5. Expresses the wish that, in conjunction with future sessions of the International Law Commission, other seminars might be organized, which should continue to ensure the participation of a reasonable number of nationals of developing countries;

6. Requests the Secretary-General to forward to the International Law Commission the records of the discussions at the twenty-second session of the General Assembly on the report of the Commission.

1615th plenary meeting, 1 December 1967.

2273 (XXII). Special missions

The General Assembly,

Having considered chapter II of the report of the International Law Commission on the work of its nineteenth session, which contains final draft articles and commentaries on special missions,

Recalling that in its resolutions 1687 (XVI) of 18 December 1961, 1902 (XVIII) of 18 November 1963 and 2045 (XX) of 8 December 1965 it recommended that the International Law Commission should continue the work of codification and progressive development of the topic of special missions, taking into account the views expressed in the General Assembly and the comments submitted by Governments, and that in its resolution 2167 (XXI) of 5 December 1966 it recommended that a final draft on special missions should be submitted to the Assembly by the Commission in its report on the work of its nineteenth session,

Noting further that at its eighteenth and nineteenth sessions, in 1966 and 1967, the International Law Commission, in the light of the observations and comments submitted by Governments and taking into account the relevant resolutions and debates of the General Assembly, revised the provisional draft articles on special missions prepared at its sixteenth and seventeenth sessions and that at its nineteenth session the Commission finally adopted the draft articles,

Recalling that, as stated in paragraph 33 of the report of the International Law Commission on the work of its nineteenth session, the Commission decided to recommend to the General Assembly that appropriate measures be taken for the conclusion of a convention on special missions,

Mindful of Article 13, paragraph 1 a, of the Charter of the United Nations, which provides that the General Assembly shall initiate studies and make recommendations for the purpose of encouraging the progressive development of international law and its codification,

Believing that the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations, the Vienna Convention on Consular Relations and the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Intercourse and Immunities, 1961, Official Records, vol. II (United Nations publication, Sales No.: 62.X.I), p. 62, the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Intercourse and Immunities, 1961, Official Records, vol. II (United Nations publication, Sales No.: 64.X.I), p. 175, and the Vienna Convention on Consular Relations, 1963, Official Records, vol. II (United Nations publication, Sales No.: 64.X.I), p. 62, have contributed to the fostering of friendly relations among nations, irrespective of their differing constitutional and social systems, and that they should be completed by a convention on special missions and the privileges and immunities of such missions,

1. Expresses its appreciation to the International Law Commission for its valuable work on special missions and to the Special Rapporteur for his contribution to this work;

2. Invites Member States to submit, not later than 1 July 1968, their written comments and observations on the final draft articles on special missions prepared by the International Law Commission;

3. Requests the Secretary-General to circulate the comments submitted by Member States on the subject, so as to facilitate its consideration by the General Assembly at its twenty-third session in the light of those comments;

4. Decides to include an item entitled “Draft Convention on Special Missions” in the provisional agenda of the twenty-third session, with a view to the adoption of such a convention by the General Assembly;

5. Requests the Secretary-General to arrange for the presence of the Special Rapporteur on special missions as an expert during the debates on the topic at the twenty-third session of the General Assembly and to submit at that session all relevant documentation;

6. Invites Member States to include as far as possible in their delegations to the twenty-third session of the General Assembly experts competent in the field to be considered.

1615th plenary meeting, 1 December 1967.

The General Assembly,

Recalling that by its resolution 2166 (XXI) of 5 December 1966 it decided that an international conference of plenipotentiaries should be convened at Geneva or at any other suitable place, the first session early in 1968 and the second early in 1969, to consider the law of treaties and to embody the results of its work in an international convention and such other instruments as it might deem appropriate,

Recalling also its request that the Secretary-General convocate that conference,

Recalling further that it decided to refer to the conference the draft articles contained in chapter II of the report of the International Law Commission on the work of its eighteenth session as the basic proposal for consideration by the conference,

Having considered the item entitled “Law of treaties” at its twenty-second session,

Recognizing that the exchange of views and the written comments of Governments on the draft articles on the law of treaties prepared by the International Law Commission at its eighteenth session may facilitate the work at the international conference,

Noting that an invitation has been extended by the Austrian Government to hold at Vienna both sessions of the conference on the law of treaties convened by the General Assembly in resolution 2166 (XXI),

1. Decides that the first session of the United Nations Conference on the Law of Treaties referred to in General Assembly resolution 2166 (XXI), to be held in 1968, shall be convened at Vienna in March 1968;
