore, the members of the Council agree with your suggestion not to reinstate the contracts with communication numbers 900020 and 900109.

“The members of the Council note that nothing in their decisions regarding the aforementioned contracts with communication numbers 900655, 900020 and 900109 shall prevent the sovereign Government of Iraq from determining whether those contracts should be fulfilled outside the oil-for-food programme.

“In the light of the issues raised in paragraph 12 of your note, the members of the Council agree with your proposal to authorize, at the request of the Central Bank of Iraq, the renewal, reinstatement or extension through a period not to exceed 31 December 2007 of the letters of credit listed in annexes I and V to your note and any related amendments thereto, except the three letters of credit (communication numbers 900655, 900020 and 900109) mentioned above.

“The members of the Council further agree to accept the authentication work associated with 17 letters of credit in annex VI to your note, completed by Cotecna at the time of handover of its functions to the Government of Iraq. Notwithstanding the provisions of relevant Council resolutions, the members of the Council request the Secretariat to issue all necessary documentation to BNP Paribas for early settlement of the related 17 letters of credit.

“They also note your decision to retain funds originally held as collateral in respect of 47 expired letters of credit in the United Nations Iraq Account pending the full resolution of claims.

“The members of the Council express their ongoing concern and disappointment regarding your observation of the slow provision or non-provision of authentication documents by the Government of Iraq. They remain concerned that there are currently 188 letters of credit with an approximate value of $209 million where the letters of credit have expired and for which there are claims of delivery from the suppliers. They continue to underline that this situation could present a serious risk to the possibility of the timely termination of the programme.

“The members of the Council, referring to the letters dated 11 August 2006<sup>409</sup> and 29 January<sup>410</sup> and 27 April 2007<sup>411</sup> from the President of the Council to the Secretary-General, reaffirm the importance of promptly finding a final solution to the remaining issues so that payments can be made to the companies concerned and so that the programme can close as currently scheduled.

“To that end, they have addressed another letter to the Permanent Representative of Iraq to the United Nations urging the Government of Iraq to do its utmost, in liaison with the United Nations Secretariat, to expedite the processing of the remaining letters of credit, in particular those in respect of contracts where delivery has been effected.

“They expressed concern about the chronic problem of the slow provision or non-provision of authentication documents, and invited the Permanent Representative to send a reply setting out the views and experiences of the Government of Iraq in this matter, and providing specific answers regarding the aforementioned issues, particularly allegations regarding improper withholding of authentication documents. The members of the Council noted their prior requests for such information from the Government of Iraq, and urged the Government of Iraq to reply.

“The members of the Council request the Secretary-General to develop proposals to address unresolved issues, including the possible need for the establishment of mechanisms to deal with outstanding issues, and to report again to the Council on such issues within three weeks, bearing in mind the non-negotiable termination date of 31 December 2007 of the programme.”

On 21 November 2007, the President of the Security Council addressed the following letter to the Secretary-General:<sup>412</sup>

“I have the honour to inform you that your report of 27 September 2007 pursuant to paragraph 5 of resolution 1762 (2007)<sup>413</sup> has been brought to the attention of the Security Council.

“The members of the Council take note of the contents of the report and, in particular, of the steps that you have taken ‘to provide for the appropriate disposition of the archives and other property of the United Nations Monitoring, Verification and Inspection Commission under arrangements ensuring, in particular, that sensitive proliferation information or information provided in confidence by Member States is kept under strict control’, in accordance with paragraph 5 of resolution 1762 (2007). The members of the Council approve of the overall archiving procedure as set out in the report.

“With regard to the issues raised in paragraph 35 of your report, the members of the Council suggest that access to the ‘confidential’ information in the archives of the Commission be restricted for a period of 30 years and that access to the ‘strictly confidential’ information be restricted for a period of 60 years.

“Following the expiration of this period, confidential and strictly confidential information would be reviewed by the Secretary-General every five years. If the information was provided in confidence by a Member State, the Secretary-General would consult with that Member State. Following this review, the Secretary-General would have the discretion to recommend to the Council under a non-objection procedure the declassification of information.

“The members of the Council also support granting earlier access to the archives to Member States and relevant international organizations, such as the International Atomic Energy Agency, the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons and the United Nations Environment Programme, on a case-by-case basis, following careful consideration of the reasons for allowing such access. The Council suggests the nomination by the Secretary-General, with the approval of the Council, of a three-person ad hoc committee to recommend in each case whether such access should be granted. The recommendations of this committee would be sent to the Council under a non-objection procedure.

“The members of the Council also recommend that the Secretariat expeditiously and economically transfer to the Government of Iraq all property of the Commission that is not proliferation-sensitive or subject to export control restrictions. Property that is sensitive or subject to restrictions should be appropriately disposed of at the earliest possible date in consultation with the State or entity from which the property was purchased or donated.

“The members of the Council note the requirement of resolution 1762 (2007) that the Secretary-General transfer all unencumbered funds not used for payment of outstanding bills or for the costs associated with archiving and property disposition to the Development Fund for Iraq, and in that regard further note the transfer of 25.1 million United States dollars already made by the United Nations. If, following completion of the tasks outlined in resolution 1762 (2007), a portion of the encumbered US$ 12 million is unspent, the members of the Council urge that it be transferred to the Fund without delay. The members of the Council request an update each quarter on relevant spending by the United Nations.

