Special Fund established by the Optional Protocol to the Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment

Note by the Secretary-General

Summary

The present note provides information on the operations of the Special Fund established by the Optional Protocol to the Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment.

* A/68/150.

I. Introduction

A. Submission of the report

1. The present report was prepared in accordance with General Assembly resolution 67/161, in which the Assembly encouraged contributions to the Special Fund established by the Optional Protocol to the Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment, and requested the Secretary-General to submit to the Assembly at its sixty-eighth session a report on the operations of the Special Fund.

B. Mandate of the Special Fund

2. The Special Fund was established pursuant to article 26 of the Optional Protocol to help finance the implementation of the recommendations made by the Subcommittee on Prevention of Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment following a visit to a State party to the Optional Protocol, as well as education programmes of national preventive mechanisms.

3. The Special Fund receives voluntary contributions from Governments, intergovernmental and non-governmental organizations and other private or public entities. An overview of contributions to the Special Fund to date is provided in section III of the present note.

C. Management of the Special Fund

4. The Special Fund is administered by the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR), in accordance with the Financial Regulations and Rules of the United Nations. As an interim scheme in place until the financial basis of the Fund is consolidated, the OHCHR Grants Committee, the advisory body to the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights, advises the High Commissioner on the eligibility of projects and awards of grants based on the evaluation criteria set out in the guidelines for applications for the project cycles of 2012, 2013 and 2014. Plans are under way to review the current arrangements as of the project cycle of 2015.

D. Eligibility criteria

5. Grant applications can be submitted for eligible projects aimed at implementing recommendations made by the Subcommittee on Prevention of Torture following a visit to a State party to the Optional Protocol, provided those recommendations are contained in a report made public upon request by the State party. At present, seven countries (Benin, Brazil, Honduras, Maldives, Mexico, Paraguay and Sweden) fulfil this primary admissibility criterion. Applications may be submitted by State parties and their national preventive mechanisms. In addition, applications may be submitted by national human rights institutions that are compliant with the Paris Principles and by non-governmental organizations if the proposed projects are implemented in cooperation with State parties and/or national preventive mechanisms.

6. In addition, the Subcommittee on Prevention of Torture identifies thematic priorities for each cycle. As of the 2013 call for applications, thematic priorities were identified for each country. In addition, projects proposed to address any other specific recommendation contained in the visit reports that described a pressing and compelling need can be considered.

II. Activities of the Special Fund

A. Call for applications for 2012

7. The Special Fund became operational in July 2011, and the first call for applications was launched on 1 November 2011, for projects to be awarded and implemented in 2012. Under the call for applications for 2012, for which applicants could request grants of up to $20,000, 69 applications were received, of which 25 were deemed admissible, as they were submitted before the deadline and met the eligibility criteria regarding the publication of Subcommittee reports.¹ In accordance with the guidelines for applications, the secretariat of the Special Fund conducted an extensive evaluation of the 25 admissible projects in the light of the thematic priorities identified by the Subcommittee and taking into consideration the outcome of informal consultations conducted with members of the Subcommittee in February 2012. The evaluation process was carried out in close collaboration with OHCHR field presences, and field visits to eligible applicants were made by staff of OHCHR or the United Nations Development Programme.

8. Nine projects encompassing a wide range of activities in accordance with the Subcommittee recommendations that addressed the prevention of torture, in Benin, Honduras, Maldives, Mexico and Paraguay, were approved, and grants were awarded for a total amount of $166,877. Details on the grants awarded for 2012 are contained in the annex.

9. The remaining 16 projects were rejected by the Grants Committee because they did not meet the selection criteria established by the guidelines for applications for 2012.

B. Call for applications for 2013

10. The second call for applications to the Special Fund was published on 15 August 2012 and closed on 15 October 2012, for grants for projects to be implemented in 2013. For that call for applications, thematic priorities for each country were identified by the Subcommittee at its seventeenth session, held in Geneva from 18 to 22 June 2012.

11. Applicants could request grants of up to $50,000 for project activities to be implemented in 2013.

12. A total of 34 applications were received, of which four did not meet the primary eligibility criteria. The 30 admissible applications were for projects to be implemented in Benin, Brazil, Honduras, Maldives, Mexico and Paraguay.

¹ At the time, eligible applications had been received for the following six countries: Benin, Honduras, Maldives, Mexico, Paraguay and Sweden.

13. In accordance with the guidelines for applications, the secretariat of the Special Fund conducted an extensive evaluation of the 30 project proposals in the light of the thematic priorities identified and taking into consideration the outcome of informal consultations with members of the Subcommittee conducted in February 2013.

14. Eight grants were awarded to projects aimed at implementing recommendations made by the Subcommittee in all six eligible countries, for a total of $296,854.10. Details on the grants awarded for 2013 are contained in the annex.

15. The remaining project proposals did not meet the criteria set out in the guidelines for applications for 2013, including the thematic criteria, and were therefore not retained by the Grants Committee.

C. Call for applications for 2014

16. The call for applications to the Special Fund for grants to be awarded for 2014 will be launched in August 2013.

III. Financial situation of the Special Fund

17. In 2012, the Fund received contributions for a total amount of $403,363. In 2013, as at 6 August, the Fund had received contributions of a total amount of $10,000. Further voluntary contributions are encouraged because the Special Fund is increasingly asserting itself as a valuable tool to assist States and national preventive mechanisms to take measures for the prevention of torture.

18. The table below shows the contributions received in the period 2012-2013.
