In addition, the competent Danish authorities will apply the following Danish legislation in implementing the restrictive measures against the Democratic People's Republic of Korea imposed by the Security Council in resolution 2270 \(2016\) concerning arms and related materials:

(a) In accordance with Section 7 a (1) and (4) of the Danish Weapons Act No. 1005 of 2012, with subsequent amendments, the Government Order on Transportation of Weapons etc. between countries other than Denmark has been issued establishing a prohibition on the transport of weapons etc. to specific countries. According to Section 1 of the Order, it is prohibited to transport weapons of any kind and defence-related material etc. between countries other than Denmark when the recipient country is listed in the Order. The list includes all countries that are under a United Nations, European Union or Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe arms embargo;

(b) According to Section 7 b (1) of the Danish Weapons Act, it is likewise prohibited, without a specific licence from the Minister of Justice, as a broker to negotiate or arrange transactions that involve the transfer of weapons etc., as defined in Section 6, between countries outside the European Union. Furthermore, it is prohibited to buy or sell weapons etc., as defined in Section 6, as part of a transfer between countries outside the European Union, or, as the owner of the weapons etc., to arrange such transfer. According to Section 7 b (2), the prohibition does not apply to acts performed in another European Union State member or to acts performed outside the European Union by persons with permanent residence outside Denmark;

(c) According to Section 6 of the Danish Weapons Act, it is prohibited without a specific licence from the Minister of Justice to export weapons of any kind and defence-related material, etc. Section 6 applies to any situation in which items are transferred from Denmark to a third country, no matter whether the transfer takes place in relation to export, transit, trans-shipment or re-export. Export licences will not be issued to countries in violation of Security Council resolutions 1718 \(2006\), 1874 \(2009\) and 2270 \(2016\);

(d) Violations of the above-mentioned rules are criminal offences punishable by fine or imprisonment; see Danish Weapons Act, Section 10 and, in aggravating circumstances, Section 192 (a) of the Danish Criminal Code.

The above-mentioned Council Regulations are binding in their entirety and directly applicable in all States members of the European Union. Regulation (EC) No. 329/2007 requires Member States to determine the penalties applicable to infringements of their provisions. The penalties determined by Denmark are set out in the following legislation:

The Danish Criminal Code No. 1052 of 2016. According to Section 110 c (2) of the Criminal Code, a fine or imprisonment for a term not exceeding four months, or in particularly aggravating circumstances imprisonment for a term not exceeding four years, is imposed on any person who fails to comply with provisions or prohibitions stipulated by law to perform the obligations incumbent on the State as a member of the United Nations. An equivalent provision exists concerning the contravention of European Union sanctions (Section 110 c (3)). Where the contravention is committed through negligence, the penalty is a fine or imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years (Section 110 c (4)).

As regards restrictions on admission (visa ban), Denmark has the following national legislation, which, together with Council Decision (CFSP) 2016/849 and Regulation (EC) No. 539/2001,² provides the basis for refusal of admission and denial of requests for a visa:

The Danish Aliens Act No. 412 of 2016, with subsequent amendments, under which the competent Danish authorities have the power to impose entry and transit restrictions on persons designated by the Security Council Committee established pursuant to resolution 1718 \(2006\).