“The members of the Council welcome the continuing efforts of the Secretary-General and the staff of the United Nations Secretariat to dispose appropriately of Commission archives and other property as soon as possible. The members request monthly updates in closing down the Commission in a manner consistent with resolution 1762 (2007). The members also request a briefing on what steps the Secretariat is planning to provide for the enhanced physical security of the archives, in particular those containing sensitive proliferation information.”

At its 5808th meeting, on 18 December 2007, the Council decided to invite the representative of Iraq to participate, without vote, in the discussion of the item entitled “The situation concerning Iraq”.

At the same meeting, in accordance with the understanding reached in its prior consultations, the Council also decided to extend an invitation, under rule 39 of its provisional rules of procedure, to Mr. Warren Sach, Assistant Secretary-General for Programme Planning, Budget and Accounts and Controller.

Annex I

Letter dated 7 December 2007 from Mr. Nuri Kamel al-Maliki, Prime Minister of Iraq, to the President of the Security Council

Iraq has now finished building its constitutional and legal institutions. It now has a permanent Constitution, which was voted on by the Iraqi people, and a parliament, which represents the various components of Iraqi society. Iraq also has a Government of national unity that includes all political factions. Today, despite the efforts of terrorists and hostile forces to prevent us from developing our young and vital democracy, we are determined to build a democratic, federal and unified Iraq.

The Government of Iraq continues to act expeditiously to guarantee the security of Iraqi citizens and the stability of the country. It is continuing to act expeditiously to promote national reconciliation in order to ensure broad political participation by all national forces, to protect human rights and strengthen the rule of law, to achieve economic growth and to provide its citizens with basic services.

Achieving security and stability in the country is a matter of the utmost priority for the Government of Iraq. That is why it has devoted special attention to the task of building and strengthening the capacities of the Iraqi Army and the internal security forces, given that those are the two institutions that can guarantee security, maintain order and confront terrorist and other outlaw groups. Our national forces have successfully taken over the security functions of the multinational force in Iraq (MNF-I) in eight governorates. It is our intention that our national forces will continue to take over those security functions until all 18 governorates are under the full security control of our troops in 2008. Our ground force command has assumed control of all the divisions of the Iraqi Army. The effective coordination between the command and MNF-I has had a positive effect on the security situation.

The Government of Iraq stresses that MNF-I, working alongside our national forces, has made an important and significant contribution to efforts to establish security and the rule of law. The Government of Iraq requests that the Security Council should consider extending the mandate of MNF-I in the light of Iraq's achievements over the past few years, namely, the strengthened capacity of its Army and security forces and its significant successes in the security, political and economic spheres. A review of the role and authority of MNF-I will thus be required in order to strike a balance between, on the one hand, the need to extend, one last time, the mandate of the force and, on the other hand, progress made by Iraq in the area of security. In this regard, it is important for Iraq to be treated as an independent and fully sovereign State and, in seeking the aforementioned balance, the following objectives should be highlighted:

1. The Government of Iraq requests the extension of the mandate of MNF-I in accordance with Security Council resolutions 1546 (2004), 1637 (2005) and 1723 (2006) and the letters annexed thereto for a period of 12 months beginning on 31 December 2007, provided that the extension is subject to a commitment by the Security Council to end the mandate at an earlier date if the Government of Iraq so requests and that the mandate is subject to periodic review before June 2008;

2. The functions of recruiting, training, arming and equipping the Iraqi Army and Iraq's security forces are the responsibility of the Government of Iraq;
3. The Government of Iraq will assume responsibility for command and control of all Iraqi forces, and MNF-I, in coordination with the Government of Iraq, will provide support and backing to those forces;
4. The Government of Iraq will be responsible for arrest, detention and imprisonment tasks. When those tasks are carried out by MNF-I, there will be maximum levels of coordination, cooperation and understanding with the Government of Iraq;
5. The Government of Iraq considers this to be its final request to the Security Council for the extension of the mandate of MNF-I and expects, in future, that the Security Council will be able to deal with the situation in Iraq without the need for action under Chapter VII of the Charter of the United Nations;
6. The Government of Iraq requests that the resolution to be adopted by the Security Council should reaffirm respect for the independence, sovereignty, unity and territorial integrity of Iraq and also reaffirm the commitment of Member States to the principle of non-intervention in its internal affairs.

The Government of Iraq wishes to inform the Security Council that it has signed a declaration of principles with the United States of America with a view to establishing a long-term cooperative and friendly relationship.

The Government of Iraq reaffirms the importance of the work of the Security Council Committee established pursuant to resolution 1518 (2003) in order to restore the Iraqi funds and assets deposited outside Iraq by the previous regime. The Government of Iraq urges the members of the Security Council to support the Committee's ongoing work in accordance with paragraph 19 of resolution 1483 (2003) concerning the identification of individuals and entities referred to in paragraph 23 of that resolution, including the updating of the list of individuals and entities identified by the Security Council Committee established pursuant to paragraph 6 of resolution 661 (1990). The Government of Iraq looks forward to the Committee's report to the Security Council on its activities.

The Government of Iraq recognizes the importance of the provisions of paragraph 22 of resolution 1483 (2003) in ensuring that Iraq's natural resources, the proceeds from sales thereof and other funds deposited in the Development Fund for Iraq are used for reconstruction activities and other efforts to benefit the people of Iraq. Iraq therefore requests that, taking account of the exception provided for in paragraph 27 of resolution 1546 (2004), the Security Council should continue to apply the provisions of paragraph 22 of resolution 1483 (2003) until 31 December 2008, including in respect of the funds, financial assets and economic resources described in paragraph 23 of resolution 1483 (2003).

The Government of Iraq is of the opinion that the provisions of Security Council resolution 1546 (2004) on the deposit of proceeds into the Development Fund for Iraq will help to ensure that proceeds from Iraq's natural resources are used to serve the interests of the Iraqi people. The role played by the International Advisory and Monitoring Board serves the same purpose. The Government of Iraq understands that the Development Fund for Iraq plays an important role in helping Iraq to convince donors and creditors that it is managing its resources and debts in a responsible way in the interests of the Iraqi people. It should be pointed out that Iraq is striving to form a new partnership with the international community in order to build a dynamic network designed to transform its economy and integrate it with other world economies through the International Compact with Iraq. We are therefore requesting that the mandate of the Development Fund for Iraq and the International Advisory and Monitoring Board should be extended for a further 12 months. We are also requesting that the mandate should be reviewed, based on the request of the Government of Iraq, before 15 June 2008.

The Government of Iraq is asking the Security Council to review its resolutions relating to the deposit of 5 per cent of Iraq's proceeds from oil into the Compensation Fund established in accordance with Security Council resolution 687 (1991) and subsequent relevant resolutions, with a view to reducing that percentage as much as possible, since the deposit of such a high percentage creates a financial burden for Iraq at a time when it is in dire need of those funds to rebuild its infrastructure, which was destroyed during the wars waged by the previous regime. Furthermore, the increase in the price of oil means that the real amount represented by that 5 per cent is at least five times greater than it was.

The people of Iraq are determined to establish a stable and peaceful democracy. They are determined to develop a dynamic economy built on solid foundations and a creative vision. The people of Iraq need the support of the international community to make that vision a reality.

It is our understanding that the Security Council intends to include this letter as an annex to the resolution concerning Iraq that is currently being drafted. In the meantime, I should be grateful if you would have this letter circulated to the members of the esteemed Security Council as soon as possible.

Annex II

Letter dated 10 December 2007 from Ms. Condoleezza Rice, Secretary of State of the United States of America, to the President of the Security Council

Having reviewed the request of the Government of Iraq to extend the mandate of the Multinational Force (MNF) in Iraq and following consultations with the Government of Iraq, I am writing to confirm, consistent with this request, that MNF under unified command stands ready to continue to fulfil its mandate as set out in Security Council resolution 1546 (2004) and extended by Security Council resolutions 1637 (2005) and 1723 (2006).

Together, the Government of Iraq and MNF in Iraq combat the challenges that threaten Iraq's security and stability through a security partnership that has continued to improve and that has resulted in progress in the past year. This effective, cooperative partnership continues to evolve, as Iraqi security forces take leadership in fighting and deterring terrorism and other violent acts throughout Iraq. In the context of this partnership, MNF is prepared to continue to undertake a broad range of tasks to contribute to the maintenance of security and stability and to ensure force protection, acting under the authorities set forth in resolution 1546 (2004), including the tasks and arrangements set out in the letters annexed thereto, and in close cooperation with the Government of Iraq. The forces that make up MNF will remain committed to acting consistently with their obligations and rights under international law, including the law of armed conflict.

Iraqi security forces continue to make progress in developing their capabilities as they move into the lead in taking responsibility for Iraq's security. This year, the Iraqi Ground Forces Command has assumed control of all Iraqi Army divisions. Iraqi authorities and local security forces have assumed primary security responsibility in eight of Iraq's provinces, and we are working together for continued progress in transition of security responsibility in all of Iraq's 18 provinces. Together we will build towards the day when the Iraqi forces assume full responsibility for the maintenance of security and stability in Iraq.

In the coming year, MNF is ready to continue to participate in the maintenance of security and stability in Iraq, within the context of the growth in the capabilities of the Iraqi security forces and Iraq's successes in security, politics and the economy. MNF is prepared to work with the Government of Iraq to help it to achieve the objectives it has set for itself as an independent and sovereign State.

The co-sponsors intend to annex this letter to the resolution on Iraq that is under consideration. In the meantime, I request that you provide copies of this letter to members of the Security Council as quickly as possible.

“The members of the Council also note your recommendation, in the light of the proposal of the Government of Iraq, that the Working Group review the situation in July 2008. However, owing to the considerable amount of time being taken to bring the programme to a satisfactory conclusion, the members of the Council would request the Working Group to reconvene at a convenient time in June 2008, with a view to receiving an updated report from you as soon as possible in July 2008.

“The members of the Council affirm that, in the light of your report to be submitted in July 2008, they will, at that time, take the necessary decisions in order to conclude all outstanding issues and end the oil-for-food programme without the possibility of any further extensions.

of 3 March 2008

The Security Council,

Recalling the statement by its President of 29 March 2006<sup>425</sup> and its resolutions 1696 (2006) of 31 July 2006, 1737 (2006) of 23 December 2006 and 1747 (2007) of 24 March 2007, and reaffirming their provisions,

Reaffirming its commitment to the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons<sup>426</sup> and the need for all States parties to the Treaty to comply fully with all their obligations, and recalling the right of States parties, in conformity with articles I and II of the Treaty, to develop research, production and use of nuclear energy for peaceful purposes without discrimination,

Recalling resolution GOV/2006/14 adopted by the Board of Governors of the International Atomic Energy Agency on 4 February 2006,<sup>427</sup> which states that a solution to the Iranian nuclear issue would contribute to global non-proliferation efforts and to realizing the objective of a Middle East free of weapons of mass destruction, including their means of delivery,

Noting with serious concern that, as confirmed in the reports of the Director General of the Agency of 23 May,<sup>428</sup> 30 August<sup>429</sup> and 15 November 2007<sup>430</sup> and 22 February 2008,<sup>431</sup> the Islamic Republic of Iran has not established full and sustained suspension of all enrichment-related and reprocessing activities and heavy water-related projects as set out in Security Council resolutions 1696 (2006), 1737 (2006) and 1747 (2007), nor resumed its cooperation with the Agency under the Additional Protocol, nor taken the other steps required by the Board of Governors, nor complied with the provisions of resolutions 1696 (2006), 1737 (2006) and 1747 (2007), which are essential to build confidence, and deploring the Islamic Republic of Iran's refusal to take these steps,

Noting with concern that the Islamic Republic of Iran has taken issue with the right of the Agency to verify design information which had been provided by the Islamic Republic of Iran pursuant to the modified Code 3.1, emphasizing that, in accordance with article 39 of the safeguards agreement between the Islamic Republic of Iran and the Agency,<sup>432</sup> Code 3.1 cannot be modified nor suspended unilaterally and that the Agency's right to verify design information provided to it is a continuing right which is not dependent on the stage of construction of, or the presence of nuclear material at, a facility,

Reiterating its determination to reinforce the authority of the Agency, strongly supporting the role of the Board of Governors, commending the Agency for its efforts to resolve outstanding issues relating to the Islamic Republic of Iran's nuclear programme in the work plan between the secretariat of the Agency and the Islamic Republic of Iran,<sup>433</sup> welcoming the progress in the implementation of the work plan, as reflected in the reports of the Director General of 15 November 2007 and 22 February 2008, underlining the importance of the Islamic Republic of Iran producing tangible results rapidly and effectively by completing implementation of the work plan, including by providing answers to all the questions the Agency asks so that the Agency, through the implementation of the required transparency measures, can assess the completeness and correctness of the Islamic Republic of Iran's declaration,

Expressing the conviction that the suspension set out in paragraph 2 of resolution 1737 (2006) as well as full, verified Iranian compliance with the requirements set out by the Board of Governors would contribute to a diplomatic, negotiated solution that guarantees that the Islamic Republic of Iran's nuclear programme is for exclusively peaceful purposes,

Stressing that China, France, Germany, the Russian Federation, the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the United States of America are willing to take further concrete measures on exploring an overall strategy of resolving the Iranian nuclear issue through negotiation on the basis of their proposals of June 2006,<sup>434</sup> and noting the confirmation by those countries that, once the confidence of the international community in the exclusively peaceful nature of the Islamic Republic of Iran's nuclear programme is restored, it will be treated in the same manner as any non-nuclear-weapon State party to the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons,

Having regard to the rights and obligations of States relating to international trade,

Welcoming the guidance issued by the Financial Action Task Force to assist States in implementing their financial obligations under resolution 1737 (2006),

Concerned by the proliferation risks presented by the Iranian nuclear programme and, in this context, by the Islamic Republic of Iran's continuing failure to meet the requirements of the Board of Governors and to comply with the provisions of resolutions 1696 (2006), 1737 (2006) and 1747 (2007), and mindful of its primary responsibility under the Charter of the United Nations for the maintenance of international peace and security,

Acting under Article 41 of Chapter VII of the Charter,

1. Reaffirms that the Islamic Republic of Iran shall without further delay take the steps required by the Board of Governors of the International Atomic Energy Agency in its resolution GOV/2006/14,<sup>427</sup> which are essential to build confidence in the exclusively peaceful purpose of its nuclear programme and to resolve outstanding questions, and in this context affirms its decision that the Islamic Republic of Iran shall without delay take the steps required in paragraph 2 of resolution 1737 (2006), and underlines that the Agency has sought confirmation that the Islamic Republic of Iran will apply the modified Code 3.1;

2. Welcomes the agreement between the Islamic Republic of Iran and the Agency to resolve all outstanding issues concerning the Islamic Republic of Iran's nuclear programme<sup>433</sup> and progress made in this regard, as set out in the report of 22 February 2008 of the Director General of the Agency,<sup>431</sup> encourages the Agency to continue its work to clarify all outstanding issues, stresses that this would help to re-establish international confidence in the exclusively peaceful nature of the Islamic Republic of Iran's nuclear programme, and supports the Agency in strengthening its safeguards on the Islamic Republic of Iran's nuclear activities in accordance with the safeguards agreement between the Islamic Republic of Iran and the Agency;<sup>432</sup>

3. Calls upon all States to exercise vigilance and restraint regarding the entry into or transit through their territories of individuals who are engaged in, directly associated with or providing support for the Islamic Republic of Iran's proliferation-sensitive nuclear activities or for the development of nuclear weapon delivery systems, and decides in this regard that all States shall notify the Security Council Committee established pursuant to paragraph 18 of resolution 1737 (2006) (hereinafter "the Committee") of the entry into or transit through their territories of

4. Underlines that nothing in paragraph 3 above requires a State to refuse its own nationals entry into its territory, and that all States shall, in the implementation of paragraph 3 above, take into account humanitarian considerations, including religious obligations, as well as the necessity to meet the objectives of the present resolution and resolutions 1737 (2006) and 1747 (2007), including where article XV of the statute of the Agency<sup>435</sup> is engaged;

6. Decides also that the measures imposed by paragraph 5 above shall not apply where the Committee determines on a case-by-case basis that such travel is justified on the grounds of humanitarian need, including religious obligations, or where the Committee concludes that an exemption would otherwise further the objectives of the present resolution;

7. Decides further that the measures specified in paragraphs 12 to 15 of resolution 1737 (2006) shall apply also to the persons and entities listed in annexes I and III to the present resolution, and any persons or entities acting on their behalf or at their direction, and to entities owned or controlled by them and to persons and entities determined by the Council or the Committee to have assisted designated persons or entities in evading sanctions of, or in violating the provisions of, the present resolution, resolution 1737 (2006) or resolution 1747 (2007);

8. Decides that all States shall take the necessary measures to prevent the supply, sale or transfer directly or indirectly from their territories or by their nationals or using their flag vessels or aircraft to, or for use in or the benefit of, the Islamic Republic of Iran, and whether or not originating in their territories, of:

9. Calls upon all States to exercise vigilance in entering into new commitments for public-provided financial support for trade with the Islamic Republic of Iran, including the granting of export credits, guarantees or insurance, to their nationals or entities involved in such trade, in order to avoid such financial support contributing to the proliferation-sensitive nuclear activities, or to the development of nuclear weapon delivery systems, as referred to in resolution 1737 (2006);

10. Also calls upon all States to exercise vigilance over the activities of financial institutions in their territories with all banks domiciled in the Islamic Republic of Iran, in particular with Bank Melli and Bank Saderat, and their branches and subsidiaries abroad, in order to avoid such activities contributing to the proliferation-sensitive nuclear activities, or to the development of nuclear weapon delivery systems, as referred to in resolution 1737 (2006);

11. Further calls upon all States, in accordance with their national legal authorities and legislation and consistent with international law, in particular the law of the sea and relevant international civil aviation agreements, to inspect the cargoes to and from the Islamic Republic of Iran of aircraft and vessels, at their airports and seaports, owned or operated by Iran Air Cargo and Islamic Republic of Iran Shipping Line, provided that there are reasonable grounds to believe that the aircraft or vessel is transporting goods prohibited under the present resolution or resolution 1737 (2006) or resolution 1747 (2007);

12. Requires all States, in cases when inspection mentioned in paragraph 11 above is undertaken, to submit to the Council within five working days a written report on the inspection containing, in particular, an explanation of the grounds for the inspection, as well as information on its time, place, circumstances, results and other relevant details;

13. Calls upon all States to report to the Committee within sixty days of the adoption of the present resolution on the steps they have taken with a view to implementing effectively paragraphs 3, 5 and 7 to 11 above;

“Maintenance of international peace and security: role of the Security Council in supporting security sector reform

“Report of the Secretary-General on securing peace and development: the role of the United Nations in supporting security sector reform (S/2008/39)”.

<sup>446</sup> Resolutions or decisions on this question were first adopted by the Security Council during the period from 1 January to 31 July 2007.

At the same meeting, following consultations among members of the Security Council, the President made the following statement on behalf of the Council:<sup>447</sup>

“The Security Council recalls the statement by its President of 20 February 2007<sup>448</sup> and emphasizes that security sector reform is an essential element of any stabilization and reconstruction process in post-conflict environments. The Council recognizes that the establishment of an effective, professional and accountable security sector is one of the necessary elements for laying the foundations for peace and sustainable development.

“The Council welcomes the efforts of the Secretary-General on security sector reform and takes note of his report entitled ‘Securing peace and development: the role of the United Nations in supporting security sector reform’ of 23 January 2008.<sup>449</sup>

“The Council commends Slovakia and South Africa for their joint initiative in holding the workshop entitled ‘International Workshop on Enhancing United Nations Support for Security Sector Reform in Africa: Towards an African Perspective’ in Cape Town, South Africa, on 7 and 8 November 2007 and takes note of the letter dated 20 November 2007 from the Permanent Representatives of Slovakia and South Africa to the United Nations addressed to the Secretary-General.<sup>450</sup> The Council encourages further similar activities.

“The Council recognizes that security sector reform is a long-term process and reiterates that it is the sovereign right and primary responsibility of the country concerned to determine its national approach and priorities for security sector reform. It should be a nationally owned process that is rooted in the particular needs and conditions of the country in question. The Council underlines that the strong support of the United Nations and the international community is also critical in strengthening national capacities, thereby reinforcing national ownership, which is crucial for the sustainability of the process.

“The Council recognizes the important role that the United Nations has played in supporting national security sector reform efforts and underlines the need for its continued engagement. In this regard, the Council emphasizes the need to develop a holistic and coherent United Nations approach to security sector reform as recommended by the Secretary-General, in close consultation with Member States.

“The Council underlines that United Nations support to security sector reform must take place within a broad framework of the rule of law and should contribute to the overall strengthening of the United Nations rule of law activities as well as wider reconstruction and development efforts. This will require coordination with all relevant United Nations actors, in particular the Rule of Law Coordination and Resource Group, to ensure coherence of approach.

“The Council emphasizes the important role that the Peacebuilding Commission, through its integrated peacebuilding strategies, can play in ensuring continuous international support to countries emerging from conflict. The Council also recognizes the importance of continued close cooperation and partnerships with non-United Nations actors, in particular regional, subregional and other intergovernmental organizations, including international financial institutions and bilateral donors, as well as non-governmental organizations.

“The Council requests the Secretary-General to continue to include, wherever appropriate, recommendations related to security sector reform in his periodic reports on United Nations operations mandated by the Council.”

well as its relevant resolutions and statements by its President. In this regard it welcomes the increasing cooperation between the United Nations and the African Union.

“The Council recalls that the prevention of conflict remains a primary responsibility of Member States.

“The Council reaffirms its commitment to the full and effective implementation of its resolution 1625 (2005) on conflict prevention, particularly in Africa, requests the Secretary-General to report to the Council within sixty days on options for the further implementation of resolution 1625 (2005), and recalls the relevant statements by its President, in particular those made on 20 September,<sup>456</sup> 16 November<sup>457</sup> and 20 December 2006<sup>458</sup> and 8 January,<sup>459</sup> 20 February,<sup>460</sup> 28 March,<sup>461</sup> 25 June<sup>462</sup> and 29 June 2007.<sup>463</sup>

“The Council notes the varied nature of conflicts, which involve not only conflicts between States and within States, but also new emerging threats, and thus reiterates its determination to strengthen its role in preventing and resolving conflict in all its forms.

“The Council recalls the previous statements by its President concerning the various factors and causes that play a role in inciting, worsening or prolonging conflicts in Africa, and in particular the factors and causes that have been highlighted and addressed by the Council.

“The Council supports the comprehensive and global approach recommended by the Secretary-General in his report on the prevention of armed conflict,<sup>464</sup> namely, structural prevention, to address the root causes of conflict; operational prevention, to ensure the effective operation of early warning mechanisms, mediation, humanitarian access and response, the protection of civilians and targeted sanctions in the face of immediate crises; and systemic prevention, to prevent existing conflicts from spilling over into other States.

“In this context, effective coordination between and within United Nations organs, programmes, funds and agencies involved in policy formulation and implementation is vital for ensuring better coherence of the existing mechanisms and the appropriate balance between peacekeeping operations and preventive activities. Such coordination should be undertaken taking into consideration the ongoing debate on how to improve systemic coherence within the United Nations.

“The Council welcomes recent developments regarding the long-term prevention of conflict, including best practice and policy work on security sector reform, disarmament, demobilization and reintegration, transitional justice and the rule of law, electoral practices, peacebuilding, democratic governance, development, humanitarian assistance and protection, and safe and voluntary return of refugees and internally displaced persons. The Council encourages further progress and greater coherence on these issues, and requests the Secretary-General to include in the report requested above proposals on how better to

“The Council notes the recommendations contained in the report of the Secretary-General on the prevention of armed conflict, welcomes the efforts that have been made to strengthen the risk assessment and conflict prevention capacities of the United Nations, and encourages the Secretary-General to continue those efforts in order to improve the United Nations’ early warning, mediation support and other preventive activities in Africa and around the world. In this connection, the Council stresses the crucial role of the Special Advisers of the Secretary-General on the Prevention of Genocide and on matters relating to the prevention and resolution of conflict as well as, where appropriate, the contribution of United Nations bodies such as the Peacebuilding Commission and the Human Rights Council.

“The Council welcomes the fact that the Ad Hoc Working Group on Conflict Prevention and Resolution in Africa has taken the initiative of giving greater thought to these questions and has taken a special interest in the problem of the elaboration of an effective global conflict prevention strategy – the subject of a seminar to be held in November 2007.

“The Council stresses the importance of a regional approach to conflict prevention, as applicable, and in this connection welcomes the growing contribution being made by regional organizations in addressing issues of peace and security, and looks forward to the report of the Secretary-General, in consultation with the relevant regional organizations, in particular the African Union, and pursuant to the statement by the President of the Security Council of 28 March 2007,<sup>465</sup> on specific proposals on how the United Nations can better support arrangements for further cooperation and coordination with regional organizations on Chapter VIII arrangements in order to contribute significantly to the common security challenges in the areas of concern and to promote the deepening and broadening of dialogue and cooperation between the Security Council and the Peace and Security Council of the African Union.

“The Security Council underlines the need for a stronger and more structured relationship between itself and the Peace and Security Council contributing to the achievement of the goals of peace and stability in the context of the arrangements provided for in Chapter VIII of the Charter. The Security Council thus welcomes the agreement reached between the United Nations and the African Union at Addis Ababa on 16 November 2006, which consolidates the basis of partnership necessary to address the underlying causes of conflict.<sup>465</sup> The Council also reaffirms the joint communiqué agreed with the Peace and Security Council on 16 June 2007.<sup>466</sup>

“The Security Council welcomes the work done by the African Union to set up its Panel of the Wise and Continental Early Warning System, which are key components of the African Peace and Security Architecture.

“The Council also recognizes the important contribution of subregional bodies and underscores the need for African subregional bodies to enhance their capacities in early warning and conflict prevention in order to allow these important actors to respond more promptly to the emerging threats to security in their areas.

“At the same time, the Council encourages Member States to make further efforts to ensure adequate consultation between civil society and national institutions, on the one hand, and the United Nations and the international community, on the other hand, so as to be better equipped to address the global character of questions of peace and security.”

Designated representatives of other departments of the Secretariat and United Nations agencies, usually no more than one person per department or agency, should participate in informal consultations only when appropriate, that is, when the issue at hand has direct implications for the work of that department or agency or when inputs from that department or agency could be useful for the deliberations of the Council. A designated representative of the Office of the Spokesperson for the Secretary-General may participate in informal consultations at any time, unless the Council decides otherwise. The members of the Council encourage the Director of the Security Council Affairs Division of the Department of Political Affairs or his/her representative to seek guidance from the President of the Security Council on a case-by-case basis, as and if necessary.

“3. The members of the Council will ensure that their participation in informal consultations is adequate.

“4. As a general rule, the purpose of initial remarks or ad hoc briefings delivered by members of the Secretariat is to supplement and update written reports of the Secretary-General or to provide members of the Council with more specific on-the-ground information on the most recent developments, which may not be covered in the written reports. The members of the Council encourage members of the Secretariat to focus on key issues and to provide the latest information, as necessary, without repeating the content of written reports already available to members of the Council.

“II. Matters of which the Council is seized

“5. Consistent with paragraph 49 of the annex to the note by the President of the Security Council dated 19 July 2006,<sup>507</sup> the first summary statement issued during the month of April of each calendar year should confirm those items identified as subject to deletion that have been retained for one year at the request of one or more Member States and should also confirm those items which, absent such a request, have been deleted from the list.

“6. Beginning in January 2008, the references given for each item listed in the summary statement should be the date of first consideration of the item in a formal meeting of the Council and the date of the most recent consideration of the item in a formal meeting of the Council.

“7. The first summary statement of each month should contain a full, updated list of items of which the Council is seized. For intervening weeks, a weekly addendum to the summary statement should be issued listing only those items on which further action has been taken by the Council during the previous week or indicating that there has been no change during that period.

“III. Annual report to the General Assembly

“8. A draft introduction to the report should continue to be prepared under the leadership and responsibility of the President of the Security Council for the month of July of each calendar year. While drafting the introduction to the report, the President for the month of July may, when necessary, seek advice from other members of the Council.

“9. The introduction to the report should contain concise information about the nature of all decisions taken by the Council during the period covered, in particular all resolutions and presidential statements.

“10. The members of the Council acknowledge that the work of the subsidiary bodies of the Council is an inseparable part of the work of the Council. The report should therefore contain concise information about the work of all subsidiary bodies of the Council.

“11. The Secretariat should include in part II of the annual report a notice of all draft resolutions considered by the Council at its meetings but not adopted.

“12. The report should be issued so as to allow Member States adequate time to study it before the scheduled debate in the General Assembly.

“13. If appropriate, the President of the Security Council will continue the practice of not scheduling meetings or informal consultations of the Council on the first day of the debate on the report in the General Assembly.”

On 28 December 2007, the President of the Security Council addressed the following letter to the Secretary-General:<sup>508</sup>

“I am writing with reference to the letter dated 16 May 2006 from the President of the Security Council to the Secretary-General,<sup>509</sup> in which the Council informed your predecessor about the establishment of an ad hoc committee on mandate review to conduct the review of Council mandates called for by Heads of State and Government in the 2005 World Summit Outcome<sup>510</sup> and to continue consideration of the recommendations contained in the report of the Secretary-General of 30 March 2006 entitled ‘Mandating and delivering: analysis and recommendations to facilitate the review of mandates’.<sup>511</sup>

“The Ad Hoc Committee on Mandate Review has been guided in its work by the overall purpose of streamlining and strengthening the efforts of the Council in promoting international peace and security and thereby contributing to the effectiveness of the United Nations as a whole. The Committee has facilitated a practical, real-world review of the existing mandates of the Council. It has been proceeding in close cooperation and coordination with the Secretariat, which has provided invaluable assistance to the Committee.

“The mandate review process in the Council has been complementary to the existing periodic review by the Council of activities and individual mandates. It has been comprehensive, placing mandates in their broader context, including, if appropriate, on a regional or functional basis, so as to better ascertain how individual mandates contribute to the overall objectives of the Council. The main role of the Committee has been to facilitate the decision-making processes of the Council on individual mandates. From May to December 2006, the Committee was co-chaired by the Permanent Representatives of Slovakia and the United States of America to the United Nations. In 2007 the positions of co-Chairs have been held by the Permanent Representatives of Slovakia and South Africa to the United Nations.

“Following consultations among Council members, the following five criteria were agreed for mandate review:

“(a) Specific recommendations contained in the report of the Secretary-General of 30 March 2006 entitled ‘Mandating and delivering: analysis and recommendations to facilitate the review of mandates’;

“(b) Mandates that have not been examined by the Council in the last five years;

“(c) Specific instances of duplicative or unnecessary reporting requirements (including those with shorter reporting cycles than necessary);

“(d) Positions that have remained vacant or where the reason for appointment has changed;

“(e) Where there are two or more senior United Nations representatives in a particular area or with potentially overlapping or duplicative mandates.

“In its work, the Committee has utilized a range of useful tools and mechanisms, such as informal meetings of territorial expert groups, Committee meetings held at the ambassadorial level, update briefings provided to the Committee by members of the Secretariat on mandates older than five years and not periodically renewed, and an open meeting of the Committee on a mandate of a special representative of the Secretary-General. As appropriate, the Committee has been taking into account views and positions of parties concerned, as well as of relevant regional and subregional organizations. These modalities have facilitated the meaningful, effective, open and transparent work of the Committee. Therefore, the members of the Council intend to continue using such modalities in the future.

“As a result of the work of the Committee over almost 20 months and following careful consideration, the members of the Council have agreed on the following measures:

“1. Following agreement among Council members, the members of the Council would like to receive, in the appropriate mandate review mechanism, update briefings from the Secretariat, if necessary, possibly in June of every calendar year, on mandates older than five years and not subject to a periodic renewal.

“2. Following careful review of the Mandate Registry created by the Secretariat in 2005, the members of the Council note that the Council has concluded its consideration of the mandates under the following agenda items:

- ‘The situation in Angola’ (mandate of the United Nations Office in Angola completed on 15 August 2002; relevant Security Council subsidiary body dissolved on 9 December 2002)

- ‘The situation in Croatia’ (mandate of the United Nations Mission of Observers in Prevlaka completed on 15 December 2002)
- ‘Letters dated 20 and 23 December 1991 from France, the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the United States of America (S/23306, S/23307, S/23308, S/23309 and S/23317); Letter dated 15 August 2003 from the Chargé d’affaires a.i. of the Permanent Mission of the Libyan Arab Jamahiriya to the United Nations addressed to the President of the Security Council (S/2003/818); Letter dated 15 August 2003 from the Permanent Representatives of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the United States of America to the United Nations addressed to the President of the Security Council (S/2003/819); Voting on draft resolution S/2003/824’ (mandate closed by Security Council resolution 1506 (2003))

“3. The members of the Council take note of the position of the Secretary-General, in the light of the most recent developments and circumstances, at present not to renew the following mandates:

- Special Envoy of the Secretary-General for Ethiopia and Eritrea (appointment was effective until 31 August 2005)
- Special Adviser of the Secretary-General on Africa based in Geneva (appointment was effective until 31 December 2006)
- Special Representative of the Secretary-General for the Great Lakes Region (appointment was effective until 31 March 2007)

“4. Consistent with paragraph 12 of the annex to the note by the President of the Security Council dated 19 July 2006<sup>507</sup> and after receiving briefings and recommendations from the Secretariat, the members of the Council intend to continue addressing the issue of adequate reporting intervals for regular reports of the Secretary-General to the Council covering particular mandates, and intend to maintain regular interaction with the Secretariat in this important area. The members of the Council appreciate the input received so far from the Secretariat and encourage the Secretariat to continue updating the Council, as appropriate. Thus far, the Committee has considered, in particular, reporting intervals for the following situations on its agenda: Burundi (United Nations Integrated Office in Burundi), Guinea-Bissau (United Nations Peacebuilding Support Office in Guinea-Bissau), Democratic Republic of the Congo (United Nations Organization Mission in the Democratic Republic of the Congo), Liberia (United Nations Mission in Liberia), Sierra Leone (United Nations Integrated Office in Sierra Leone), and Somalia. The recommendations of the Committee on these specific reporting intervals have been reflected in the Council’s consideration of the relevant issues on its agenda.

“5. The members of the Council appreciate receiving weekly informal briefing notes on field operations prepared by the Secretariat and they reconfirm the high relevance of such notes for the successful discharge of the mandated responsibilities of the Council. As a general rule, these briefing notes should contain the most recent information available and should be provided to Council members in a timely fashion, without needing to cover all United Nations field operations in instances when no important developments have occurred in some of them, or material from some missions is delayed. On a case-by-case basis and as appropriate, the members of the Council would welcome receiving additional informal briefing notes or fact sheets containing the most current information from those field operations where important developments have occurred and facts that may be important for the Council’s consideration of the relevant situations on its agenda. If appropriate, these additional briefing notes or fact sheets may complement ad hoc briefings requested by the Council consistent with paragraphs 6 and 7 of the annex to the note by the President of the Security Council of 19 July 2006.

“6. The members of the Council intend to continue examining ways and means of streamlining and systematizing their mandating work, including by taking wider regional or subregional approaches to various mandates or groups of mandates, while at the same time taking into account views or positions of the parties concerned, as well as consulting with relevant regional or subregional organizations, as appropriate.

“7. The members of the Council also intend to continue their interaction and dialogue with other relevant United Nations organs on the issue of mandates, including in addressing potential areas of overlap or duplication, as appropriate, particularly as concerns reporting requirements of the Secretary-General.

“8. The members of the Council agree that the Ad Hoc Committee on Mandate Review has reached the main goals for which it was established and therefore it can conclude its work. Even though the Council reviews and renews most of its mandates periodically, based on the recent experience and lessons learned, the mandate review concept remains valid and relevant for the Council. It is an ongoing process. Any open, unresolved or newly emerging questions related to mandate review will be further addressed in the Council through an appropriate mechanism.”

On 31 December 2007, the President of the Security Council issued the following note:<sup>512</sup>

“Following consultations among the members of the Security Council, it has been agreed that the Ad Hoc Working Group on Conflict Prevention and Resolution in Africa, initially established on 1 March 2002 for a period of one year,<sup>513</sup> will continue its work until 31 December 2008.”

On 3 January 2008, the President of the Security Council issued the following note:<sup>514</sup>

“Pursuant to paragraph 4 (b) of the note by the President of the Security Council dated 30 October 1998,<sup>504</sup> and after consultations among the members of the Council, it was agreed to elect the Chairmen and Vice-Chairmen of subsidiary bodies for the period ending 31 December 2008, as follows:
